MEMBER OF BAD CHECK RING JAILED

Youth Confesses, Police Say, to Uttering Much Worthless Paper on Merchants; Expect to Arrest Others

Total of Valueless Paper Imposed on Business Men by Young Forgers Lately Is More Than $1000, Claimed

How a gang of youthful forgers operated in Oakland casting bad checks on Oakland merchants for the past month and how they were arrested at a downtown poolroom to relate their experiences and tell of other who of the Oakland forgers were the "last ones" came to light yesterday afternoon with the arrest of J. A. Oliver of 526 Twenty-second street.

Oliver, who is 19 years old, has been operating for the past month and has uttered bad checks, which probably total more than $1000, police say. His capture followed an attempt to cash a second check on the Smart Shoppe, a men's furnishing store at 1530 Broadway.

CLERKS SEND FOR DETECTIVES

Clerks in this store recognized young Oliver as being the one who passed a bad check on them a week before, they say. They engaged him in conversation until inspectors Richard McCon and Frank R. Sick arrived and placed him under arrest.

When arrested, the boy admitted, according to the police, that the check he was offering had no backing and admitted passing two bad checks in one day on another local haberdashery. The first he passed on J. A. Kallanbrun and the second he passed in the afternoon on J. B. Maederbeck, after the former had gone to a baseball game.

The amounts of the checks range from $10 to $25, and the names of the merchants are written on them. The police are in the light of an important capture, inspectors say.

MORE ARRESTS ARE EXPECTED

Police authorities will watch carefully the poolroom where the youthful forger band maintained headquarters and expect to make several more arrests within the next forty-eight hours.

Information supplied by Oliver, it is believed, will lead to arrests which will explain the source of a veritable flood of bad checks which have been passed in the afternoon on J. B. Maederbeck, after the former had gone to a baseball game.

Socialists Applaud Appeal for Strike

NEW YORK, May 8.—(United Press.)—William Z. Foster, leader of the recent steel strike, who has no official status in the party, threw the Socialist national convention into an uproar of approval when he mentioned a future general strike during his impromptu speech.

The strike was lost because at the crucial moment the railway men, miners and other big brotherhoods failed to join in unions that lost the strike, he said.

"When the next big strike comes along, I want to see the railway men, the miners and everybody in it," he said.

The convention elected Morris Hillquit chairman, George H. Campbell, Milwaukee, elected vice chairman, and Walter Cook, New York, secretary.

Nominations for Debs for president and other Steedman, Cook, Pearson and Kate Richards O'Hare as vice president and adoption of a platform will be taken up next week.

Dyesutills Bill Is Laid Aside in Senate

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The dye stuffs bill today was indefinitely laid aside in the Senate.

Opposition to the bill grew so widespread that its friends despaired of passage and today consented to drop the fight without pressing for a vote. Monday the Senate will take up the merchant marine bill.

Burbank Busts Bring Grief ART WORK REFUSED AS GIFT Junkman Scorns Sculpture

Is Luther Burbank a man without fame in his own state? If either of the two busts in possession of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, works of art and the handiwork of Gertrude Boyle Kanno, could be interviewed they would not be graven heads in need. For no one can be found in Oakland who will take the images as a gift.

The Chamber of Commerce officials were recently presented with the busts by the county. The fact that they were made by Gertrude Boyle Kanno, noted sculptress, who created a nation-wide sensation in society and art circles when she married the famous Japanese poet, and later when she took up her husband and in consequence was sued for divorce, was held to have added to their value. They were designed for display at the county exhibit at the State Fair but for some reason were never shown.

After they had remained in neglected state at the Chamber of Commerce for several months they were offered to four different parks and refused on the grounds that there was no place to put them. An offer was made to the Burbank school, where they could be found in Oakland who will take the images as a gift.

Recently Frank Fisher gave the busts to a junk man with instructions that he was to take them away and he did take them as far as Hayward, where some one discovered them and brought them back. They are still in the Chamber of Commerce offices.

When told the busts James T. Preston, principal of the Burbank school in Berkeley, says that he was more than willing to provide them a home where they will be honored and dusted every day in the school year.

Girls Riding With Soldier In Stolen Car Released By Police

After admitting that they knew that the car in which they were riding with a soldier was stolen, the police last night released Miss Ethel Blake, 18 years old 1845 Grant street, Berkeley, and Miss Kathryn Ross, also 18 years old, who resides at 2115 McGee street, Berkeley. The girls were arrested Friday night and taken to the police station where at first they said they were not aware that the automobile in which they had been riding was a stolen machine.

Chief White Demotes Sleuth In S. F. Police Court Graft

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—Detective Emil Hearn, attached as special agent in charge of the San Francisco County Grand Jury, was removed from this post today by order of Chief of Police D. A. White. Hearn has been ordered back to patrol duty. For several weeks he has been under fire in connection with the bail bond brokerage scandal, involving Police Judges Morris Oppenheimer and John J. Sullivan and Pete McDonough, broker. Hearn was charged by those who sought to break up the police court ring of grafting with aiding in the defense of McDonough and others concerned.

Both McDonough and Judge Sullivan were indicted by the Grand Jury in connection with the bribery investigations. Foreman Harrelson of the Grand Jury said tonight that he had been satisfied with Chief White's action.

Arthur I. Johnson of the State Housing Committee, was among those who gave the lie to Hearn and charged him with attempting to interfere with the investigation of the police court bribery case.

Monday evening Captain of Police D. A. White said he will make a special report in Hearn's case to the Board of Police Commissioners. State Attorney General U. S. Webb has been instructed by Governor Hiram Johnson to investigate the San Francisco police court bribery case and to assist in the prosecution of Judge Sullivan and Pete McDonough.

"Bluebeard" Will Tell All Crimes If Assured Escape From Gallows

LEAD BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEAD BY WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LOS ANGELES, May 8.—(Bluebeard) James Watson, confessed slayer of many wives, is trying to bargain with justice, and all he has to trade is his supposed knowledge of other women he has murdered.

"Bluebeard" wants a sentence of life imprisonment Monday, and he is understood to have told District Attorney Woolwine that if he can obtain this sentence instead of a death sentence, he will make a more complete confession and will attempt to remember forgotten wives he killed in days past.

Woolwine, however, in trying to make good his promise of leniency for the slayer, has run hard. It is reported, against a public opinion that Watson is in no condition to face a grilling. He was questioned for more than nine hours yesterday, and admitted slaying another wife.

Attorneys who have examined Watson are understood to have agreed that he is mentally unbalanced. Their testimony may work in his favor.

S. F. Shotgun Squad Hunts Auto Bandits Who Rob Sausalitan

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—San Francisco's "shotgun squad," reserved for action against automobile bandits, was called out tonight when Peter Cogolosi, a mechanic of Sausalito, reported that he had been held up and robbed by three men in a large touring car.

According to Cogolosi the men drew up to the curb on Howard street near Second and asked him to take a ride. After they had driven several blocks one of the three put a revolver to Cogolosi's head and demanded that he "come through."

The bandits secured $67 and a gold watch from their victim and then stopped the machine, warned him not to make an outcry and told him to "beat it."

Cogolosi was so excited that he forgot to take the number of the automobile. He reported the robbery at the Southern station and the auto shotgun squad was sent out. No arrests were made.

The robbery took place before dark and in view of scores of persons.

Peace Resolution to Come Up Tuesday

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Senate leaders have deferred consideration of the peace resolution until Tuesday. Senator Lodge announced today.

Senator McComber will speak on that day. He favors a less sweeping resolution, simply restoring the previous status so far as commerce is concerned.

Later in the week Senator Hitchcock will voice the administration view of the Knox resolution in favor of the resolution.

Revolt Is Near to Surface in Egypt

By Universal Service.

CAIRO, Egypt, May 8.—(Special Cable Dispatch).—Marked restlessness is making itself manifest among the British troops here. The atmosphere has been intensified by the murder in broad daylight of a British officer by a native. Egyptian students, inspired by nationalist agitation, have formed a sort of "black hand" organization. The ring leaders of this organization are said to have been discovered.

SLUSH FUND CHARGED TO HOOVERITES S. O. S. CALL TO RUSS TO FIGHT POLES

Says Horde of Hired Workers Jammed Campaign Office, Clamoring for Coin; Backed by the Old S. P. Machine

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—News that Senator Hiram Johnson had today made public in Washington a telegram from Meyer Lissner of Los Angeles in which it was charged that the Hoover campaign in Los Angeles was the worst saturnalia of political extravagance the city ever exposed or conducted in Southern California "occasioned no surprise in the Johnson headquarters in this city.

The telegram released by Johnson said that Arthur McElroy of the Johnson headquarters, "was addressed to Herbert Hoover."

Lissner wrote his letter after he had been challenged by John P. Lucas, president of the Hoover club, to make good on charges that the Hoover campaign was backed by "an immense slush fund." In his telegram he said that he accepted the challenge and of how he demonstrated with facts and figures that the day following the election the Hoover headquarters had the appearance of pay day at an immense industrial plant.

OVER 600 MEN PAID IN HOUR

The telegram said: "I showed that within one hour over 600 men had been paid in Los Angeles, while the Johnson organization had hired no paid workers at all for election day."

"I challenged your organization to state how many workers they had and the amount of their pay," Lissner stated that about another $20,000 had been consumed by you in sending literature by mail to every one of the 300,000 voters in Los Angeles county; that you had several hundred men and women employed in headquarters with a payroll running up into tens of thousands. I showed that they paid about $2500 for advertising in one newspaper in Los Angeles alone, in which the Johnson organization expended $168.

"I challenged them to tell how many automobiles they hired at $25 a day on election day, and finally I accepted their challenge and sent the records of the Johnson campaign in Los Angeles county along with theirs to a public audit, and asserted that if they had the courage of their bluff, the record would show on your behalf the Los Angeles county worst saturnalia of political extravagance that was ever exposed or conducted in Southern California."

"In the statement I gave in full the receipts and expenditures of the Johnson campaign up to the day of the election, I asserted and challenged your people to deny that their expenditures in Los Angeles county amounted to many times our own."

ABOUT CAMPAIGN

"I may interest you to know that neither Mr. Lacey nor any one else connected with your Los Angeles organization has peeped about campaign expenditures since my challenge was published. I trust this statement is sufficiently convincing, so that you will not again be led into error of asserting that you had an amateur organization and that you were one in this State."

MERRITT DENIES "SLUSH FUND"

Ralph P. Merritt, Northern California manager of the Hoover campaign, said today that he did not believe that a slush fund existed in Los Angeles. "It is not true," he said. "I am of course in no position to comment in detail on the situation in Los Angeles, but I am thoroughly convinced that no slush fund exists."

The reports will be in my hands within a very few days, and then I will be able to show by actual figures just what money was expended."

When asked that if a slush fund did exist in Los Angeles, it would be possible that a like fund had been provided for the northern district to be used in the Hoover campaign, Merritt said: "Absolutely not. If anyone has in mind such a thing, I deny it. I am in a position to know whereof I speak."

Treasures Lost in Hotel Fire Recovered

SEATTLE, Wash., May 8.—If your home has been destroyed by fire, take heart and consolation and search the ruins.

Guests of the fashionable Lincoln hotel here, destroyed by fire last night, are having returned to their intact valuables that miraculously escaped damage.

A fine piece of hand-painted china—a cup—dropped into an alleyway when the blaze was at its height and was found, unharmed, and returned to its owner.

Workmen unearthed a delicate Swiss watch, buried under six feet of cinders and debris, with the case undamaged and when wound up it still kept time. The watch had fallen from the fourth floor of the hotel.

Choose Iron Canyon for Huge Dam Site

SACRAMENTO, May 8.—A site for an $18,000,000 concrete dam at the lower end of the Iron Canyon of the Sacramento river, to store water for the irrigation of approximately 225,000 acres of land in the Sacramento valley, was approved by a consulting board of the United States Reclamation Service early today.

The proposed structure when built will rest upon a hard rock foundation and will be 150 feet in height. The location is five miles above Red Bluff.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 8.—While walking on a crowded downtown street with other girl friends, Miss Marian Elizabeth Haynes, a Seattle society girl, was stabbed in the right cheek by a demented woman.

Witnesses of the attack chased the woman into an office building. The woman was found on an upper floor and identified. She gave the name of Vera Stewart, 29 years old, and said she has just come from San Francisco. The police believe she was under the influence of some narcotic.

Entire Republic Is in Hands Of Obregon's Revolutionists

1200 Men at League Island Navy Yard Ordered South to Protect Americans in Case of Trouble on Gulf

Villa Now Reported to Have Joined With Obregon and Other Leaders of Revolt; U. S. Is Ready for Trouble

By Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Danger to American lives and property in Mexico as a result of the revolution today resulted in important moves on the part of the Navy Department.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels stated that 1200 marines at the League Island navy yard, Philadelphia, have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness for departure southward. The transport Henderson, the secretary said, has left the navy yard at Charleston, S. C., for Philadelphia, where she will take on board the large contingent of marines there.

The Henderson is now at sea and ordered to proceed at top speed for League Island, where she is expected to arrive Monday. Colonel E. M. Bannan, in command of the marine contingent at Philadelphia navy yard, will command the 1200 marines ordered to embark on the Henderson. The transport will then proceed to Key West to "await further orders."

Secretary Daniels flatly stated tonight that the marines from the Henderson would be landed on Mexican soil should circumstances warrant.

He said: "AMERICAN LIVES TO BE PROTECTED"

"We are going to protect American lives in Mexico as much as it is possible to do so, and if the landing of the 1200 marines from the Henderson is necessary, we shall do it."

This is the first official statement made by the United States navy to use its armed forces to interfere for the protection of Americans in Mexico if such a serious move should become necessary. The Henderson is now at sea and ordered to proceed at top speed for League Island, where she is expected to arrive Monday. Colonel E. M. Bannan, in command of the marine contingent at Philadelphia navy yard, will command the 1200 marines ordered to embark on the Henderson. President Captured Rebels In Capital Headed By Obregon

(By United Press.)

NOGALES, Ariz., May 8.—President Carranza's special train was captured at Melrta while enroute to the north by forces of General Benjamin Hill, according to advices reaching here tonight. No further details were given.

(By United Press.)

NOGALES, Ariz., May 8.—President Carranza was taken prisoner when revolutionary forces captured Mexico City today, according to an unconfirmed report received here tonight by Obregon adherents. The message was dated Mexico City and came via Chihuahua City and Hermosillo.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Private cable dispatches received in New York late today from Vera Cruz reported conditions as quiet and general order.

The message was filed before noon today in Vera Cruz and since it made no mention of Carranza, it is believed that reports of his flight to that city are false.

Sugar Famine Is General In Eastern Cities

Government Reports Imports, But Commodity Grows Scarcer Daily.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Sugar families in practically all of the cities in the east in face of government figures showing unprecedented sugar imports during the past month, were reported to the department of justice today. Appeals for relief came from every quarter.

New moves to trace stocks known to be in the country were authorized by the department of justice officials. No reason could be assigned for the present shortage in practically every locality.

Officials reviewed reports of agents of having to trace large shipments of sugar to the east, which were supposed to have been diverted by speculators. This was a continuation of the probe that has been in progress for several days, officials working quietly fixing the identity of individuals who are chief participants in "cornering" sugar stocks.

SAYS PRICES WILL NOT INCREASE

The price of sugar is not likely to increase, according to Howard Figg, assistant to the attorney general in charge of the campaign against high cost of living. Figg said that agreements entered into between the department of justice and sugar refiners for restrictions in the sale of sugar that will hold the price steady, and it is hoped they will eventually lower the present price.

Figg said that no efforts had been made to fix a price for sugar as the department is without complete authority to do so.

The sugar situation might be remedied to some extent by inducing foreign governments not to bid against each other for the Cuban crop and by rationing non-essential commodities in the United States. However, Hoover declared today in a telegram to Senator Capper of Kansas.

HOOPER SAYS BAD BUSINESS

Capper asked Hoover to suggest remedies for the present shortage and high prices. Hoover replied that the situation was due to bad business administration and the failure of the United States to buy the Cuban crop last September. Had it been bought, then, Hoover said, American consumers would now be enjoying 12-cent sugar. Rationing of candy and soft drink manufacturers might further relieve the shortage, Hoover said.

CHICAGO, May 8.—Blame for the sugar shortage and the high price were laid today on British enterprises and poor foresight of American sugar refiners by sugar buyers who conferred here with United States District Attorney in Chicago.

Indications were that the price to be fixed would be around 25 cents a pound.

Coal Miners Demur, Food Act Involved

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 8.—After hearing exhaustive arguments on the constitutionality of the Lever food and fuel control law, Judge A. J. Anderson in the United States District Court here today refused to grant an injunction to quash the amendment naming 125 coal miners and operators for alleged violation of the law.

The arguments against the law were delivered by Charles Evans Hughes, chief counsel for the defense. Hughes claimed that the Lever law was unconstitutional, and as such was a class legislation.

United States District Attorney, pointed to the labor situation in the country now and declared the court should not explode the Lever law at this time because it was a right during the time of war it is still constitutional inasmuch as peace has not been declared.

JOHNSON FUNDS SOUGHT IN STATE

To carry California's fight for Hiram Johnson into the Chicago convention, the state Johnson finance committee yesterday completed plans for the collection of popular subscriptions throughout California.

A volunteer Johnson worker was selected in each county to issue a call for subscriptions to complete the campaign. The funds collected throughout the state and all subscriptions sent to Johnson headquarters in the Palace hotel building are to be used in states in which primaries are yet to be held and for the maintenance of the Chicago headquarters.

Theodore J. Roche for the Johnson finance committee last night estimated that within a week sufficient funds will have been realized by popular subscriptions to complete the campaign for the California

Two Million Men Lost by Germany During World War

BERLIN, May 8.—The war cost Germany 2,000,000 men. Of these 1,800,000 left war widows and orphans and 600,000 other dependents, according to the latest estimates and figures available.

The cost of providing for those who need support is estimated at four millions of marks per annum, while 70,000 participants in the war are still in hospital.

Roche pointed out that now that California has certified Johnson to the nation, victories in other states will merely be a question of sufficient advertising and organization before the voters.

Senior Extravaganza Presented on Campus

BERKELEY, May 8.—"Here's Now," a satirical protest against prohibition, was presented tonight by seniors at the University of California as probably the most sensational of any of the extravaganzas given by graduating classes on the campus.

Features of a New York musical comedy marked the production tonight in which several hundred members of the graduating class participated. William Brewster, Jr., son of Rev. William Brewster of Burlington, was the author of the comedy presented as the last dramatic offering of the graduating class.

Tells Necessities of New Golf Club

BERKELEY, May 8.—With 182 members of a limited roll of 350 signed up before actual work started, plans for the immediate development of the Berkeley Country Club were made last night at a meeting of golf enthusiasts held in Wheeler hall at the university.

ONE RIOTER DIES POLICE SHOOT 28

ROME, May 8.—After a meeting in the Piazza Vittorio Emanuele for the purpose of discussing the Varesio riots, police fired into the crowd, killing one and wounding twenty-eight. A general strike was subsequently called.

The postal telegraph and telephone strike throughout Italy has caused temporary suspension of sitting of the chamber of deputies. The chamber was thrown in an uproar when Deputies Bombacci and Barbieri, Socialists, rushed into the meeting and dramatically declared royal guards had taken possession of the central telegraph offices. Deputy Amundula arose for a speech, denouncing the strike, which was called because of a delay in raising wages.

A din of voices drowned Amundula's words and he was forced to sit down. Deputy Barbieri attempted to reach Amundula and a hand-to-hand struggle ensued. When other members intervened, former Premier Orlando, presiding, suspended the sitting. When it was resumed later, Socialist members again rushed at Amundula, whereupon Orlando suspended the sitting indefinitely. Partial service was restored late today when volunteers offered to take the places of strikers.

Store Uses Airplane to Tell of Birthday

Most order delivery by airplane was demonstrated yesterday by the City of Paris Dry Goods company in celebration of its seventieth anniversary in business in San Francisco. The airplane left Nineteenth avenue and Sloane boulevard at noon, carrying circulars which were dropped in every town between San Francisco and Sacramento. The circulars announced the anniversary sale of the big department store next week.

The success of the demonstration may result in a permanent airplane service of the store between San Francisco and the territory of the San Joaquin valley as far as Fresno, it was announced yesterday.

HIDDEN WEALTH TO GIVE PAUPER NEW HEADSTONE

Public Administrator J. A. Hill was yesterday authorized to expend $250 for removing the body of Mrs. Lena Birkland from the potter's field near the county infirmary, and erect a headstone to mark a grave in a dedicated cemetery. Mrs. Birkland was for many years an inmate of the county hospital and was believed to be a pauper. When she died last year she was buried in the cemetery near the infirmary. Soon after her death $4000 was discovered sewed inside one of the nightgowns she had worn while an inmate at the institution. She had no heirs and left no directions as to what was to be done with the money, other than to provide a suitable grave for her remains.

British Scout Plane Will Fly Today

The chief attraction at Durant field in Oakland this afternoon will be the arrival of the "Avro," famous British scout plane, sent over from San Francisco by Robert Fowler, well-known importer of aircraft.

E. E. "Cigarette" Manton will handle the ship, with which he is familiar after testing this type for twenty-two months in France. C. V. Pickup, assistant general manager of the Durant Aircraft corporation, and J. T. Cumberbatch, staff pilot, will also take up ships during the regular "flying frolic" today.

Practiced With Gun, Then Killed Husband

ELGIN, Ill., May 8.—Steadily practicing how she purchased an automatic pistol and practiced with it until she was able to shoot "tolerably straight," Mrs. Henry C. Frederichs today detailed to a coroner's jury how she murdered her husband, secretary of the Elgin Granite Works, earlier today.

Mrs. Frederichs shot her husband seven times. She then notified the police. She was ordered held to the grand jury. While visiting her mother, Mrs. Frederichs intercepted an alleged letter to her husband from another woman which she said prompted the shooting.

GALLANTRY OF GYPSY KING TO COST HIM $500

Joe Mitchell, king of the gypsies, is out $500 as a result of his generosity and gallantry in coming to the rescue of Rosa Demetro, charged with having attempted grand larceny against the Bank of Martinez. Mitchell, who went bail for Rosa, has written Justice of the Peace F. L. Glass of Martinez that he does not believe the gypsy intends to return from Charlotte, N. C., to stand trial and requests that he be given information concerning the plans of Contra Costa county that might mean the return of his money.

DEPOSITORS SUE FOR STOLEN SUM

An echo of the Byron bank robbery of January 25 was heard in Martinez yesterday when suit was filed in superior court by Charles S. Webber demanding that the bank reimburse depositors to the sum of $21,000.

Webber in his complaint says that he represents twenty-one depositors who have assigned their claims to him. He alleges that when the robbery broke into the bank and used acetone torches to open the boxes that they made away with $21,000 that was the property of these depositors, and that certain ones lost as high as $2,500. The complaint charges that the bank had failed to use due caution and care and had neglected to protect the valuables in its keeping. It also charges that the bank had failed to make a proper accounting of the money and that it was refused.

Army Drive to Start in Alameda Tomorrow

ALAMEDA, May 8.—The Salvation Army drive for $6000 in this city opens tomorrow and will continue for ten days. Alameda is to raise one-tenth of Alameda county's total of $60,000 for the establishment of a maternity home at Bu'ah.

Judge Elmer Johnson is chairman of the local campaign and will be assisted by the following captains of workers: Paul Melchert, William Tardiff, T. C. West, J. H. Lawman, J. H. Moody, D. H. Maynard, R. J. Hanley, Judge A. P. St. Sure, Judge J. R. Weinmann, Clark Spence, P. S. Newman and G. S. Anderson.

Giant Arrested As Fright Suspect Is Mystery to Police

Arrested as the "mysterious tall man" who has been frightening pedestrians and on two occasions is said to have pursued a number of men and women, W. B. Barker, who refuses to give his residence to the police, is in the city jail.

Barker is said to have been the man who, on Friday night chased Mr. and Mrs. Roy Baker, 1423 First avenue, for several blocks to their home and also the one who pursued Charles Howe for more than a block. He told the police that he is an inventor and that he is employed by the government to work on a wireless plant somewhere on Seventh avenue. The exact location of that plant, he said, is being guarded as a secret.

Barker is six feet seven inches tall and of powerful physique. The police are holding him for an investigation believing that he may be identified by a number of persons who reported being waylaid by a tall man.

Ten Indicted for Fleeing Thousand

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 8.—Ten men were indicted here tonight for victimizing more than a thousand persons in Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and Michigan for an amount estimated at $200,000.

United States Attorney P. N. Wilson said the victims were induced to deposit sums of from $100 to $200 for which they were to receive government claims in reclamation projects in Colorado. Thirty-six counts were contained in the indictments.

COLLEGE TOWN IS NEARING END

BERKELEY, May 8.—Bishop Edward Lamb Parsons of the Episcopal church, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon at the commencement week at the university at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the Greek theater.

The festivities will conclude Wednesday morning with the conferring of degrees upon 1200 students at the Greek theater by President David L. Barrows. For the commencement day program the usual academic procession of students, faculty and graduates is planned, with a program of addresses and degree-giving following.

Carrying out a campus tradition, four members of the graduating class have been chosen by President Barrows to represent their fellow students on the program.

They are: Victor Stephens, student, Oakland, college of letters and science; "The Problem of Leadership as the Fundamental Problem of Democracy," Marion Mitchell Bourquin, Berkeley, college of letters and science; "Human Relationship and Better Farming," and Frank Howard Wilcox, Pomona, college of letters and science; "A Defense of Old-Fashioned Learning." Announcement of the class medalist will be made Wednesday morning.

Members of the senior class will make their annual pilgrimage on Monday morning, traversing the entire university grounds. Girls of the for which they were to receive government claims in reclamation projects in Colorado. Thirty-six counts were contained in the indictments.

Many Noted Educators at University Summer School

BERKELEY, May 8.—Noted educators from all parts of the United States will make up the faculty of the coming summer session at the university which opens on June 21 for a period of six weeks. Announcement of visiting faculty members who will head the departments of history, journalism, law, music, philosophy and political economy has been made by Dean Walter Morris Hart.

Dr. Morris Justow, professor of Semitic languages and historian of the University of Pennsylvania, will conduct classes in the historical study of religions, primitive religions, and religions and civilizations of the present age.

Colin V. Dymond, professor of journalism, University of Oregon, will be in charge of a practical course in the editorial side of a newspaper with the summer session California as the background.

Francis H. Bohlen, Algonquin Sidney Biddle professor of law, University of Pennsylvania law school, will give a course in the law of torts.

Frederick Alexander, director of the Conservatory, Michigan state normal college, will give courses in the university chorus and history and appreciation of music.

Dr. Walter G. Everett, professor of philosophy and natural theology, day evening at Hotel Oakland. On Tuesday is scheduled the annual Phi Beta Kappa address, which will be given at 8 o'clock in room 11, Wheeler Hall, by Regent Chester Rowell. The subject will be "Our Irresponsible Government."

Following commencement exercises on Wednesday morning the annual reunion of graduates will take place under the oaks in Faculty Glade at 1 o'clock. The class of 1932 will hold a reunion next Tuesday evening at the home of former Governor George Pardee in Oakland. In this class are numbered a group of the oldest living graduates of the state university. Other classes to hold reunions during the coming week are those of 1885, 1895 and 1915.

The following is the program announced for the commencement day reunion luncheon in Faculty Glade: Wigington E. Creed, president of the Alumni association, toastmaster. Selection by the University Glee club.

Address by President David L. Barrows, Harold E. Fraser, president of the class of 1932, Mrs. Annette Abbott Adams, president of the Alumni association.

Selection by the University Glee club. Address by Mr. R. E. Roschard, '09, newly elected secretary of the Alumni association. Selection by the University Glee club. Business meeting. Installation of Warren Gregory '37, newly elected president of the Alumni association.

WOMAN DIVINE NOT VICTIM OF THIEF, BUT SELF

BERKELEY, May 8.—Miss Julia Budlong, ordained this week as a minister in the Unitarian church, wasn't the victim of a thief as she had feared when she reported the loss of $50 from her home at 2411 Durant avenue.

Instead, Miss Budlong made the mistake of packing a silk bag containing her money in a trunk which she sent on ahead of her to San Jose, where she is to visit before going east to accept a pastorate.

A telegram received this morning by the Berkeley police from Miss Budlong informed them that they could call their sleuths off the case. The entire roll of bills was reported as safe in the woman preacher's trunk.

Prison Term Evaded by High Cost Plea

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 8.—A high cost of living plea saved Ernest Miller, an Illinois Central railroad baggageman running between St. Louis and Carbondale, Ill., a possible five years in prison. Arraigned before Federal Judge Faris charged with stealing from an interstate shipment, Miller pleaded that he was driven to it by inability to properly provide for his wife and five children, due to high prices.

"I have to consider the high cost of living in this sentence, so you will find $150 instead of being sent to prison," Judge Faris announced.

Actress Says Beauty Doctor Ruined Health

NEW YORK, May 8.—Claiming that her beauty had been ruined, her health impaired and her weight reduced from 122 to 99 pounds through a "beauty" operation whose most immediate result was to start blood poisoning, Gladys Clark Bergman, an actress, has started a $15,000 suit against Dr. William A. Pratt, a face surgeon.

Your Clerks Are All Right

I know it, because about two years ago I went into your store for the first time and everybody acted so friendly and nice. I had just gotten well of the influenza and two different clerks besides the ones that were showing us the suits said they hoped I'd grow real well soon.

Well, I GREW All Right

The suit I bought from you that day proved it. My legs got too long and my arms seemed to be trying to reach the floor. I wore that suit to school for a whole term. I couldn't wear it any longer because I didn't fit it. Mother cleaned it all nice and put it away. Easter Sunday my little brother LeRoy wore that same suit and it is his BEST one.

Mother says she can depend on anything she gets from you wearing well.

And I know that I like everything I get in your store.

In addition to the special features, the yearbook also contains current news of the school and an editorial urging that girl candidates be given equal consideration with boys in the election of the school editor for the coming semester.

Among the local speakers at the convention will be Dr. Aurelia Heathard, president of Mills College, who will speak on "Educational Advertising" at the Monday morning session, and Professor David P. Barrows of the University of California on "Collegiate Courses in Advertising." The business session of the newspaper section will be conducted by Carl Brockhagen, business manager of an Oakland newspaper, and the direct-by-mail advertising conference by Harry A. Stuff of Oakland.

The convention opens May 23 and continues through May 28. Entertainment features include an automobile trip into Yosemite Valley.

Poland, to export, and without any Polish willing on its feet ready for active commercial relations with the world.

The Polish mark has fallen so low that its value is almost negligible and labor there is cheap. France and Great Britain have their eyes on Poland; you may be sure, and are already buying up large quantities of oil. This country appears to be asleep as far as taking advantage of the opportunity for trade Poland affords."

Although the ancients refer to malleable glass in their writings, modern science regards malleable glass an utter impossibility.

The EDEN

The ideal way of washing delicate things is the way the EDEN washes everything.

Your Opportunity

You will be glad to know that we have received a limited number of the famous EDEN Electric Clothes Washers.

Come, see the Eden. Or better, have us send one to your home for demonstration with

With your parents, and perhaps your grandparents, PE-RU-NA was the favorite Spring medicine, because they knew they could depend upon it. It acts directly upon the organs of Digestion and elimination, helping nature to throw off the poison accumulations of winter and stimulating a normal, healthy action in the human machinery.

The blood becomes rich and pure, insuring healthy nourishment to every part. Nerves, raw and quivering, are soothed and quieted, and the nerve centers revived and stimulated.

You lose that always tired feeling of lassitude, and experience at once a vim and vigor, a punch and a push, a desire and ambition to be up and going.

PE-RU-NA clears your system of the health destroying, stagnating poisons and wastes of catarrh. Take no chances. Drive out this enemy to good health—catarrh Step on the starter. Get PE-RU-NA from your nearest store today.

PORTER LOSES SUIT AGAINST U. S.

Thomas White, colored, Pullman porter, residing at 1444 Tenth street, Oakland, has lost the suit for $3500 against the government brought by him in the United States District Court in San Francisco. According to White last February he was quarantined in Portland, Oregon, and telegraphed to his wife instructing her how to obtain his salary in order to provide for herself. White charges the telegram was not delivered and thereupon instituted suit against the government which at that time controlled wire facilities. United States District Judge Frank Rulkin dismissed the action on the ground the court had no jurisdiction.

FANTS ON STREET.
C. W. Childs, 47 years old, and residing at 52 Vernon street, fainted at Tenth street and Broadway yesterday when about to cross the street and fell against the curb, breaking his nose. He was given attention at the emergency hospital. Childs is a retired teacher.

Unsightly Hair DeMiracle

DeMiracle, the original sanitary liquid, is truly a revelation in modern science. It is just as efficacious for removing coarse, brittle growths as it is for ordinary ones. Only genuine DeMiracle has a money-back guarantee in each package. At retail counters in 50c, $1 and $2 sizes, or by mail from us in plain wrapper on receipt of price. FREE book with testimonials of highest authorities explaining what causes hair, neck and arms, why it increases and how DeMiracle removes it. NAME 'BAYER' ON GENUINE ASPIRIN

For Pain, Colds, Neuralgia, Toothache, Headache.

You want relief—quickly and safely? Then insist on "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin," stamped with the "Bayer Cross." The name "Bayer" means you are getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for over eighteen years, and proved safe by millions of people. For a few cents you can get a handy tin box of genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin," containing 12 tablets. Druggists also sell larger "Bayer" packages. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monach, Germany, of Salicylic acid. Advertisers.

Rupture Kills 7,000 Annually

Seven thousand persons each year are laid away—the burial certificate being marked "Rupture." What? Because the unfortunate ones had neglected themselves and had been merely taking care of the signs (swelling) of the affliction and passing no attention to the cause. What are you going to do? Are you neglecting yourself? Wearing a truss, appliance, or whatever name you choose to call it? The truss is only a make-shift—a false prop against a collapsing wall—and cannot be expected to act as more than a mere mechanical support. The binding pressure retards blood circulation, thus robbing the weakened muscles of that which they need most—oxygen.

But science has found a way, and every true sufferer in the land is invited to make a FREE test right in the privacy of their own home. The PLAPAO method is unquestionably the most scientific, logical and successful self-treatment for rupture the world has ever known.

The PLAPAO PAD when adhering closely to the body cannot possibly slip or shift out of place, therefore cannot chafe or pinch. Soft as velvet—easy to apply—unobtrusive. To be used while you work and while you sleep. No straps, buckles, or springs attached. Learn how to close the hernial opening as nature intended the nature CAN'T come down. Send your name today to PLAPAO CO., P.O. Box 2112, St. Louis, Mo. for FREE trial Pads and the information necessary. Advertisers.

Fifty Years From NOW

Deputy sheriffs armed with search warrants this morning went to Dublin, Palamares, Livermore and Mount Eden to secure the presidential primary ballots which were cast in those districts at the presidential primaries a week ago. Up until noon today the ballots had not been delivered to the county clerk. The precincts in these districts are the only ones missing from the official count in Alameda county.

Eighty-ninth street on the University of California campus was officially opened today to student traffic. The new street is over a mile long, and during the college year will serve nearly 50,000 students who pass daily from one end of the campus to the other while attending various classes.

The press agent of one of the largest automobile manufacturing concerns of the Eastbay district announced today that he has discovered a brand new idea for publicity purposes. "It is my intention," he said, "to photograph some bathing girls posed on the running board of one of our cars."

The conductor on a Shattuck avenue car let it out this morning that he heard rumors to the effect that the company is going to replace the rolling stock on that line with cars possessing round wheels.

Chief of Police L. Catchem has appealed to the university professors to aid him in obtaining the address of the resort where the male students have been obtaining their coffee. Ever since the anti-coffee ordinance went into effect some of the students have been staging coffee busts in the various fraternity houses and then appearing upon the streets in a boisterous condition.

As a part of the celebration marking the fortieth year of the transbay bridge, connecting Oakland and San Francisco, one of the old bridges has been fitted up and will make regular trips across the bay carrying large crowds eager to try this old fashioned way of travel.

The Stanford university officials have announced that all athletic relations with the University of California are suspended.

Women may again wear stockings if the price of women's hosiery continues to drop. Lisle stockings, which were sold at $4 a pair, are now being sold at $2.50 a pair. While several years ago the price was almost double that, silk stockings are quoted at $5 a pair. Since stockings were boycotted by women almost forty years ago, women have found it much simpler to do without them entirely.

Men under twenty-five years of age may be barred from entering cafes unless accompanied either by their wives or mothers, if an ordinance is passed. Mrs. I. Catchem, wife of Oakland's chief of police, and member of the city council, is sponsoring the new ordinance.

A large crowd was present at the police station this morning to witness a sight which many of the children had never seen. The sack of sugar which the police found hid away in an Oakland

IF BACKACHEY OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat Less Meat, Also Take Glass of Salts Before Eating Breakfast

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy, the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, neck, headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coats, and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water, also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble—Advertisers.

Salvation Army Buys Downtown Corner

In the midst of the drive for cast-off clothing, announcement was made that the Salvation Army had purchased the property at the northwest corner of Sixth and Webster streets extending along Sixth toward Franklin which are now used as the headquarters of the industrial department.

quarters of the industrial department

The deed transferring the property to the Army was signed by the Ringolsky estate trustees yesterday. The Salvation Army industrial department maintains a factory to give employment to invalids, cripples and the infirm who are only able to do light manual work. Castoff clothing which is collected by the army is treated at the emergency hospital.

Practitioners May Obtain Intoxicants

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—Osteopaths, electrotherapists, physiotherapists, chiropractors and chiropodists can qualify as users of intoxicating liquor for non-beverage purposes, according to a ruling by Prohibition Commissioner John F. Kramer, of Washington, passed down in San Francisco by Frank M. Ryan, assistant director for California, ruling pointed out that before permits for the use of intoxicating liquor can be obtained by these practitioners the government must be fully satisfied that the liquor is necessary in the pursuit of their profession.

dast. We have sort of a feeling that it would be irrelevant. Like wearing a red flannel shirt with a dress suit, it simply isn't "done."

But why can't it be done, World? Surely marriage ought to be the finest comradeship that ever happened and it's a lot better than a flannel shirt and a fitting. Suppose it does suit Mary and John to live together and tell each other every blessed thing they do. Then let 'em! But is that any reason why Pter and Polly can't be happier and more useful if they spend half their time apart and hold down different jobs? What if there ARE babies? It doesn't take two folks to hold a nursing bottle? Can't you get joy and ginger into her job without a flannel shirt and every thought wave? Can't a man keep hale and hustling without reporting to the warden every eight hours?

Why can't we all look at LIFE and LOVE AS A BIG ADVENTURE? Instead of a cage for trained animals? Suppose we did use less of this BRANDING IRON and more of the PAROLE SYSTEM? Don't you think the giving would be just as glad?

First lunacy laws in England were made in the reign of Edward III.

If we used less of the branding iron idea in marriage and more of the parole system there would be fewer divorces.

There are almost 1500 species of mice.

During their five years of married life they've averaged two breakfasts a week together. Her husband makes appointments for dinner with her just as she does for other friends. "What do you think it is?" said I to the Professional Masculine Friend. "Finest scheme ever," says he. "Almost tempers me to try matrimony myself. Now if I could find a girl with a washstand and a sleeping pillow every little thing I do—" "I don't doubt it," snapped the Muchly Married Lady. "You men like to be as foot-free as grasshoppers, but we women have to have one or two and it's all off!" "Horrible! Horrible!" groaned the Bulwark of Society. "What's the world coming to? There's no such thing as a home any more. All you women wanting to parade the streets!"

"But Fannie Hurst doesn't parade the streets," said I unsympathetically. "She works as hard as any domestic woman. And she knows the domestic woman's life, from the pull of the smooth balls, every inch of it. If the test of womanliness is a knowledge of washing powders Fannie's right there with the hundred percenters." "I don't know," from the girl who interrupted. "Woman's place is in the home."

All or which Wave or Talk doesn't affect Fannie and her Jacques in the least. They are not the kind of people of good. IT SHOWS US THAT MARRIAGE CAN BE ADJUSTED TO OUR NEED LIKE ANY OTHER HUMAN PARTNERSHIP.

It is not the kind of people who believe that most of us do think about marriage and adjust it to our needs? But we don't—not by a long way. We're taught from the start that it's made in heaven, and it's not to be tampered with. The income tax law. Then sooner or later we commit it, using the same

THE OWL DRUG CO.

The Superior Qualities of Red Feather
Tooth Paste

will be emphasized this week in all Owl Drug Stores. This scientific and hygienic dentifrice cleanses, preserves and beautifies the teeth and sweetens the breath. It has medicinal qualities which aid in preventing pyorrhea and receding gums. It is pleasantly flavored. The price of Red Feather Tooth Paste is 25c a tube—the same as before the war. In fact, the price has never been changed in all the years it has been on the market.

Red Feather Tooth Powder

35c Buys a GOOD Tooth Brush in The Owl Drug Stores. There is every reason why it should. We buy direct from the manufacturer in quantities—sometimes 100,000 brushes at a time. This means the lowest possible price and the rigid following of our quality specifications. We provide them in various sizes and many shapes and styles.

—The Star Vibrator

will also be given preferred attention this week. This splendid electric massage instrument, which sells at $5.00 has come into national prominence in a very short time. Used for the promotion of health or beauty, it always gives perfect satisfaction. There are special applicators for special purposes. Can be attached to any electric light socket. Special demonstrations all this week.

JAZZ DANCE HURTS STUDY SAYS SAVANT

By B. C. CLARK.

International New Service Staff

Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Suffrage ballot boxes and municipal elections heralds of springtime in most

are not essential to the existence and protection of municipal politics, it has been shown in the investigation into the public school affairs of was instruction which the District of Columbia committee of the United States senate is bringing to a close. The inquiry has been in progress for several weeks, and a report will be made in a few days.

One phase of the inquiry turned on the dances of school pupils that were being conducted in the various school buildings during evening and on holidays. The principal of the Dunbar high school asserted that his building had been "labeled" with common dance hall with the pupils dancing the "shimmy" and various kinds of "trot" to jazz music.

Statements regarding other

PUPILS GIVE DANCES.

In some of the school communities groups of students had been organized into clubs for the purpose of

that one of the groups in his school

Club."

And they lived up to their name too," he asserted.

In the list of innovations in dancings were "breakfast dances" which starting at 9 or 10 o'clock in the morning or 10 days or so, and throughout the day and sometimes the evening, too.

The school principals asserted that a marked decrease in efficiency in scholarship had been observed in the students that regularly attended the dances in the evening. They asserted also that they were not properly

IS CLEARING HOUSE.

The testimony before the committee showed that an adjunct of the schools described as "community centers" had been organized for holding the dances. Parents who came before the committee said that the system was a "clearing house for neighborhood politics."

Many people in Washington believe that the outcome of the senate committee's investigation will be the granting of suffrage in some form or other to the people of Washington, and allowing the mayor to municipal officials at the ballot box

instead of appointment by the president, with confirmation by the sen-

Irish Fair to Be Held Next Sunday

roads fair of Ireland, will be held

700 Americans, Listed As 'Killed,' German Prisoners

PARIS, May 8.—(Special Cable Despatch).—Seven hundred soldiers, most of them Americans, whose names have been carried on the casualty lists as dead, were living as prisoners in Germany last August and probably still are, according to Francois Fiodan, a French farmer, who has arrived at Lille after escaping from a German prison camp. He fled by way of Russia, the Baltic and England, and asserts he personally saw many of the allied and American soldiers who have been officially declared dead.

SOCIALISTS MEET TO PICK LEADER

NEW YORK, May 8.—Meeting to frame the platform and choose the candidates for which it will seek votes in the 1920 presidential campaign, delegates to the national convention of the Socialist party gathered here today in the state that received by legislative action was the party as an "outlaw" and barred it from the polls of New York. The convention is being held at head-

"High avenue and One Hundred

Twenty-seventh street.

As the delegates assembled the foremost name among the candidates for the presidential nomination was that of Eugene V. Debs, now in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga.

It was regarded as highly probable that Debs, the acknowledged leader of the party despite his incarceration, would be the party's nominee.

The platform for the coming campaign, which must be ratified by the party membership before it becomes the party's official declaration, is expected to take official cognizance of the action of the New York state legislature in "outlawing" the party in this state and in ousting from their seats five Socialist members of the state assembly. Other planks which it was regarded as certain will be written into the platform are:

"Demand for the removal of wartime restrictions on the press and public discussion; general amnesty for political prisoners; nationalization of neutral resources and taking over by the government of means of transportation and communication.

It is expected also that the convention will declare itself in favor of recognition by the United States of the Russian soviet republic.

150,000 Men in Sinn Fein Army Officer Says Defenders Drill in Daylight Names of Leaders Are Kept Secret

By WEBB MILLER.

United Press Staff Correspondent.

DUBLIN, May 8.—The secret Sinn

Fein "Army of the Irish Republic"

now aggregates more than 150,000

Sinn Fein officials.

Some hitherto unpublished details of the organization and equipment of this "underground" army were given the United Press by a member of the Sinn Fein cabinet who has been active in the work of organization and holds high rank in the "army."

He declared that the organization is completely equipped with small arms, such as rifles and revolvers, and "a certain amount of ammunition." Most of the "troops" have their own uniforms. Owing to the necessity of keeping their equipment hidden, each man is made responsible for the custody and concealment of his own rifle and uniform. Neither the officers nor men receive any pay.

"Our army is well organized in companies, battalions and regiments on exactly the same lines as another army," the Sinn Feiner said.

"Each town, village and district has its company or battalion, which is known by the name of the district. For instance, here in Dublin there are four battalions. I organized and drilled the South Dublin battalion. "In spite of the strict surveillance of the police and English troops drilling is going on constantly. Almost every night within a few miles of the center of Dublin I could show you units of our army at drill. At present most of our attention is centered upon drilling for guerrilla warfare and scouting.

"The men of the Dublin battalions are summoned to drill by couriers and advised of the time and exact spot—usually an isolated field in the hills back of Dublin. They straggle in by foot or bicycle in their ordinary clothes without arms of any sort. It's too risky to attempt to drill in uniform or with arms.

"As a matter of fact, the drilling now is mainly designed to keep up the interest and spirit of the men and maintain the organization intouch. The drilling is usually held before midnight to allow the men to get home in plenty of time without arousing suspicion. "The men hold drills in broad daylight on Sundays and holidays in out-of-the-way places in the country near by.

"Pickets are posted on all roads nearby and signals arranged to warn of the approach of police or troops.

"Naturally the names of our officers are kept secret, but sometimes they become known. For instance, the Lord Mayor of Cork was commandant of the Cork organization which was well known. In fact, we turned out hundreds of troops in full uniform at his funeral and the English troops were afraid to interfere."

DEATH DELAYED YEAR.

LONDON, May 8.—Polskoros was given off by rotting potatoes in the hold of a stranded German submarine was stated to have caused the death of Petty Officer Charles

William Heard nearly a year after he had inspected the vessel, accord-

COUNTRY MAID TAKES JEWELS LEAVING PLACE

PARIS, May 8.—Roger Bou-vard, famous Paris architect, dis-

servant, announced he would find one himself.

After six weeks' search he discovered a simple country maiden

at 50 francs ($10) per month—

the usual terms being 125 francs

His chortles of joy subsided the following morning when it was discovered that the simple country maiden had disappeared—simultaneously with $40,000 worth of his wife's jewelry.

Children of all races of the ancient

HILLS CLUB FIGHTS FOR WILD PARKS

The Contra Costa Hills Club has announced some ambitious plans for the betterment of the East Bay beauty spots according to a program adopted late this week by its executive committee.

Recommendations for the improvement of the Judith M. S. property made by J. B. O'Brien of the committee are being considered by the club's board of directors. The club is urging the board to include in its budget an appropriation for the construction of a scenic boulevard to the crest of the hills, that will make this celebrated show place far more attractive to sightseers and tourists.

In order to make the home of the hills more accessible to the public, the club is planning to build a road from the top of the hills to the base of the hills. The road will be a scenic boulevard, and will be a fine example of the club's efforts to improve the hills. The club is also planning to build a road from the top of the hills to the base of the hills. The road will be a scenic boulevard, and will be a fine example of the club's efforts to improve the hills.

Among these hills is a menace to public safety, the club contends, therefore it is executing a campaign to have the police be stationed along the boulevards to enforce ordinances against the discharging of firearms. The club has started a campaign to protect the hills from the fire. It is trying to get the attention of the public by putting up signs. The club is also planning to build a road from the top of the hills to the base of the hills. The road will be a scenic boulevard, and will be a fine example of the club's efforts to improve the hills.

A noteworthy list of the two hundred varieties of this Spring Flower Show to be held in the Hotel Claremont May 16, 17 and 18. The list includes many rare and exotic plants, including orchids, cacti, and other tropical plants. The show is being organized by L. A. Carbone, who is a well-known horticulturist. The show is expected to attract a large number of visitors, and it is hoped that it will be a great success.

countries, the hybrids he has produced in his greenhouses. It is expected that his exhibition at the Hotel Oakland next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, will attract as wide a public as did his similar showing at the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

OTHER EXHIBITORS.

Other exhibitors who have already taken space are W. A. Burns of Mount, Carl Salbach, Mrs. J. A. Scanlon, A. F. Shulte, H. M. Hart, Mrs. R. H. Gray, Mrs. Theodore Cuchau, Mrs. James Brannin, J. L. Hughes, Mrs. Funa Spencer of Alameda, and Charles Nelson of the Professional Growers, the Alameda County Floral Society under whose auspices the Spring Flower Show is to be held, is more interested in encouraging the amateur grower to beautify his own and vacant lots and to be a part of the show. The show is expected to attract a large number of visitors, and it is hoped that it will be a great success.

'Y' Worker Will Photograph Soldier Graves in France

John Rees, assistant business secretary of the Oakland Y. M. C. A., and a former 'Y' worker in France, has received a letter from his friend, Frank C. Norton, now in charge of the Y. M. C. A. at St. Nazaire, France.

Norton states that the Y. M. C. A. will be glad to answer any inquiries regarding the graves of Americans in France, and asks that inquiries regarding burial places at St. Nazaire, Nantes and Sevenay be sent to him personally. He will be glad to send a photograph of a grave to any relative or friend. He states that there are 9000 Americans buried in the region around St. Nazaire alone. The grave registration bureau is beginning the work of sending the bodies back home. Many of the relatives will be anxious to know how this work is progressing. For any information write to Frank C. Norton, Y. M. C. A., St. Nazaire, Loire Inf., France.

Fast Train Ploughs Through Cattle Herd

EVANSTON, Wyo., May 8.—Traveling at a speed of forty miles an hour, an east bound Union Pacific train ploughed into a herd of cattle near here, decimating seventy-one of the herd. The engineer apparently had not seen the obstruction, as the train was several hundred yards beyond the wholesale slaughter before it was brought to a standstill.

T. & D. FILMS TO SHOW AD. BALL SCENES

ART SHOW PRIZES ARE ANNOUNCED

The prizes for the fourth annual exhibition of the San Francisco Art Association at the Palace of Fine Arts are announced as follows:

First prize, $1,000, Charles Fortune, "The Canvas—Above the Town"—to become the property of the San Francisco Art Association, as a unit of the Waters collection.

Gold medals: Armin Hansen on "The Trainers"; Clark Hobart on his portrait of William Skinner; Silver medal, Leo Randolph on "Helen"; May Boynton on "Tampabay," presumably a study for his Tampabay screen.

Honorable mention, Helen Forbes (Miss Forbes had eleven examples of her work accepted, a rare record for a young painter. Miss Forbes is a pupil of Armin Hansen).

Gold medal for sculpture, Ralph Stackpole on his "Symphonic." Gold medals for drawing, Armin Hansen on "Helen"; Florence Williams on "Grey Morning."

Bronze medal for water colors, Helen Forbes.

Bronze medal for pastels, Oliver Albrecht.

Honorable mention for drawing, Arthur Miller.

The jury of awards was made up of Armin Hansen, Edgar Walter and E. Spencer Macky.

The exhibition, though smaller than last year, is considered one of the best of many years in point of originality, spirit and Western personality.

The exhibition will continue at the Palace of Fine Arts until May 15. The museum is open daily from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. with free admission. Director J. Nielsen Laurvik in charge.

An exhibition of pictorial photography by Frank Harold is on view in the Oakland Art Gallery. Those who remember the "Record" photographs previously shown by Mr. Harold will be especially interested in his pictorial work and the contrast between the two types of work. The high Sierras and the Yosemite are the subjects most often chosen as the "peg" to hang the picture on, so the exhibition should interest even those to whom the purely pictorial makes no appeal.

Charles Peterson Is Installed As Head

RICHMOND, May 8.—Charles Peterson was installed as worthy patron of Mirmar Chapter, O. E. S., at a well-attended meeting last night at the Balleger-Narrett building. Peterson has just returned from an extended visit to his old home in Sweden and was not present at the regular installation of new officers. Mrs. Lucy Roe, worthy matron of the order, acted as installing officer last night.

Plans were made for a class initiation on May 21. The event will be in honor of the conductress, Mrs. Mildred Hammond, one of the beloved and capable officers of Mirmar chapter. Ritualistic work of the order was beautifully exemplified last night and received many compliments from the audience.

Chandler, who was present. Refreshments were served by the following committee: Mesdames Mason Jones, Blackbar, Muse, White, North, Webster.

Alameda Boy Scouts in Drive for Funds

ALAMEDA, May 8.—Alameda Council, Boy Scouts of America, during the next week, will continue its drive for $7500 to be used in expenses during the coming year. It is estimated that the cost per scout annually is $18, including the physical training and headquarters provided him. In Alameda there are 210 Scouts, and a wide margin in funds is being sought in order that the council may be increased, if so desired.

A camping trip to extend from June 19 to July 5, under the direction of Clinton Kelly, Scout executive, will be given the Scouts this year. Their destination will be Towle, and from there regulation hiking trips will be made.

Berkeley Ready to Welcome Delegates to A. O. F. Meet

BERKELEY, May 8.—More than 300 delegates from all parts of the Pacific coast will attend the nineteenth annual convention of the High Court, Ancient Order of Foresters, here, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. Court University will be host to the visitors. Delegates from Oregon and Washington are due tomorrow afternoon, and there will be a reception to delegates at Foresters' hall, 3418 Grove street, Monday evening. A parade on Wednesday afternoon in which the members of Lookout Mountain Post, No. 88, G. A. R., and Companions of the Forest will participate will be one of the many features of the convention. The Berkeley police and fire departments will hold annual inspection on that day and will be reviewed by the delegates in front of the Berkeley post hall. The annual banquet will be held Thursday evening at Hotel Whitecroft.

Past Chief Ranger Sanford G. Brown, as president of the 1920 convention committee, is arranging an interesting program. Assisting him are: Deputy High Chief Ranger, W. E. Owen as secretary; Past Chief Ranger and Financial Secretary Henry Dettliff as treasurer; Past

Preliminaries To Republican Convention Begin on Monday

BY UNITED PRESS.

LEAST WIRE TO TRIM.

CHICAGO, May 8.—Preliminaries to the Republican national convention will be staged here beginning Monday when G. O. P. national committeemen and national leaders meet to clear the way.

One of the first things which will be taken up will be the selection of a temporary chairman of the convention. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, senate Republican leader, is said to lead for the position.

The committee on arrangements, which makes the selection, will meet Monday. On the same day will be a meeting of the executive committee. Plans for organization for the coming election will be discussed.

Following the appointment of a temporary chairman and his assistants the committee will decide on distribution of tickets, pass on arrangements for seating at the convention and adjourn.

During the week the committee on contests will take up cases of contested delegates. Leaders say there are fewer contests this year than in previous conventions.

METHODISTS ARE AGAINST BOXING

DES MOINES, Ia., May 8.—The Methodist General Conference, meeting here, today went on record as favoring woman suffrage, the Sheppard-Towner bill providing a federal board of maternal and infant health, and the bill introduced by Representative Johnson, South Dakota. It was unanimously adopted.

In introducing the resolution against boxing, W. R. Wedderspoon, Rock River conference, charged a "new" is under way to legalize "the prize fighting business" in all states of the Union.

He declared the church should oppose professional boxing because it "will increase brutality, violence, cruelty and gambling."

The resolution was passed. An attempt to put the question on record, as favoring unification of the Methodist-Episcopal church and the Methodist-Episcopal Church South, was defeated.

YOUTHS ARRESTED FOR AUTO THEFT

Jack Barwick and Joseph Brown, two Oakland youths, were arrested yesterday by Sheriff A. B. Turner of Mariposa county at El Portal, at the gateway of the Yosemite, and charged with grand larceny in connection with the theft of an automobile in Oakland on May 4.

The machine belonged to J. E. Mayberry, 152 Twelfth street, and was taken from in front of his residence.

The Oakland police learned that the two men were en route to the Yosemite and notified Sheriff Turner, who had in wait for them. They were driving the stolen car, according to advice received in Oakland last night.

Mrs. Barwick was accompanying her husband, but she was later released on recommendation of the Oakland police, who believe that she had no connection with the theft. The couple will be returned to Oakland to face the charge.

Child Is Injured in Collision of Autos

SAN RAFAEL, May 8.—Barbara, 5-year-old daughter of Wade E. Thomas, supervising principal of the schools of South Marin county, was seriously injured today when an automobile driven by her mother crashed into another car at San Anselmo.

Mrs. Thomas, with her little daughter, was driving along Tamalpais avenue when she lost control of the machine and collided with another car driven by William Van Wyke, retired San Anselmo merchant. The child was hurled through the windshield of the car, suffering severe cuts on the head and body. Mrs. Thomas was slightly injured.

Soldier Bonus Bill Will Be Amended

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Soldier bonus legislation is not dead for this session of congress, despite many objections raised against it during the last week. Chairman Fordney of the house ways and means committee declared late today on his return from Michigan.

An amended bill to meet many of the objections will be reported out next week with probability of action in the house the following week, he said. It is virtually certain that the total benefits of the measure will be reduced to about $1,000,000,000 so that the tax on retail sales can be eliminated.

Democrats will hold three state conventions next week, as follows: Monday—Illinois, eight delegates; at-large; Wyoming, six delegates. Tuesday—Alabama, 14 delegates.

Ad. Men Will Name Convention Delegates

Interest is high among Ad Club members over the coming election of delegates to the Coast Convention of Ad Club men to be held at Stockton and Yosemite May 23 to 28. Twelve local delegates will be elected at the Ad Club luncheon at the Hotel Oakland next Tuesday noon.

At this meeting the club will officially decide whether the 1920 Ad Masque was a glorious success or a dismal failure. Income, expense and profit will come in for a share of the discussion.

Were You One of the Lucky Ones?

Last Friday we advertised a number of player pianos that had been used for demonstrating new player rolls in our store, at a substantial saving over the regular prices.

Nearly all of these instruments were sold Saturday, but there are three left to be sold Monday. These player pianos are less than six months old and the terms will be to suit your convenience.

We Have These Pianos Left.

MOTHER'S DAY!

The day you will send her home a Crystal Electric Washer and Wringer will be Mother's Day, indeed.

All through the years she has dreamed of the day which would bring an abundance of clean clothes to everyone in the family without drudgery and hard work. That day is here. You can make her dreams come true by sending home a Crystal Electric Washer.

"A WOMAN'S WORK IS NEVER DONE"

But we can help to make her work easier. Electricity will lighten the burden of womanhood.

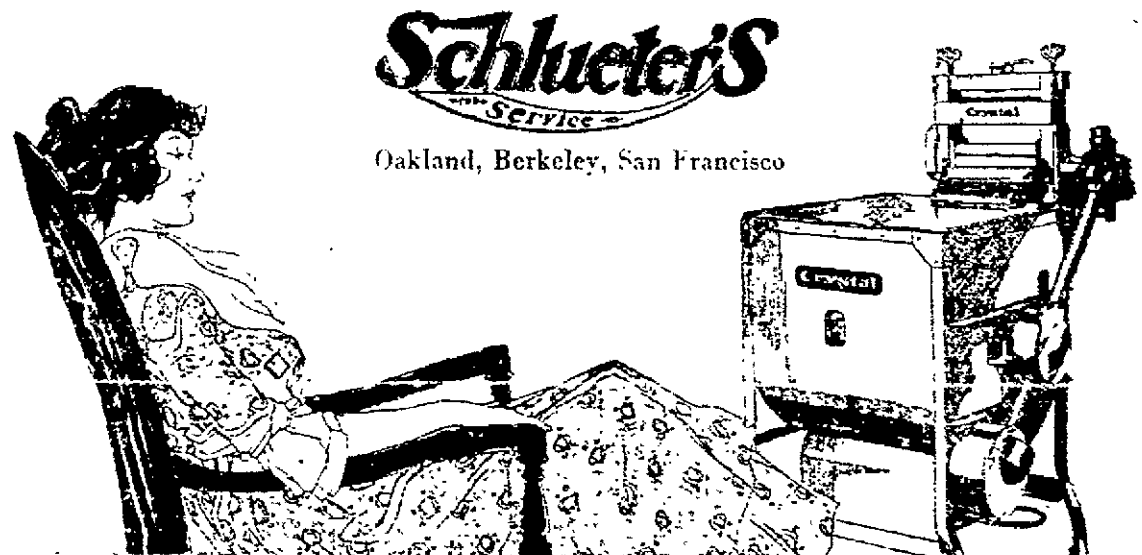

The Crystal bearing the seal of the great Mallory Industries, an organization dedicated to the saving of labor in the American home, only serves to intensify the unmistakable preference for the established superiority of the Crystal machine.

The thousands of satisfied users around the bay district prove what you may expect from the Crystal in your own home. Come in and see the Crystal wash. See how quickly and thoroughly the one-way cylinder handles the daintiest finery to heavy comforters, or better still, we will demonstrate in your own home.

A SMALL DEPOSIT PUTS A CRYSTAL IN YOUR HOME.

VALLEY SUCCESS

By BOB SHAND.

CAMP CURRY, Yosemite Valley, May 8.—The "TRIBUNE" tourists are here and numbered amongst them are some of the gamiest guys in the world. They came in automobiles, animated sardine cans, Elizabethtons, and other things, and some of them showed signs of weakness.

During the dinner hour a boy paged a physician and the suggestion was that one of the Elizabethtons had just arrived, or a Los Angeles man had lost a dime.

Los Angeles is strongly represented here several score being present from the cafeteria belt. They staged an economy run from Los Angeles to the valley, and speaking of appropriate runs for Los Angeles folks, I ask what's the matter with economy?

GOT WIRES CROSSED

The boys from the south got 'em crossed up in the dining room. They looked frantically around for rails and trays and things and none of them knew how to act when a waiter asked for their order. The tip problem worried them until they clubbed together and raised a dime for the hired help.

It was some trip up there—some considerable trip. Sam Keeney of the Cole Eight was at the wheel of our official car and carelessly broke a spring at San Leandro.

A call for help was answered from Oakland and a new spring was sent to Hayward. Two hours and a half were lost making repairs, but Sam caught up with the bunch at Merced.

Of course he did not break any speed laws or anything like that. Les Manning, former Oakland speed cop and now employed by the State, stopped every machine near Tracy seeking operators' licenses. Les found the drivers nearly 50 per cent within the law. Some of the boys don't want a license; they want 17 feet and 18 feet high.

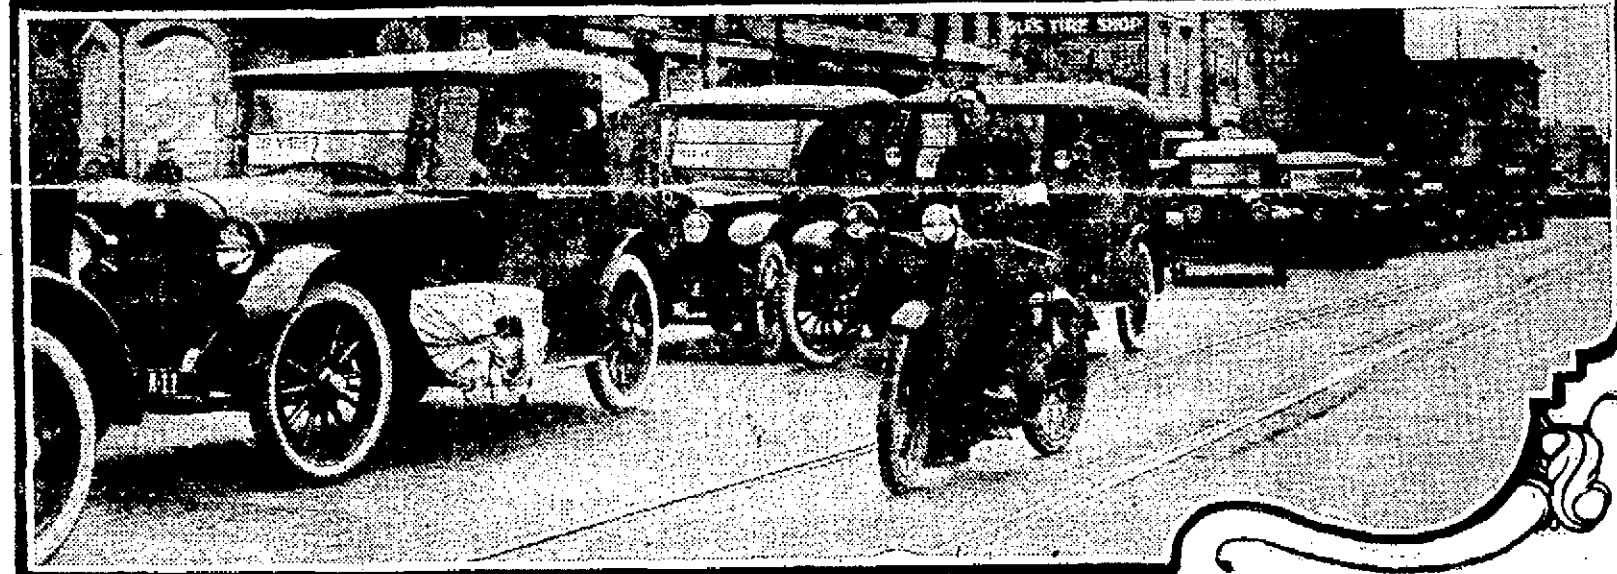

DAVE WELCOMES TOURISTS.

Mayor Dave was on hand to welcome the tourists when they arrived here and some of the boys blamed John for coming up the night before. The mayor, by the way, was immaculate as usual, even to the carnations. Everybody else was tired and travel worn. How he does it is a story. Those lucky enough to reach the dining room before Pat Larue started eating his several dinners did fairly well, but when Pat left the table for the last time there was a famine.

Fat may never be the heavy-weight fighting champion but as a dining room artist he is there already. Jeff Anderson of San Luis Obispo was given a bungalow in the shadow of El Capitan and he made sure that Mr. Capitan was securely nailed down before he would go to bed.

A corps of entertainers staged a swell show in front of a huge campfire in the evening and the Los Angeles delegation gave three cheers and a couple of coughs.

CUPID'S DART FALLS WIDE OF
WHITE COLLARS

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 8.—Cupid's darts fall wide of their mark when aimed at a fellow who wears white collars to work. The white collar man is not walking to the matrimonial altar.

There are plenty of girls in the honey, marriage license clerk.

It is the man who works in the factory, the mill, the farm, the automobile mechanic, the railroad, the shopman and the chauffeur who works up enough courage to take unto himself a wife during these days of high costs, Miss Mahoney said.

Old Revolver May Give Murder Clew

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—An old revolver, locked up near the water company, died at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Merritt hospital. Death was due to complications growing out of a chronic case of nephritis, which had troubled Hanson for the past six months.

Hanson was removed from his home, 207 Orange street, to the hospital Wednesday evening, where his condition steadily grew worse. He was attended by Dr. A. M. Smith.

A native of San Francisco, he was 48 years of age at the time of his death. For 27 years he had been an employee of the water company, serving the eastbay district, and worked for it successively under the names of Contra Costa Water company, Peoples Water company and finally East Bay Water company. He was a member of the local lodge of Knights of Pythias.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Kate Hanson; a sister, Miss Ada Hanson; a widow, Mrs. Charlotte Hanson, and a daughter, Miss Louise Hanson. A private interment will be had Monday.

T. E. HANSON DIES
FROM NEPHRITIS

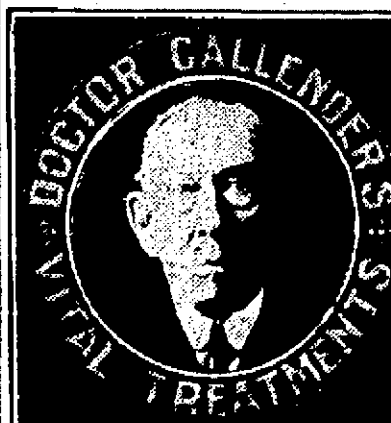

Thomas E. Hanson, for fifteen years employee of the East Bay Water company, died at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Merritt hospital. Death was due to complications growing out of a chronic case of nephritis, which had troubled Hanson for the past six months. Hanson was removed from his home, 207 Orange street, to the hospital Wednesday evening, where his condition steadily grew worse. He was attended by Dr. A. M. Smith.

Betrothal Told by Wearing of Solitaire

ALAMEDA, May 8.—An engagement of interest which was revealed when the bride-elect forgot to remove her betrothal ring, was disclosed Friday afternoon by Miss Martha Hyde, fiancée of Robert Newbegin of San Francisco.

Miss Hyde was among the guests at a tea which Miss Mildred and Miss Edith Meyers gave at their home here. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hyde of this city and is a former University of California student.

The Base Deception Played
Upon Poor Innocent "Patsy"

JOHN WHARRY LEWIS, with the violin he made new like a cat; and "Patsy" longing to set his teeth in the new found enemy.

Musician Makes Fiddle Imitate Cat, and Dog Almost Breaks Up the Show.

"Patsy" is a cat. He's a chagrined pup, as chagrined as a pup can be who finds his been "bunked" by a fiddle and laughed at by an orchestra. Incidentally he almost broke up the show at the American Theater in connection therewith.

"Patsy" is the pet bull of John Wharry Lewis, the American orchestra director. He was peacefully sleeping beneath the stage the other night, when Lewis, before the orchestra went upstairs, carelessly imitated a cat on his G-string. "Meow" said the fiddle. "Woof" roared "Patsy." He started through the door for the orchestra pit—and they just caught him in time.

Now Lewis has to watch his fiddle. "Patsy" seems determined to bite it to the first chance he gets. The whole American staff is watching the feud with great interest—and if Lewis shows up in the orchestra with a new fiddle, there'll be no doubt as to what's happened.—Advertisement.

15 HOMES FOR SALE TODAY

Announcing the opening of Hawthorn Hills, delightful Marin County home colony

Today and tomorrow are the big days in Hawthorn Hills. This beautiful suburban home section is now open to purchasers.

Hawthorn Hills is in the very center of one of California's most wonderful natural gardens—Marin County—and only 55 minutes from San Francisco. In its equipment—paved streets, sidewalks, sewage, electricity and gas—it is city property—but in its environment it is delightfully suburban.

The homes now being built are substantial and comfortable, well appointed, convenient. Hardwood floors, gas, water and electric lights throughout. Lot frontage 50 feet and up—many being much larger.

The distinctive feature of these homes, however, is their moderate price. Values not to be equaled anywhere around the bay cities. Residences are selling at prices ranging between $4000 and $7500—lots with every improvement paid, at about $15 per front foot. Terms make buying a home easier than paying rent.

Today and tomorrow automobiles will meet the electric trains at Pastori. Make tomorrow's holiday a profitable one. Investigate this exceptionally beautiful home tract before too late. A delay will mean missing a real opportunity.

CHAMBER TO RUN CHILDREN'S CAMP

The city interests committee of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday voted to act as sponsor for a public vacation camp for the children of Oakland to be operated during the school vacation. The site of the camp is in the Stanislaus National forest on the Tioga road to the Yosemite valley. The site was leased to the recreation department of the city of Oakland for a vacation camp by the United States Government, but owing to a decision of the city attorney can not be operated on public funds or as a municipal activity.

The committee appointed to devise ways and means for financing the project is headed by D. C. Dutton, chairman. It is planned to operate the camp on a cost basis, with the city contributing a small amount in the high Sierras at a very moderate price. The rate for board and camp, with tent and cot furnished, will be $6 a week.

Motor transportation to the camp, a distance of 150 miles, will be provided for $3 each way. Thus the total cost of a two-week vacation at the camp will be $18. Side trips will be taken from the camp to the Yosemite and other nearby valleys, one of the attractions of the camp is a fine swimming pool in the voluminous river.

The camp will open June 21 and continue for six weeks. It is planned to have boys only at the camp the first two weeks, the second two-week period to be devoted to girls only, and family groups to be accommodated during the last fortnight of the camp. Reservations will be open during the month of May, accommodations being arranged for through the recreation department, 101 City Hall.

Shriners Will Repeat Big Tent Carnival May 17 to 22

The Clarence A. Wortham shows, which never before showed Northern California until April, has won laurels which makes the big amusement family happy. Ashmees Shrine has re-engaged the big traveling amusement city for a return date here for the week starting Monday, May 17, to 22.

This trip, the big carnival will exhibit on Fifth-fourth avenue and East Fourteenth street. The reason for its locating there is that the grounds on San Pablo avenue where they previously showed are remote from a large part of the city and the new location was selected in order to accommodate the many residents of the eastern part of the community. The shows will open there Monday.

GARDEN FETE FOR BABY HOSPITAL

The C. D. Hume gardens in Piedmont avenue presented a festive scene yesterday afternoon, when scores of children assembled for the garden fete given by the Junior Auxiliary of the Baby Hospital Association, assisted by Mrs. Hume, Mrs. Percy Walker, Mrs. Thomas Arthur Ricketts, Mrs. Frank J. Strangman and Miss Marion Hanson.

Girls from Miss Hume's, Miss Ricketts' and Miss Hanson's schools formed the "leaves" of the association as the different coteries have called themselves. The proceeds of the garden fete were for the purchase of the colorful balloons, popcorn, peanuts or ice cream cones.

Among the girls who were attendants upon the Queen of the May, Little Barbara Townsend, were the Misses Miriam Townsend, Florence Trask, Mary Thomas, Evelyn Reedling, Grace Thomas and others.

Raymond Hume served as bearer of the crown, and C. J. Walker Jr. served as one of the judges. Little Samuel and Ruth Walker gave a special dance number.

Linden leaves—members of Miss Hume's school—had charge of the doll collection. Among those who sold balloons were Misses Frances Sherman, Carolyn Highland, Cherry Stevenson, Barbara Olney, Abbie Taft, Mary Eastman, Eleanor Graves, The Maple Leaves, or Miss Hume's girls, arranged in a cabinet program, in which participated the Misses Geraldine Gannon, Helen Carr, Jane Shaw, Betty Robbins and Phyllis Kerr.

There were ponies and donkeys for the little tots to ride, fortune telling, stunts, many big balloons and face painting, and a variety of other amusements, the proceeds from which will be added to the fund to aid the little children who are cured for by the Baby Hospital association.

Famo Dissolves Dandruff Scale and Destroys Bacilli

After the first application of Famo, you should not have a flake of dandruff.

If the case is stubborn, a little may remain, but not for long.

The germs will be dead and dying—the new growth begins.

Some of the cases are so remarkable that they cannot be reported in print, because they would tax your credulity. You must learn from personal experience, and the experience of your friends. Famo contains no alcohol to dry the scalp and produce gray hairs. As Famo requires no scalp massage, its application is simple.

Every member of the family should use it every day.

Famo is sold at all toilet goods counters in two sizes—a small size at 35 cents, and an extra large bottle for $1.00.

Your money returned if you are not satisfied.

Seborrhea is the medical name for a morbidly increased flow from the sebaceous glands of the scalp. The seborrheic excretion forms in scales or flakes and is commonly known as dandruff.

From the laboratories of F. A. Thompson & Company, Manufacturing Pharmacists, Detroit, Mich.

Healthy, Beautiful Hair

It is, we repeat, like renewing the youth of the scalp—giving back to your hair its early strength and beauty.

Famo will keep the head continuously clean—the hair fresh, full of life, soft, smooth and glossy.

Survivors of Tragedy on Trach Sue Hines

SAN JOSE, May 8.—Walker D. Hines, as chief of the country's railroads, was made defendant in two big damage suits here today.

Charles F. Lehmkuhl brought suit for $150,000 and Nathaniel Hawthorn sued for $25,000. Lehmkuhl's back was broken and both of Hawthorn's legs were broken in an accident May 19 last year, when their auto was struck by a Southern Pacific train.

Two other men in the auto were killed.

The suits allege the engineer of the train was negligent and the train was speeding unduly.

One British Soldier
Remains Identified

LONDON, May 8.—Out of the millions of Britishers who fought in the war only one soldier remains unidentified. He is a private who lost his memory through shell-shock and no trace can be found of his relatives.

SOCIAL NOTES
AT MT. DIABLO

The home of the Diablo Country Club is a most charming spot now by reason of the annual exhibition or show of her most wonderful productions. The summer homes and grounds are being made tidy for the season's occupation, and scarcely a day passes without a lunch or dinner party at the clubhouse. The grounds of the club never looked more beautiful than now.

May 2 the golfers of the club held a tournament. The first prize for gentlemen was won by Dr. C. H. Perry and second prize by Dr. J. J. Pfeiffer. Mrs. C. A. Stacey won the first prize for ladies and Mrs. C. H. Perry the second prize.

The same day a series of games were had for children which afforded a lot of entertainment for the grown-ups as well as sport for the youngsters. Prizes of thrift stamps in amount of $2 and $1 lots were awarded the following winners: Cameron Wolf, Gordon Langdon, Reese Wolf, Bud Oliver, John Farnum, Catherine Johnson, Barbara Lee, Mary Oliver, Helen C. Virginia Nichols, Jane Langdon, Mary Dorothy Pratt, Mary Langdon, Lois Weinmann, Catherine Coogan and Margaret Baldwin.

There was quite a number of week-end parties at the club, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Coogan, who entertained a party of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Perry and family, Edwin Oliver and family, C. A. Stacey and family, G. W. Rodolph, wife and daughter, P. P. Cutting and wife, and J. E. Miller, Captain Husted and family, George Jensen and wife.

Roy L. Pratt and family have taken rooms for the month.

Fred Wolf of Berkeley has purchased the Hart cottage and taken possession of it.

George W. McNear has bought the Burgess place and is moving in. This is one of the most beautiful homes in Contra Costa county.

Pray Thorne and wife gave a dinner party to twelve friends at the club last Sunday, and this week will give a barbecue dinner to a party of twenty in the shade of the trees on their beautiful grounds.

Friday of this week Mr. and Mrs. George T. Wright gave a luncheon at the club at which the following named were guests: Mrs. H. A. Prole, Henry H. Shires, Mrs. Robert Swayne, Mrs. P. A. Jordan, Mrs. S. J. Conger, Mrs. A. L. Crane, Mrs. George Plummer, Mrs. Florence Landsberger, Mrs. Annie C. Teller, P. S. Teller, Mrs. J. L. Milton, Mrs. A. H. Haight, Mrs. E. J. Holt, Clara L. Warren, Mrs. O. C. Haslett, Mrs. Harry Shires, Mrs. Fredrick Maurer and Mrs. Cedric Wright.

Following the luncheon Mrs. Cedric Wright, whose skill and accomplishments on the violin is rarely equaled, gave the following program:

Poem Fibrah
Swing song Ethel Barnes
Chant Cameron White
Ballet music Schubert-Kreisler
Gypsy dances Natchez
Accompanied by Mrs. Horace Prole.

After this rare treat the party passed the afternoon about the grounds.

Hayward Plans May Fete Friday
Picnic and Field Events Planned

HAYWARD, May 8.—Preparations are in progress for the grammar school May fete to be given Friday, May 14, on the high school grounds. The whole town is preparing to make it a holiday, close the business houses and make it a unanimous picnic.

The parade will start from the grammar school at 9:30 a. m. and led by a half dozen small children mounted on ponies under the charge of Trustee Pereria, followed by the school band under the direction of Prof. Hollingshead. Then will follow twelve hundred school children from the schools of the whole district. The drum corps will bring up in the rear.

The line of march will probably be from the front gate of the school along B street to Main, along Main to C, along C to Castro, along Castro to B, up B to the grammar school gate, counter march to Main, along Main to A, along A to the Boulevard, thence to the high school.

The morning program will consist of songs, folk dances, competitive marching, calisthenics and May-pole dances. Every child in the school will be in something.

All the children and the public have been asked to bring their lunches. A few things will be sold by the school.

The events are: Basket ball, relay, running broad jump, high jump, chinling, and 60 and 80-yard dashes. The weights are 85 pounds and below; 86 to 105 pounds; 106 to 125 pounds; 126 pounds and up.

About 125 Hayward boys will compete with as many from San Leandro and San Leandro.

Rotarians Headed
by Frank Naylor

BERKELEY, May 8.—Frank Naylor, president of the First National bank, will head the Berkeley Rotary club for the coming year as the result of the annual election of officers held yesterday by the newly elected board of directors. Naylor succeeds Robert Spruill, controller of the University of California.

Other officers chosen are: Vice president, E. Howard Baxter; secretary, H. S. Howard; treasurer, J. A. Morris.

Installation ceremonies will be held by the Rotarians on the evening of Wednesday, May 26, when wives and families of the members will be guests at a dinner at the Hotel Whitecourt.

Almost 2,000,000 barrels of oil are lost annually through burning of wells.

New Farm Inn Is Opened at Hayward

HAYWARD, May 8.—The "Ye Daisy Farm Inn" was opened this week by H. C. Cutting at East Fourteenth street and Orleans avenue with Paul Oppenmann as manager.

Frank Oliver, foreman of the Meek ranch, has resumed his duties after an attack of pneumonia.

Mrs. Eva Parsons of Plattsburgh, N. Y., is visiting her cousins, the Misses Mary and Sadie Miner. They are to leave soon on a tour of Southern California and the Grand Canyon.

S. C. Smith, publisher of the Hayward Review, has returned from Oregon. His mother, who was ill there, is reported improved.

COYOTES, POISON PROVE FATAL TO OVER 500 GOATS

SAN ANDREAS, May 8.—Having lost over 250 goats and more than that number of kids during the winter, Theodore Sanford and Andrew Dahl, young goat raisers of the Banner Mill section, have become discouraged and will sell out and engage in other business. Some of the goats were killed by coyotes, but the great majority fell victims to some kind of poisonous weed, it is believed. At present they have only 650 goats and 21 kids.

Suffrage Endorsed;
Cigarette War Began

DES MOINES, Ia., May 8.—The Methodist church today endorsed suffrage for women. The general conference of the church in session here unanimously adopted a resolution urging the House of Representatives of the Delaware legislature to pass the suffrage amendment. Rev. Hugh Johnson, South Dakota, introduced the resolution.

Anti-cigarette legislation was discussed by the conference this morning following introduction of a resolution urging State laws to prohibit the sale and manufacture of cigarettes. The measure was referred to a committee.

Food Storage to Be Lecture Topic

BERKELEY, May 8.—Professor Edwin J. Lea, director of the State pure food laboratory at the University of California, will address a meeting of the Berkeley State Housewives' League at 2 o'clock Monday. In the council chamber at the city hall, "The Storage of Food Products" will be his subject.

Mrs. W. T. Cleveland, president of the league, announces that money will be received from a prize-winning committee making a tour of the various stores of the city and also recommendations for meeting raises in the price of milk and bread. A case of fresh eggs will be sold at the meeting, coming directly from producer to consumer.

of present facilities at the C. L. Best Gas Traction Company in San Leandro is necessary because of the increasing demand for "Best" Tractors.

Enlargement of the plant and equipment is made possible by issuing $1,250,000 in 7% cumulative preferred stock to be sold at a price yielding 7 1/2%.

Exceptional earnings of the company during the last six years and orders already on hand for 1920 emphasize the soundness of this stock as an investment.

For the six years ending December 31, 1919, the net earnings of the company have averaged 27.06%. For 1919 the net profits were more than $340,000 and for the first three months of the present year $175,000, and orders on hand assure a net profit of more than $750,000 for 1920.

Among the many attractive features of the stock are the following: It is non-assessable; exempt from personal property tax in California; exempt from Federal Normal Income Tax; dividends payable quarterly; net quick assets must be maintained at $100 a share; total net assets must be maintained at $200 a share; and the formation January 1, 1923, of a sinking fund of 10% of the annual surplus earnings to purchase preferred stock if obtainable below the call price.

At $93.50 this stock will net 7 1/2%

Thatcher Manufacturing Company

Closed First Mortgage 7% Convertible Sinking Fund Gold Bonds
Dated April 1, 1920 Due April 1, 1930

Redeemable as a whole or any part at the option of the Company on any interest date on sixty days' notice at 105 and accrued interest. Interest payable May 1st and November 1st. Principal and interest payable at the office of the Trustee. Coupon Bonds in denominations of $1000, $500 and $100; registrable as to principal only.

The company will agree to pay interest without deduction for any Federal Income Tax, not in excess of 2 per cent which it may lawfully pay at the source.

BUSINESS Thatcher Manufacturing Company, incorporated in 1889, has for many years been the largest manufacturer of milk bottles in the United States, producing more than 90% of the milk bottles sold in the United States. The plants of the Company have a capacity for the production of over 150,000,000 milk bottles and 75,000,000 other bottles per year.

PROPERTY The Company owns modern manufacturing plants located at Elmira, Lockport and Dunkirk, New York; Streator, Illinois; Kane, Pennsylvania; Mt. Vernon, Ohio; Parkersburg, Clarksburg and Cedar Grove, West Virginia, and Winchester, Indiana. It has the exclusive right to make milk bottles by both the Owens Bottle Machine and the Hartford-Fairmont Machine, the only automatic bottle machines devised.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE Proceeds from the sale of these Bonds will be used to complete the Company's purchase of Travis Glass Company, Lockport Glass Company, Essex Glass Company, Woodbury Glass Company and the milk bottle business of J. T. & A. Hamilton Glass Company, and to provide additional capital for its rapidly growing business.

SECURITY These Bonds are secured by an absolute First Closed Mortgage upon all the property of the Company and upon all of the Common Stock of the Woodbury Glass Company, subject only to a lien of the Mortgage now outstanding for $149,500 on the Elmira plant of the Company.

ASSETS The manufacturing plants at December 31, 1919, show a value, after reserve for depreciation, in excess of $4,453,360. This is equal to more than two times the total bonds outstanding.

EARNINGS Net earnings for the year ending December 31, 1919, after reserve for depreciation, amounted to $577,351, or equal to over three and three-quarters times the annual interest charges on all Bonds outstanding. It is estimated that net earnings for the year ending December 31, 1920, will amount to more than $850,000.

SINKING FUND An annual sinking fund of $50,000 will be payable during the first year, $100,000 for each of the five years thereafter and $150,000 per annum thereafter until maturity.

MANAGEMENT The present financial plans will result in no change in management, which has been in successful operation since the inception of the business.

All legal details concerning the validity of these Bonds have been passed upon by Berkman, Menken & Grismore, for the Bankers; and by Mandelkern, Perelman and Schuman for the Company. Certificates have been made by Messrs. Coates and Burdard, and the American Appraisal Company.

Offered at 95 and accrued interest, to yield about 7 1/2%.

Invader Oil and Refining Co.

(An Oklahoma Corporation)

In Three Years

THREE YEARS AGO—One 40-acre lease with four small oil wells. TODAY—Over 25,000 acres of leases, 90 producing wells, 1500 barrel refinery, and other properties and equipment totaling MILLIONS OF DOLLARS IN VALUE.

In the stupendous development campaign that has been under way for a dozen years and more in that vast territory known as the Mid-Continent oil field there has perhaps never been a record of achievement established by one company which could surpass that which stands to the credit of the Invader Oil & Refining Company of Oklahoma. Indeed the progress of this company has been so very remarkable that it has abundantly justified its title as "The fastest growing oil company in America."

But perhaps the most gratifying evidence of success from the viewpoint of the investor is the fact that in this brief period the Invader Company from its earnings has paid to its stockholders 49 cash dividends, and these dividend payments at the present time are at the rate of 2% monthly, with a strong probability of an early and substantial increase.

A FAIR OUTLOOK.

Announcement by the United States Shipping Board and by certain centers of shipbuilding activity that the peak of ship construction has passed, does not apply to those plants on the Oakland waterfront and estuary. This harbor is, fortunately, so situated as to be the center of Pacific shipbuilding and repairing and with the facilities now here, and being constructed, will be in a position to supply the needs of the Pacific carrying trade for years to come.

There are fewer shipyards in operation today than when the war closed and the chances are that the number will grow less. Those mushroom concerns which sprang up in various localities not particularly adapted to the business, but which aided in meeting the wartime need, are now turning their plants and their organizations to other fields. Ships cannot be built in every port.

It is significant that in Oakland the yards have contracts ahead to keep busy for the next year and a half that orders are pending for still more ships. The local plants are adapting themselves to the peace conditions and are adding to their equipment with a view to meet all possible demands. The first unit of a great seven-pontoon float-drydock has reached Oakland from Seattle, where the great Skinner & Eddy plant has closed, and within a short time this dock, representing an expenditure of more than $10,000,000, will be in operation. It will have a lifting capacity of 20,000 tons and will enable its owners to build and repair the largest of craft.

It is because Oakland and Alameda have the natural facilities for shipbuilding and because the owners of the local yards have been foresighted and courageous enough to stake millions on the future of the business that the center of the industry has moved here to stay.

The results are already apparent. With the completion of the contracts for the federal shipping board, Oakland is not to pause or cease labors like so many of the other places, but will continue to build great tankers and cargo vessels for private contract. There are over $30,000,000 in orders for vessels now in the hands of Oakland concerns. In addition, some of the greatest of navigation companies have announced the determination to build ships as soon as the new conditions reveal their exact requirements.

The shipbuilding industry looks to the next two years with every confidence. All that it is asking is that legislative attention be given to some of the problems that have arisen with the greatly increased merchant marine. In San Francisco harbor the shipbuilders would like to see a lowering of the towage and other harbor costs. They ask a revision of maritime laws to give the American shipowner opportunities equal that of the foreigner, and they would have something done to correct a freight anomaly that means steel may be shipped from New York to Japan for less than from New York to Oakland.

The senatorial quiz of the Admirals in the investigation that Admiral Sims charges started is highly illuminating. Admiral Sims has been corroborated by Admiral Benson in the representation that the navy was unprepared; and being pressed for a reason why, as the naval head, he did not hurry matters. Admiral Benson answers that there was a "general feeling" that the United States would not be drawn into the war; that the result of the general election of 1916 was accepted as a sort of endorsement of President Wilson's idea that we were "too proud to fight." It will be remembered that one of the slogans of the campaign was, "He kept us out of the war." The general idea behind this is what Admiral Benson seems to have been alluding to. What subsequently happened, the memory adds much to the popular comprehension of the events of four years ago.

A report from Consul General James A. Smith of Calcutta, dated February 24, 1920, to the consular bureau at Washington, gives the total yield of the 1919-20 sugar crop of India as 3,991,000 tons, as compared with 2,370,000 for the previous season, an increase of twenty-seven percent. This is not a promise of an immediate decrease in the price of sugar in the United States. But it does show that a considerable contribution to the relief of the alleged sugar shortage is to be made within the next few months. If a few other sugar growing countries would do as well as India the market manipulators would experience more difficulty in extorting profits.

REVOLT MOVES SWIFTLY.

Reports of progress by the Mexican revolutionaries tell of success, that is puzzling in its bloodless simplicity. Latest telegrams state that a rebel force under the command of General Benjamin Hill has taken Mexico City, capital of the republic and residence of President Carranza. Other news is to the effect that in the southern half of the republic Carranza forces have been overthrown with surprising ease. Tehuantepec, Oaxaca and Vera Cruz have gone over to the new order.

Only two conclusions are possible from the events of the last three weeks. Either the whole Carranza administration was a fabric of disloyalty and treason to its chief or the conditions under which the members worked were such as to lead them to seize the first opportunity to destroy it and establish a new regime. The difference between the two assumptions is movement and the other a spontaneous uprising when the chance of success arrived.

In the light of available facts, which are scanty, the latter seems the more probable. Carranza officials, military and civil, apparently had stuck with him in the hope that at the general election prescribed by the Mexican constitution a new administration would be placed in power by lawful means. But when they saw the president was scheming to dictate the results of the election and to defeat its real purposes they fell away from him. In this their loyalty was to Mexico first and above all other considerations.

Whatever may be the inner secrets of this latest revolution in Mexico, it seems to have achieved its objects so quickly as to find the managers of it without a plan to exploit their successes. No agreement among the revolutionary leaders as to who will be the provisional president has been announced. General Obregon, Governor de Huerta, General Calles, and half a dozen other conspicuous anti-Carranzistas are mentioned but exclusively as pushing the fight to oust the present dictator.

When the leaders get around to the point of selecting the chief of the new government not so much unanimity of judgment and effort is to be expected.

The move to provide nature guides for Yosemite Park is to be particularly commended. The visitor to that great natural wonder, if he elects, will be chaperoned by naturalists, who will explain the attractions of the region, the wild life that abounds there, and many other things that would go unconsidered otherwise. Everybody may have studied natural history at school from a book, in most instances being imperfectly interested; but it will be very different in the open, with a mind sophisticated in science to explain as progress is made and with the wonders that are treated of right at hand. Not only will there be a popular diffusion of knowledge, but there will be an enjoyment in a Yosemite tour not heretofore open to the tourist.

A despatch from Chicago predicts a "slump" in the prices of cotton, woolen and silk fabrics within the next few weeks. At times we have had reports of slumps in food products, and many ultimate consumers have turned to the commercial columns for confirmation, to find that eggs had fallen off two cents a dozen, or that butter had come down a cent and a quarter a pound. It is hoped that any slump that may impend in clothing will profit the consumer as well as the dealer. And it would seem to be possible that a drop in prices is imminent, as there must be great stores of raw materials, and even of manufactured goods, that the high prices have prevented moving freely.

A pathetic election day figure was the former saloonist who closed his soft drink parlor out of force of habit.

With Ireland as an applicant for admission into the league of nations someone is apt to get a cold deal.

BUSINESS REGULATION.

Bernard M. Baruch, former head of the war industries board, in submitting evidence to the Senate committee investigating the cost of shoes, proposes a general plan of government regulation of industry in order to "standardize production, eliminate waste and stimulate efficiency with a view to reducing costs." His plan is practically to make permanent the supervision of industry which the government maintained during the war. He does not consider the plan paternalistic, but holds that much could be accomplished under it for the relief of the people and at the same time not seriously interfere with the legitimate activities of business.

It cannot be denied that the idea has many attractive features. There is a vast field for the elimination of waste in production by which costs could be reduced. Also it would be possible to cut out excess profits, many lines. If the war industries board were at this moment in office and possessed of the authority it exercised during the war, there is no doubt that the price of many articles of necessity would be lower. But whether such a policy would prove desirable as a permanent arrangement is another matter. The effect of great majority of business men is to resist the idea of government supervision and control of industry and commerce should be released in every respect as quickly as possible. They hold that this will be a restoration of normal conditions. If it were seriously proposed to adopt a policy of government supervision of business, it would evoke a very strong protest from every part of the country. With the increase of production throughout the world will come a resumption of keen competition, which in the end is the strongest force that could be provided. —Washington Post.

NOTES and COMMENT

A pronounced instance of profiteering that is which Hartford real estate speculators purchased the Mark Twain residence for $55,000, and ostensibly planned to raze it and erect a tenement on the site, which had the effect of arousing a nation to the desirability of preserving it as a shrine. Money is being raised to this end, but the speculators are holding the property at $350,000. There may well be national irritation over this, but it is important to preserve this memento of a great American.

The prospect of a shortage of gasoline has started up inventive geniuses. Here in California a wood-alcohol concoction is declared to have been perfected, and an Italian scientist is reported to have done something with liquefied hydrogen—both of which are represented to be vastly more powerful and much cheaper than gasoline. But if somebody will surely hit upon something that will simply equal gasoline, in view of the prospect of its diminished production, automobile circles will rest easier.

The Duchess of Clermont, on her return to dear Paris, indulged in the observation that "American food pills." Some Americans may have commented in some such strain of late, but if they have it probably had reference more to the cost than to the quality. But the Duchess has a discrimination. She expected Virginia ham and California fruit, and to the latter at least there can be no question as to the validity of any claim she may put forth to being an epicure.

It isn't a day to celebrate, but it is one that should not be forgotten by civilized peoples—the anniversary of the sinking of the Lusitania. On the seventh of May, 1918, the world was shocked by the news of this awful crime. Much has since occurred that was black and dreadful, but that stands out as the peak of world crimes.

The wife of the President of France has refused to accept the $5000 hat tendered by 3000 American miners and constructed from material contributed from each of the 48 States. What a splendid insignia it would make for a suffrage presidential campaign to say in the ring: And by the way, so far there is no such candidate.

"Carrying coals to Newcastle" has long been a saying. The advertisements of imported jams from Australia are very much on the same order. The sugar situation for the moment may justify it, but it is difficult to think of anything else that would, California is the natural jam country of the world, as it has demonstrated most abundantly.

That the surviving members of the California Division, Grand Army of the Republic, went on their final parade at Santa Barbara at their recent convention is a tragic announcement. But as the civil struggle in which they took part ended more than fifty-five years ago, it cannot be expected that they are in very able marching trim.

The Sonoma's 1137 sacks of spuds from Australia may not be permitted there and the cost of this necessary detail of our life is very much increased. They were not put aboard in accordance with the rules of the Agricultural Department. We have to be careful about such chances as a potato disease, but we also have to eat.

All the railroads want freight rates raised. They are somewhat unanimous in the amount—about 25 percent. The public has been educated by regenerators' political speakers and others to a plane where they esteem it a duty to seek railroads and the effort to go up with the general increased cost is not easy. Everybody gets a ready raise except the railroads.

Housing problems reach even to the Philippines, where it was understood that the warily built houses, or at best hilly primitive ones. But we must remember that they have been undergoing the civilizing process, and have learned of some of the burdens that civilization brings.

Governor Edwards of New Jersey has not abated his determination to try for the presidential nomination, but is busy for a wet plank get poorer and poorer and the chances are that his footing will be dubious.

Perhaps Mr. Hoover is contemplating election when he says for publication, "I believe that the people have a right to elect their president without having some one put over on them." This has a sort of ominous tone.

Missouri is to send two women and six men to the Republican convention. They will go uninducted. This Missouri is maintaining her proverbial attitude. She has to be shown.

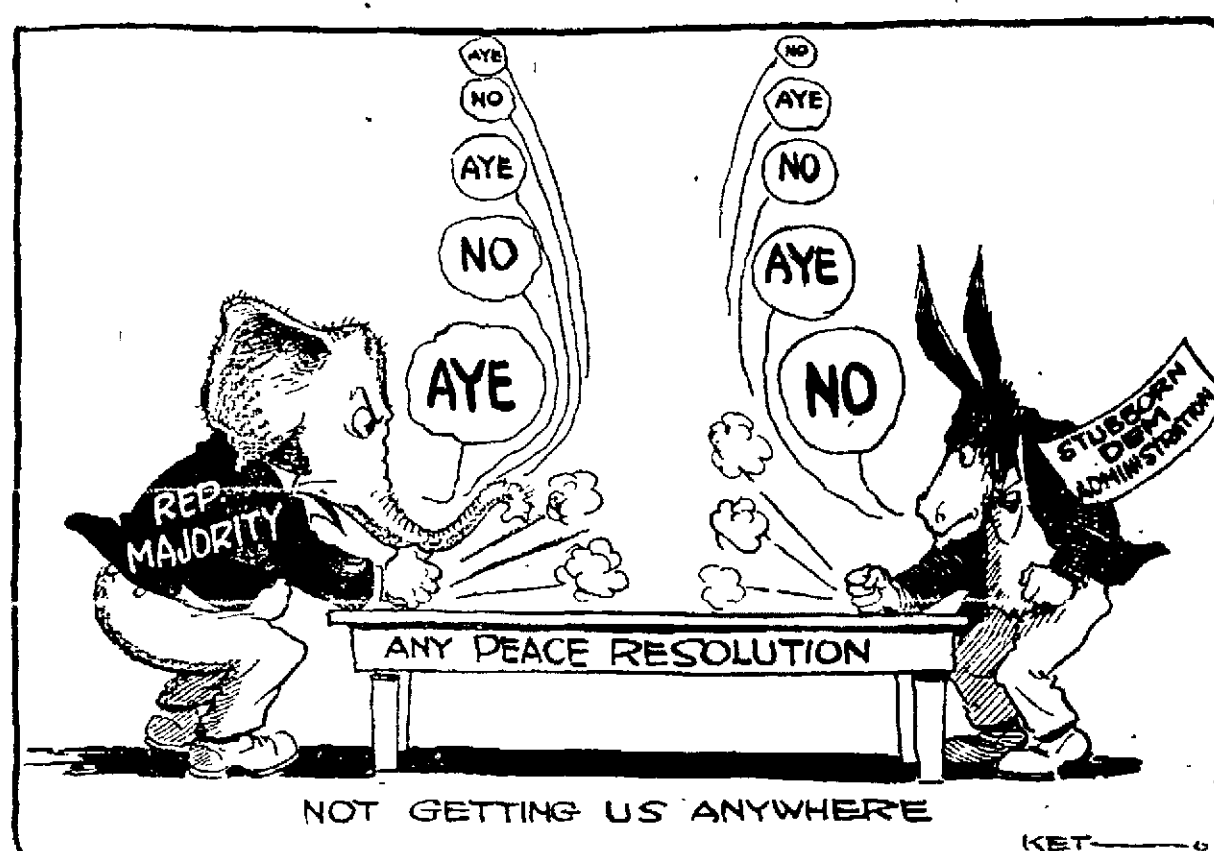

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

It would be odd if in response to the numerous editorial efforts to compare with Mars a response should come in such words as: "Mind your own business." "This is our busy day." "Shiny in your own side," or even a profane expression of contemptuous indifference, as if from a superior to an inferior race, or from reds to profits. Sacramento Bee.

The annual round-up held at the ranch in the Phoebe valley will take place the 24th of May. The program will include bull riding, roping, horse racing. The Phoebe band has been engaged for the day and many of the best riders in California will be in attendance. Martinez Gazette.

With the final relinquishment by the government of all claims on claim Fremont and the official closing of the camp, one more ghost of romance has gone to become a common tradition along with the redwood trees. The Phoebe valley, the Stanford residence and Frenchman's Tower.—Palo Alto Times.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK

WHAT WILL THE HARVEST BE?

By CLARENCE OUSLEY

Formerly Assistant Secretary of Agriculture.

"What will the harvest be?" The anxiety behind the inquiry is not so great as it was during the war, for then there was serious question of a sufficient food supply to sustain civilization until it could beat down the barbarism into which untried Germany was plunged by ambition. We are just now getting full information of the crisis of 1917-18 when the Allies had supplies for only a few weeks and the submarine was perilously near to effecting conquest by starvation.

It was the United States production chiefly that saved the situation which cannot possibly be repeated except by the favor of Providence in the form of weather more propitious for crops than we have ever known. The limiting factor, as will be shown, is labor; the only substitution, which may be realized in part, is the increased use of labor-saving farm machinery. But first let us take a glance at the European situation, for it is Europe's lack, rather than ours, that maintains the food crisis.

In the second year of peace the world is still concerned about agricultural production because a large part of Europe is yet more or less hungry and because there is a scarcity of all consumable and usable commodities. Supply does not equal demand; the populations of the earth are merely "getting by." In some countries there is want through sheer inability to produce or to buy; in others, like ours, there is a hectic process of production buying with inflated money. There is no equilibrium, no stability, no abundance of the things that men eat and wear and use—and these are the real factors that count for human comfort and commercial and industrial success.

Our wheat and rye acreage is reduced by nearly 25 per cent from the record acreage of 1919, which was seeded in the autumn of 1918 when we were preparing for another year of war. Much land had gone to wheat that otherwise would have been in pasture or in other crops because as a war measure we needed wheat more than any other cereal. It remains to be seen how much of last year's wheat acreage will go to corn and other crops now. I imagine, for labor is now the great concern and other crops require labor for cultivation as well as for planting and harvesting.

The farmers lost their due share of labor during the war; they have not recovered it or in equal proportion to other industries. During the war they worked their women and children because their boys were in the trenches; their boys are not in the trenches now, they no longer feel the obligation to make "the world safe for democracy"; they do not relish the idea of working long hours when city workers are enjoying short hours. They remember the difficulties, high costs and occasional losses in last year's crops due to severity of labor and they are not likely to undertake what they cannot reasonably hope to accomplish. As they proceed with spring planting they will remember that some of their corn was still in the shock in March.

On the other hand prices are still high, with little prospect of substantial decline, and the farmer will be tempted to take some chance on labor—how much chance only the official reports of acreage will disclose. That the total acreage will be greater than last year appears now to be impossible; that it will be as great is improbable. The yield can be greater only by reason of ideal weather, and the chances are at least ten to one against that possibility.

The single hope of acreage approximately equal to that of 1919 is the use of improved farm machinery, especially the tractor. In 1917 there were approximately 35,000 farm tractors in use; today there are about 75,000, or about two times as many. The tractor does not displace, or take the place of, but supplements man power, principally in breaking and harvesting. Motor cultivation is nearly negligible.

There is no way of knowing precisely to what extent the tractor has increased or may increase acreage. Our winter wheat and rye acreage is reduced by nearly 25 per cent from the record acreage of 1919, which was seeded in the autumn of 1918 when we were preparing for another year of war. Much land had gone to wheat that otherwise would have been in pasture or in other crops because as a war measure we needed wheat more than any other cereal. It remains to be seen how much of last year's wheat acreage will go to corn and other crops now. I imagine, for labor is now the great concern and other crops require labor for cultivation as well as for planting and harvesting.

THE JUDGE SLAPPED HIM ON THE WHIST

Killars, at large in the world, are we. Under-grads of the proud U. C. Modern types of the classic Mars Turning loose in our high-power cars. And mamma says with a smile that's gay.
"Our algebras got his man today." And papa says with a gentle cough, "I'll speak to the judge and get him off."
—TOM BIGBEE.

WILD-WOOD FLOWERS

Spring is awaking her own in the wood.
With mingled odors of leaves and earth.
And trillium lily one tremor of light.
Flowers that smile from their birth.

He loved the hidden recess of the wood.
Where velvet moss by the elves was laid.
And silken bells swayed in a fairy-like tune.
But only his ear ever caught the faint tune.
His lure to the heart of the glade.

In dells Elysian still do they ring?
The same flowers open? And, does he see
The crocus and tremulous maiden-hair?
The azure star-grass, is it glimmering there?
Where he is waiting for me?
—KATHERINE C. SANDERS.
Berkeley, May, 1920.

But we are safe in the view that without these 350,000 tractors the acreage this year would be sharply reduced. With the further development of motor cultivators hereafter, we may maintain production with the decreased supply of farm labor, but so long as present industrial and labor conditions prevail there is no reason to anticipate a surplus of staple agricultural products.—From Commerce and Finance, New York.

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

Wrinkles Real Muscular Habits Overcome by Care

By DR. LEONARD K. MINSBERG, A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University)

Wrinkles are muscular habits. What you do, you think, and what you feel, you do. Your flesh is but a mirror of your deeds done and undone. The latter being your thoughts, behavior is not all in the doing. A lot of it is suppressed behind closed doors. It is all of these which show as crows feet, furrowed brow, pinched mouth and taut chin.

To be cured of all wrinkles is like being freed from all doubt, namely, to be so free, flabby, spineless, thoughtless, harmless and happy that you have no hidden ambitions, wishes, thoughts, longings or aims. If you have any of these, then you need must have some wrinkles. The muscle fibres and their groupings are necessarily separated in bundles and strands, according to their activities or attempted but suppressed ones.

Hypocrisy and insincerity, venom and jealousy, show very quickly in certain lines. Persons who read character by the face often do so unconsciously by lines and wrinkles.

Persons who are honest, cheerful and frank have what is known as an "open countenance." They have none of the lines and wrinkles of worry, grief, dishonesty, insincerity and hypocrisy.

Cheerfulness and a sweet spirit, together with sunlight and fresh air and an athletic life, free you from wrinkles more quickly than almost anything else.

Massage and application of creams, lotions and ice help some to tone up your complexion and bring a copious blood supply to the parts massaged without breaking down the fat which underlies your skin. To reduce this effect a firm, light touch must be used.

Facial massage should always be done with an upward movement to prevent the muscles from sagging. Before beginning the massage your face should be thoroughly cleansed with soap and warm water. Omit the usual cold rinsing water.

Wring a face towel out of hot water and put it lightly over your face, folding it over and over and your nose as well as the nostrils exposed for breathing. Press it closer and closer until it cools. Remove this and have another towel wrung out of hot water ready to apply. After applying several such towels dip your fingers in a massage cream. A good one is made as follows:

Rosewater 4 ounces
Almond oil 1 ounce
Spermaceti 1 ounce
White wax 1 ounce
Orange flower, lilac or violet water may be substituted for the rosewater, and the addition of one drachm of tincture of benzoin or half a drachm of salicylic acid will prevent the cream from becoming rancid.

Use the cream in the corners of your eyes, where laughing wrinkles are apt to accumulate. Placing your thumbs firmly on the points of your jaw bones, begin a light but firm circling movement at the corners of your eyes with the two forefingers of each hand. Use this movement thoroughly to rub in the cold cream. Then stroke the wrinkles upward and outward. Be careful not to use too heavy a touch or you may do more harm than good.

Again dip your fingers in the cold cream and with your thumb in the same position begin an outward stroking motion under your eyes with your two forefingers. Use a short, jerky movement on your face. The value of massage treatment lies in the slow, steady pressure. Follow the orbit of the eye, and each stroke beyond the laughing wrinkles.

Wear a rubber bathing cap when massaging your face with cold cream to keep your hair from becoming greasy. Your forehead may be massaged after your eyes. If you have perpendicular wrinkles between your eyebrows they should be massaged thus:

With your thumbs firmly placed just in front of your eyes, massage the lines upward and outward with your fingers. A circular motion should be used on the lateral wrinkles of your forehead, much like that employed for the laughing wrinkles.

In massaging the lines about your mouth you should very gently pinch the parts as you massage with an upward lift, though taking care not to stretch your skin. Use only the stroking movement. The upward movement has a tendency to make these muscles, which are comparatively unsupported, fall. This stroking movement should also be used in massaging from chin to temple to eradicate the fine little lines that come into your skin with increasing years if they are neglected. Your throat must also be massaged with the upward stroking movement.

After you have finished, and while your skin is fresh, wipe off any superfluous cold cream and go over your face with a lump of wrapped ice.

SALVATION ARMY IN FUND DRIVE

The drive for $60,000 to be raised in Alameda county for the construction here of a $125,000 Salvation Army maternity and rescue home to supplant the one at Beulah station, near Mills college, will open tomorrow when a large number of solicitors will be put in the field.

The other $55,000 to build the home will be raised in similar campaigns throughout the State. All of the authorized workers will wear a red workers' badge in order that the public will not be deceived by those who are not authorized to collect funds. They will also have signed certificates to show contributors where suspicion as to their authority is aroused.

Headquarters for the drive will be maintained at the Elks' club, according to Herman Johnson, president of the Oakland Rotary club, who is managing the drive. Already $2000 has been subscribed.

Mrs. H. J. Platt is chairman of the women workers' committee, and is assisted by the following: Mrs. Fred Hall, Mrs. A. B. Glasier, Mrs. Carmen Moore, Mrs. H. C. Sayre, Mrs. O. F. Olsen, Mrs. George Samuels, Mrs. G. W. Simpson, Mrs. C. Chambers, Mrs. L. C. Lewis, Mrs. Charles Luskell, Mrs. Helen Hughes, Mrs. H. C. Hooper, Mrs. A. M. Emerson, Mrs.

Noted Leader for Concerts Greek Theater Music Arranged

When the series of military band concerts begins at the Greek theater in the University of California, in Berkeley, next Saturday night, the leader's baton will be in the hands of Pandemonium Harry Payson, one of the most widely-known army band directors in the world.

Under whose supervision the Overseas band was assembled from among the finest instrumentalists who served with the colors in France in the late war, Payson went to the front as the leader of the famous 57th Co. of Artillery band. This organization, composed almost entirely of volunteers, was one of the first to reach the other side, and saw continuous service until after the armistice was signed.

The schedule of summer night concerts arranged by Director Samuel F. Hume of the Greek theater includes the following: Mrs. M. A. Levo, Mrs. John N. Porter, Miss Minnie Palmer and Dr. Merrill Helbig.

opens the series on the evening of May 15. It will continue until June 19, one concert being given each Saturday night. A vocal soloist will appear each evening. The advance sale of tickets is reported large.

Fish-Game Bureau To Aid Americans

MONTREAL, Que., May 8 (United Press).—In future when American sportsmen wish to visit the wilds of this province in quest of game or fish, a bureau here will be at their disposal where guides, game wardens and inspectors will be on hand to tell the Nimrods where they are "biting best" and where the game comes in droves, waiting for the pull of the trigger.

The new fish and game information bureau is part of a greater colonization plan launched by the provincial government and for which $5,000,000 was voted at the last session of parliament.

HIGH SCHOOL TO STAGE NEW PLAY

"The Acid Test," by Mr. Tupper, will receive its premier production by the Dramatic Workshop on the afternoon and evening of May 14, in the Little theater at Fremont high school.

Tupper was originally a professor at the University of Washington. Several of his plays have been produced in the East, including "The Little Stranger." Tupper has written "The Acid Test" expressly for the Workshop.

"Grace's Affair," "The Turtle Dove" and "The Maker of Dreams" are the other one-act plays which will complete the performance. "The Turtle Dove" has been creditably given several times by Mills College. "The Maker of Dreams," though comparatively new in this locality, adds a fantastical touch that should appeal. "Grace's Affair" holds its guarantee in the name of its author, Mary MacMillan. The costumes and settings will be one of the outstanding features of the production.

Pasadena Enforces Drastic Dance Law

PASADENA, May 8 (United Press).—Pasadena's drastic dance ordinance prohibiting dances between 10 o'clock p. m. and 8 a. m. in any hall or room in the city that is within twenty-five feet of any dwelling, became effective this week.

Playing of any dance music in those hours also is forbidden.

Broadmoor SUNSHINE HOMES

Visit the Exposition of Homes in this Ideal Residence Park

Broadmoor Homes, each a distinct and individual design, are built on quarter and half acre sites.

Come out to Broadmoor today—bask in the sunshine home atmosphere, enjoy the delightful blossoms and flowers.

Broadmoor, a wonderland and show garden of nature's beauties, is one of the most highly developed residence parks close to the heart of the city. Every homesite is a quarter or half acre.

Situated on the eastern boundary line of Oakland, free from fogs, sheltered from cold winds—you will find Broadmoor climate averaging 5 degrees warmer than surrounding bay residential districts and with a uniform temperature the year round.

Winding 80-foot boulevards, costing over $100,000 and bordered with beautiful shade trees and flowering shrubs, give a charm to Broadmoor that affords an individual setting for each home.

At Broadmoor you get pure artesian water at half the city prices and the taxes are LOW. Less than one-third of those in the city.

There's breathing space in Broadmoor—you are not crowded against your neighbor and there's ocean of play area for the children.

A home in Broadmoor enjoys every advantage that could be possibly offered: Quick local transportation (20 minutes to 12th and Broadway), and transbay service (less than an hour to San Francisco via S. P. electric from Broadmoor station in the park); good building restrictions and splendid schools—high school a short walking distance, and a new $45,000 grammar school on the property; nearness to shopping center, the finest type of street and development work; plenty of sunshine, a splendid environment for the kiddies, invigorating climate and freedom from the congested city.

Present rents make home buying in Broadmoor a real economy—and do you realize that you can have a half acre in Broadmoor for the same price (or less) that a home on a small city lot would cost you?

THE PRICES RANGE FROM $4250 TO $5500

Broadmoor is the Ideal Home Place—
"A Country Home in the City with all Conveniences"

Terms as low as $500 down—and the balance at $45 a month. These convenient payments may be had if desired—in fact you can take a period of twelve years in which to pay, if you wish.

THE EASIEST WAYS TO REACH BROADMOOR:

From Oakland take the East 14th street car direct to our Broadmoor office, East 14th street and Broadmoor Boulevard.

From San Francisco take the S. P. McRosa train at the Ferry Building and get off at McRosa Station—take the East 14th street car direct to our Broadmoor office.

AUTO SERVICE CONTROLLED BY R. R. COM.

Automobile passenger and truck lines are becoming a most important part of the suburban development of the Eastbay district, and as the State law places all of these lines under the control of the State Railroad Commission, this body has charge of existing lines, the establishment of new lines and rates of fare and freight.

The Bay Cities Transportation Company, now operating northward through Contra Costa county, applied to the commission for the right to establish an auto truck line for the handling of freight between Oakland, Hayward, San Leandro and San Lorenzo on the south and between Oakland and Richmond, Stege, Pullman, El Cerrito and Albany on the north. This request was denied upon the ground that the country to the south was already served by three railroads and two auto truck companies and that to the north by two railroads and one auto truck company. The new company claimed that San Francisco and Oakland wholesalers wanted the service, while the existing lines opposed the application.

O. L. Sweet also applied to the State Railroad Commission for the privilege of operating an auto-truck service between Oakland, Tracy, Stockton and Fresno, but the application was denied because it was held that sufficient service already existed.

The Bay Shore Stage Company, which is now operating an auto line between Oakland and Martinez via Crockett, has been authorized by the Railroad Commission to extend its service to Vallejo by means of the Six-Minute ferry, which runs from Crockett to Vallejo. The order provides that the company must not handle local traffic between Oakland and Stege Junction. Protests against the granting of the permit were filed by the Western Motor Transport Company, the Southern Pacific and the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railroad.

The Western Motor Transport Company, now operating northward from Oakland in various parts of Contra Costa county, is trying to get a permit to operate into the Livermore valley from Martinez, believing that a direct line between Livermore and Martinez does not go through Oakland is necessary.

Because the employees of the foundry at Newark use their own automobiles for traveling back and forth in the morning and evening, the Oakland-Norwalk stage line has applied to the Railroad Commission for authority to discontinue the service that has been given by the company between Contra Costa and Newark. W. B. Buchanan, owner of the stage line, says that not only do the foundry men use their own machines to travel to and from work but that they also carry fellow workers, making it impossible for the stage line to operate at a profit. The permission to discontinue the service was granted.

Proceedings before the Railroad Commission during the months of January and February of this year, as shown by records compiled by the commission, indicate the remarkable growth of the auto transportation business in California. According to the records of the service department of the commission, fifty-two applications for certificates declaring that "public convenience and necessity" require the operation of auto lines for carrying freight and passengers between the points named in the various petitions were filed in the first two months of this year. There were filed also twenty-five requests to the commission for the rail board's approval of sales or transfers of existing lines.

During the same period the commission, for various reasons, dismissed seventeen applications for operating permits, denied nine and granted thirteen. Seven transfers were approved.

On file with the commission are approximately 700 rate cards or tariffs showing the rates of fare and charges for hauling freight collected by the auto companies now operating as common carriers on the highways of the state.

Splendid Prospects at Fair Oaks

A. C. Powers has just returned from a tour of inspection of the Fair Oaks-Citrus Heights fruit district, where he found conditions favorable to the bumper crop of this season. The district has again demonstrated it is a thermal belt of the highest order. The April frosts, which raised havoc with the almond crop in the valleys was not felt in Fair Oaks and Citrus Heights, and the usual heavy yield there is now assured.

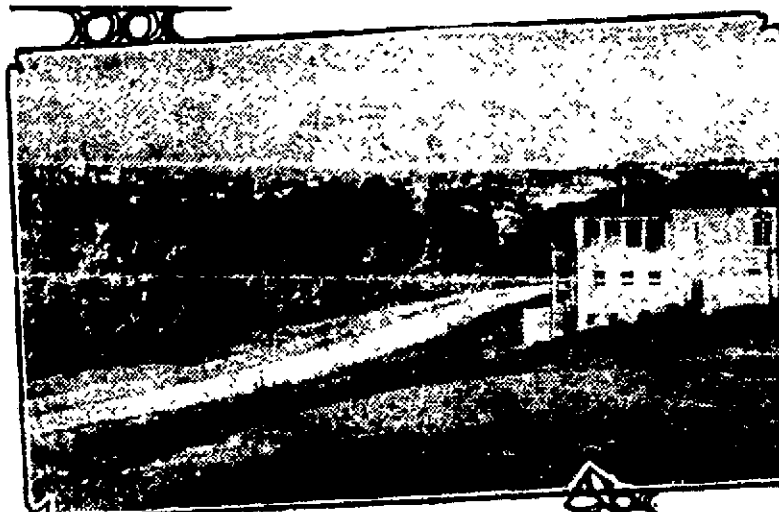

A heavy set of pines, peaches, pears, apricots and cherries assures a bounteous crop of these. Cherry picking has just commenced. Mr. Nichols of Fair Oaks has just sold his crop of Bing cherries on the tree for $600. He has about an acre and a quarter of them. The oranges and grapefruit are now in full blossom, and they will be followed by the walnuts and olives. The late rains have put the soil in perfect condition. With the piped system for irrigating all apprehension felt earlier in the season has been removed and there is every assurance now of ample moisture for the year.

Extensive Alterations at First Savings Bank

Extensive alterations are under way at the First Savings Bank of Oakland in order to enlarge their banking quarters. The additional space will be given over to the commercial department, Liberty bonds and collections. Starting but twelve years ago, the First Savings bank now shows resources totaling nearly ten millions of dollars. The work of enlarging the bank is being carried on without interfering with the bank's business.

Up to the time of Queen Elizabeth the wool of Great Britain was accounted the finest in the world.

LAKEHORE HIGHLANDS HAS BECOME A HIVE OF BUILDING ACTIVITY

Lakeshore Highlands Attracting Attention of Many New Eastbay Residents.

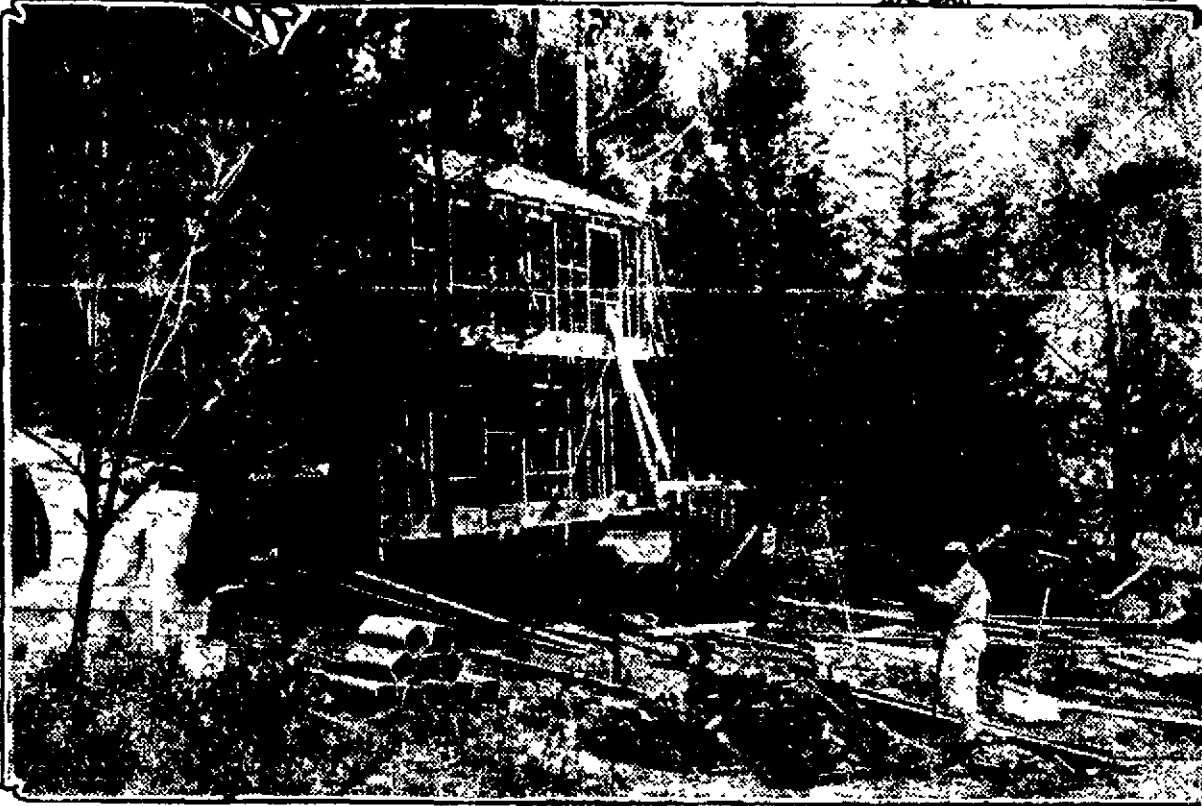

Opened only a month ago, the last section of Lakeshore Highlands has already become a hive of building activity with the commencement of several homes under the Leimert company's program of "Every Five Days a New Home Starts" and the beginning of new homes by individual owners who have bought in the section since it was opened.

Particularly active is the section encompassed by the beautiful, winding Hubert Road, which has come to be known, since this upper portion of Lakeshore Heights was opened, as "the most beautiful street in Oakland." Lot sales in this section have been exceptionally brisk.

This record is demonstrative of the compelling natural beauty of the section because sales were made and homes started while the property remained in a practically undeveloped state, grading for the section work having only just commenced. Big gangs of construction workers have been turned into the section and the tractors promptly completed streets and sidewalks within a short time.

Since work started on the end of Longridge Road where concrete is being poured now and the last of the street is being pushed to completion, the many motorists who are visiting this portion of Lakeshore Highlands have used Rosemont Road and Sunnyside Road from the Lakeshore avenue side and Grosvenor Place via Mathews avenue from the Park Boulevard side.

Most activity on the other side of the tract is going on at full speed, the last bits of street work being finished and homes being started and completed under the new famous program of "Every Five Days a New Home Starts."

These other sections are receiving their full share of attention from buyers of homes and home sites. The scenic beauties of Lakeshore Highlands are not confined to the new section of the tract. While there are many who want the secluded, wooded nooks found in the Hubert Road section there is an equal number of buyers who desire the broad, sweeping view afforded by the open land in the older parts of the tract.

New Manager From the East

The Anglo-Saxons had never seen the Thor.

When the Macdonald Engineering company, of Chicago, prepared the plans for the new mill and elevator of the Western Milling company's Oakland plant, the elevator specifications called for 16 cylinder bins, 90 feet high and the completion of the work was promised for October. Upon receipt of a telegram from the office of Gross & Miller stating that the demands for space in these elevators was so great that they were to be increased in number to 26 and that if possible they must be ready to house the 1920 harvest of grain, James Macdonald, the president of the engineering company, took the next train for Oakland to look up the situation.

Macdonald arrived in Oakland on Tuesday afternoon and after a consultation with the manager of the Western Milling company and an inspection of the site and the work under way, hung up his hat in the office and announced that he was on the job until the work was so far on the way that there would be no doubt of its completion.

The Macdonald company is one of the most prominent engineering firms in the East. They have made a specialty of building flour mills and elevators. The walls of the office sit at the site are covered with photographs of milling plants of various sizes and styles now in process of erection, but not any of them compare in size with that now being built in Oakland.

When Mr. Macdonald was asked whether the work could possibly be finished in time he replied that about three years ago his firm built for the Rock Island railroad, in Kansas City, a plant very similar to the one now in construction; starting the work on the first day of March and loading the grain into the completed elevators the 15th day of June, and that he saw no reason why they could not duplicate this record in Oakland, particularly as he found labor conditions here in much better shape than in any other part of the country.

He pointed out the fact that the piles were nearly all driven, there being over 6000 already in the ground; that the concrete had been poured on the floor of the mill and that they expected, in a few days, to be pouring concrete on the elevator bin; also that the steel was being delivered; the large tunnels dug under the elevator bins and that the work was already well advanced and every condition appeared to be favorable.

EVERYTHING you put into your Thor gets equal attention. The smooth, polished maple "lifts" inside the Thor cylinder carry a load of sudsy clothes to the top, every time around. There are six of these lifts—so every revolution means six "mix-ups" of the entire washing. No piece has a chance to get crowded into a corner and be neglected. The surging suds, the chugging movement, cleans every piece thoroughly, without ever a bit of friction, twisting or pounding. The finest fabrics, no less than the stoutest textiles, are thoroughly safe in your Thor.

STATE ASSN. OF REALTORS REORGANIZES

The California Real Estate Association is being re-incorporated under the laws of the state to provide for a new set of officers and directors. The new association will include owners of property as well as real estate brokers and operators. It is the purpose of the new association to present the membership in the real estate business, but the organization now proposes to enlarge its functions and will have under its supervision a general supervision of measures in California, where property interests and property values are affected. Funds are being arranged for the support of a program of organization including the purchase of the direction of legislative effort, public utility, taxation, building and other similar activities.

Among the more important undertakings to which the association is now pledged are: A revision of the methods of levying taxes in this state to the end that a more equitable share of the tax burden be effected; placing more of it on incomes and less on real property; promotion of enterprises in the various districts of the state for the conservation of waste waters and the development of new and extensive areas of arable land; and as soon as the legal steps have been taken preparatory to a revision of the charter and machinery has been set in motion for an extended membership campaign, a second district conference of these directors and other members of the association will be called. The financing of homebuilding on a large scale that is now imperative

MORE SAFETY DEVICES FOR KEY SYSTEM

As a measure for further insuring the safety of key passengers during foggy weather, an enormous sounding board is now being constructed at the Key Route mole and the fog bell tower is being enlarged so that the bell can be heard for a long distance even through the thickest fog. In light fogs the bell was formerly heard sometimes at Goat Island but heavier fogs dampened its spirit.

Improved signal devices known as track circuits, are also being laid at the three Key Route towers—Emeryville, Adeline Street and Fifty-third street, at a cost of $31,000.

consolidation of the Rental situation in every important center of California for the purpose of eliminating rent profiteering where it exists and insuring reasonable income from investments so that new building projects will become desirable.

The revised incorporation of this organization will provide for the organization of an annual budget of from $50,000 to $100,000 for the maintenance of various buildings. The officers and directors of the association, now having this work in charge are: Fred E. Reed, C. C. Tatum, W. C. Cochran, Adeline Street, Porter, W. J. Atkinson, David Blumenthal, F. B. Ford, C. C. Juster, Albert E. Kern, Curtis E. Jones, Thomas J. Manas, F. F. Porter, H. F. Ramon, O. Reed, J. T. Summers, W. W. Miller, F. C. Muehle and Frank T. Wright.

BROADMOOR SALES MANY THIS WEEK

Sales to the amount of $40,000 are reported by Reed & Bancroft for the week, as a result of their home selling campaign in that suburban park tract. All week Broadmoor has been the center of attraction to those who want homes in the Eastbay district and purchases have been many.

A number of new homes have been completed during the week and will immediately be placed on sale. Today these homes will be open for inspection for the first time and will take their place in the exposition.

Broadmoor climate is exceptional for its balmy nature and when the problem arose how the climate might be best brought to attention during the sale a unique and happy solution was found. The products of Broadmoor soil and climate were best proofs of its superiority. So during the exposition at Broadmoor an exhibit of splendid specimens of citrus fruits, blossoms, flowers and other vegetation growing in the park has been arranged.

Five vice-presidents of the United States have succeeded to the presidency through death of the president.

"The Most Beautiful Street in Oakland"

Scene on Hubert Road, in Lakeshore Highlands

Since the opening of the last undeveloped portion of Lakeshore Highlands, placing on sale the remaining property in this wonderful residence park, Hubert Road has become known as "the most beautiful street in Oakland."

With grading only started, several persons immediately bought on Hubert Road—finding, even in the undeveloped stage, a home setting that cannot be duplicated for delightful surroundings, natural beauty and close-in location anywhere in the Eastbay region.

With the home-building planned for Hubert Road it will be one of the show places of Oakland.

Prices on Hubert Road are most reasonable, there being nine homesites at the remarkable low price of $1750. One block from Key Route.

These home sites, "on the most beautiful street in Oakland," have frontages of 50 and 51 feet, all are 100 feet or over in depth, and the purchase price includes all improvements.

TERMS—Ten per cent down and the balance at 1 per cent a month.

Plans for several homes to be built in the last section of Lakeshore Highlands have been completed, work has started on two and foundations for a third will be laid during the coming week under the famous Leimert building program of

"Every Five Days a New Home Starts"

As preparations are now being made for pouring concrete on the balance of Longridge Road, we suggest that motorists entering from Lakeshore Avenue, use Rosemont Road and Sunnyside Road in reaching Hubert Road, or cross Trestle Glen from Park Boulevard by Mathews Avenue, following Grosvenor Place to Hubert Road. If in doubt as to direction, inquire at the Lakeshore Highlands office at Lakeshore Avenue and Mandana Blvd.

Reopening Highway to Mount Diablo Summit Is Welcome News to Motorist

EMIL REINHARDT

The summit of Mount Diablo affords one of the finest views in the world. It commands an uninterrupted view for hundreds of miles. For this reason it is used as the base line of all surveys for Central California. This scenic run was mapped last Sunday by TRIBUNE pathfinders. E. W. Farnsworth, from the sales staff of the E. L. Peacock Auto company, drove the Cleveland through the toll gate. It happened that this car was the first to pass over the newly improved road to the summit, since the starting of work sometime ago.

The route out Broadway and over the tunnel road to Walnut Creek was taken. From Oakland to Walnut Creek good highways are found, but after leaving Walnut Creek prepare for a rough ride to Danville over roads that are under construction, but passable.

From Danville to the very summit of Mount Diablo the road is a good mountain road.

A short time ago the road to the summit was almost impassable. New improvements, however, afford the motorist safety on this trip.

It might be interesting to know that in 1896 a military expedition marched against a tribe of Indians of the mountain, and in the midst of the battle which ensued, a mysterious person bedecked with feathers and war paint joined the ranks of the Indians.

When the battle was over the mysterious person departed up the mountain. The Spaniards learning that the stranger lived on the mountain, supposed him to be the devil, so they named the mountain "El Monte del Diablo," interpreted meaning "the mountain of the devil."

At the present day it is called Mount Diablo, which shortens the original name.

From the mountain summit the San Joaquin and Sacramento rivers look like threads of silver.

The great valley of Sacramento is like a checker board, the plowed land showing dark squares and the growing alfalfa as lighter squares.

In reality Mount Diablo comprises two peaks, which are about three miles apart. The other mountain is known as the North Peak and is about 260 feet lower than Diablo.

On your way up to the summit a little time should be spent at Fossil Point. Innumerable star shells and shells of various types are to be found here. All of which indicate that long ago this mountain occupied the floor of the ocean. On a clear day a scope of country for miles from north to south is visible.

In order to make this trip properly the motorist should get an early start from Oakland. Figure on taking your lunch with you as there are no eating places along the route. It is about a two and a half hour drive from Oakland to the summit.

Mount Diablo is a rugged base and at the very summit there is a brick chimney if it can be recognized as such, built by the government.

There is also a big flagstaff that towers about forty feet above the crest of the mountain which was erected by the Mount Diablo prior of the Native Sons of the Golden West, and is dedicated to the pioneers of Contra Costa county.

The trip back to Oakland from the summit can be made through Walnut Creek instead of Danville or via Dublin Canyon. Road conditions over the former route are in very poor condition and it is advisable that you return via Danville or Dublin Canyon.

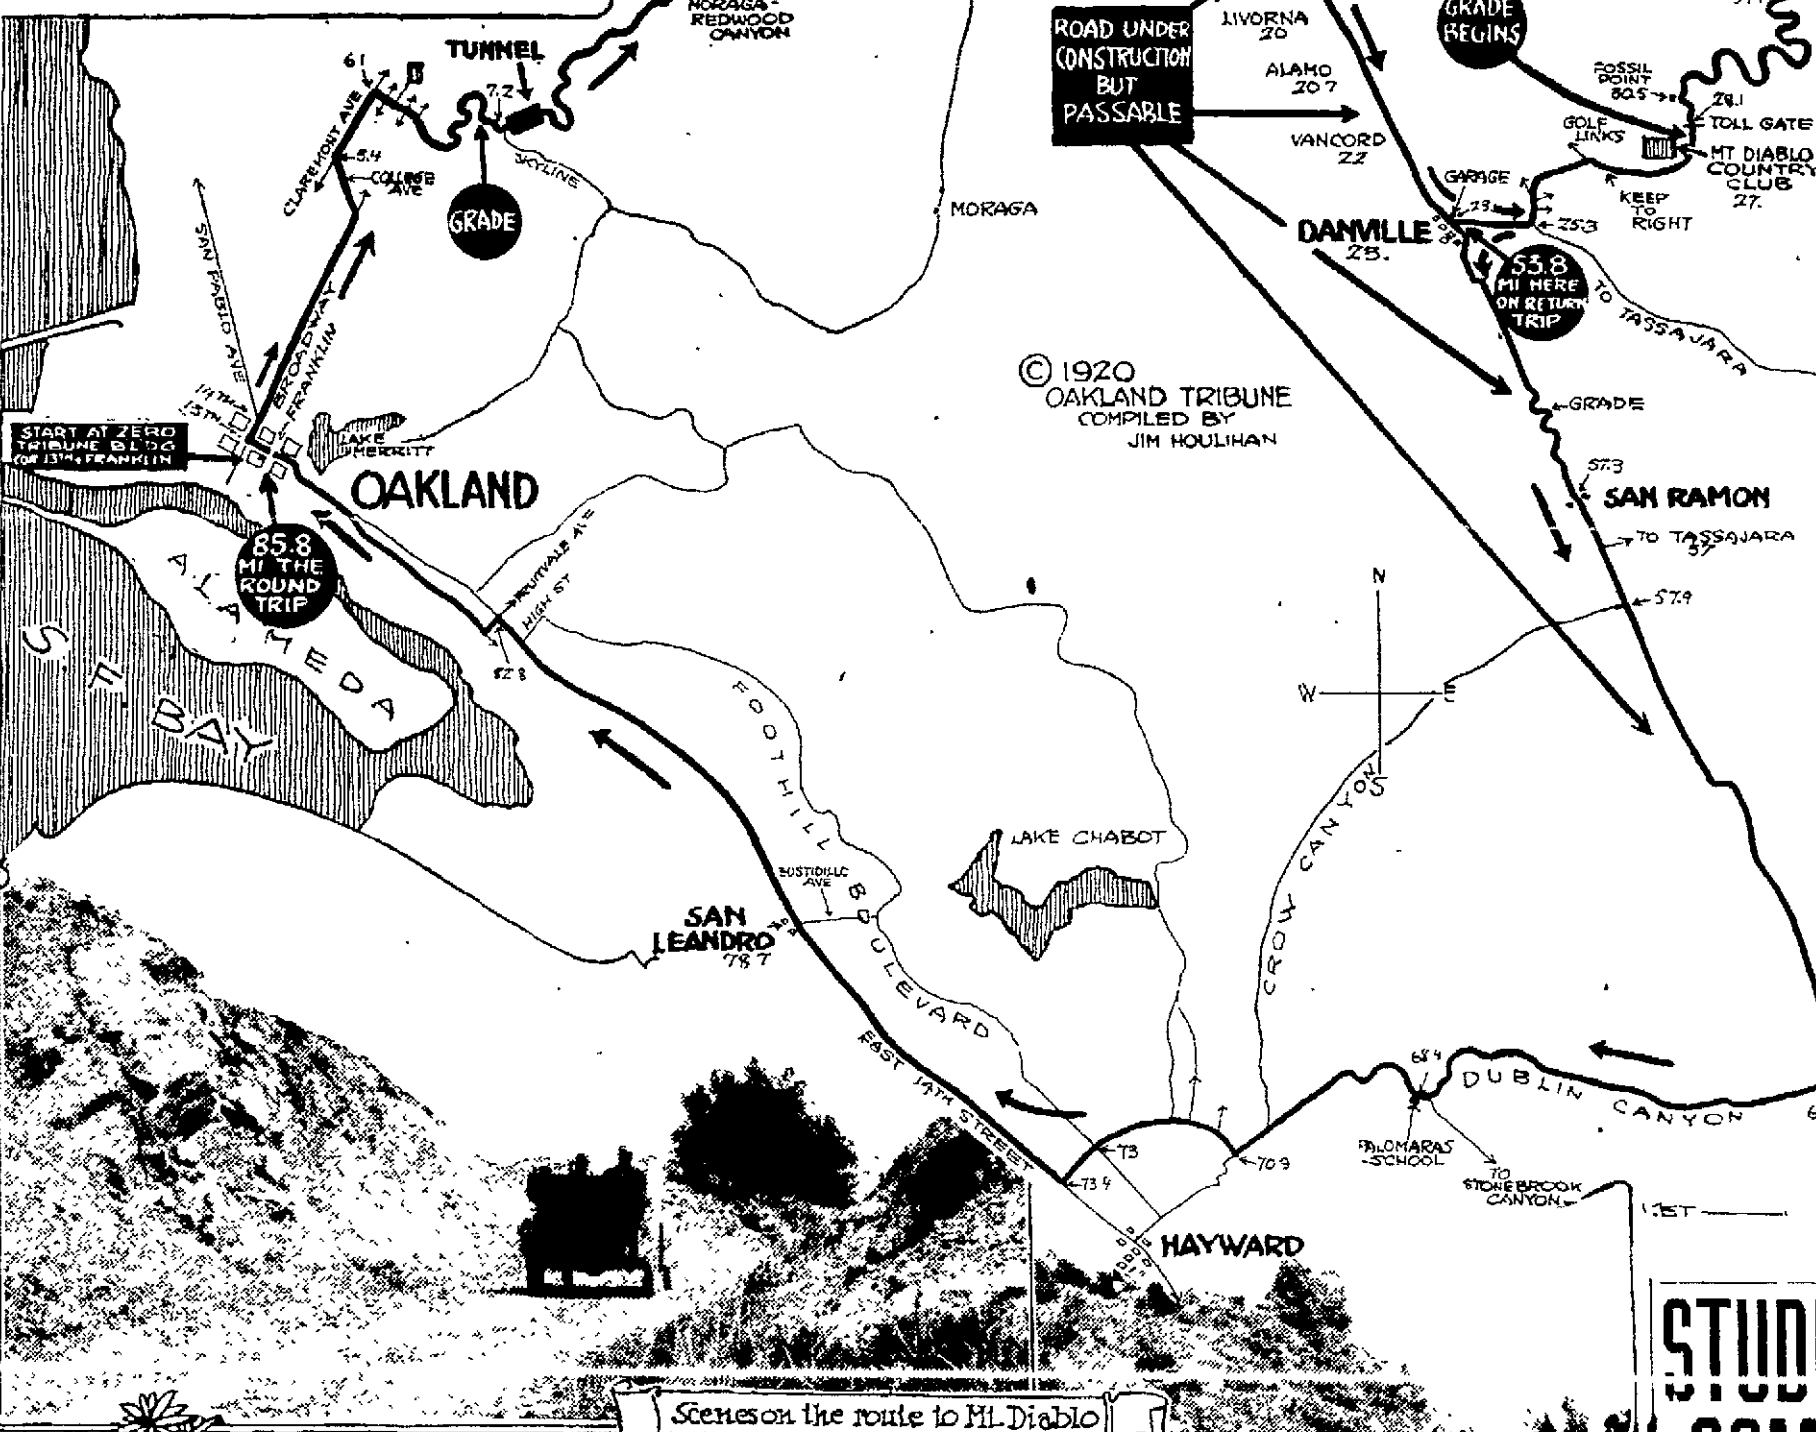

Road work is also in progress through San Ramon and over the Dublin road.

Motor Truck Urged As H.C.L. Reducer

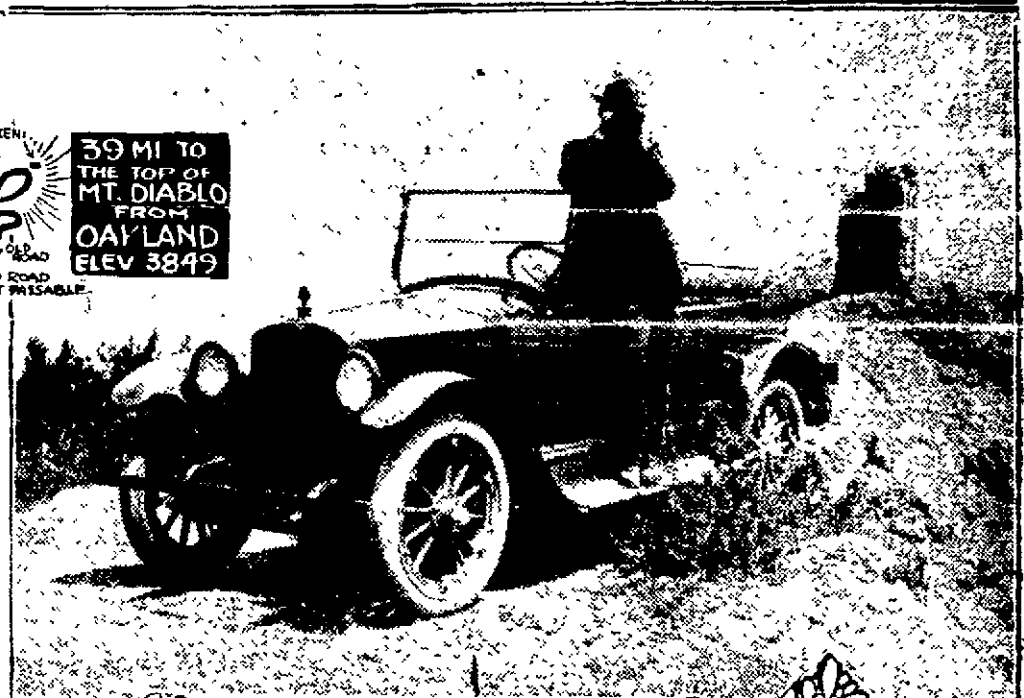

If sixty-five cents out of each dollar the ultimate consumer now pays for food goes to the dealer who handled this food stuff since the producer was paid his thirty-five cents for it, can this charge for handling be reduced in a great degree by requisitioning the motor truck on a larger scale in the present system of distribution?

Ship-by-truck advocates are emphatic in answering in the affirmative.

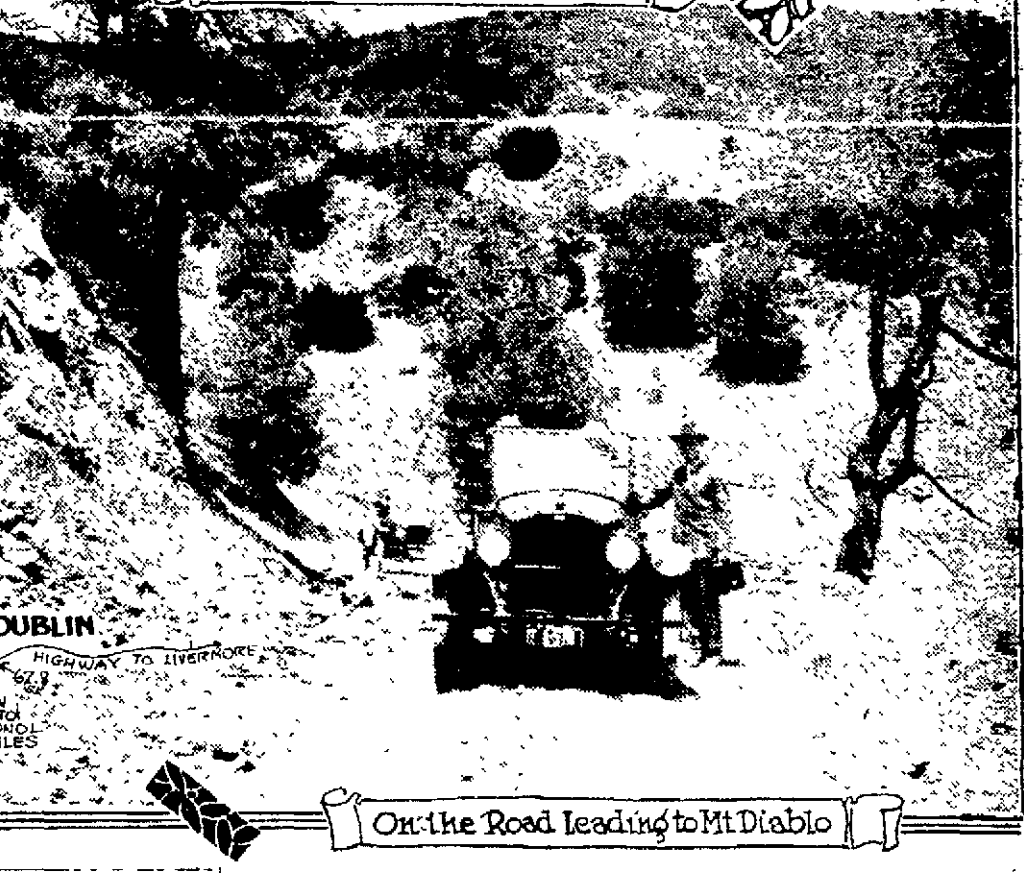

The road to Mount Diablo, one of California's most scenic points, is again open to the motoring public. Salesman Farnsworth in a Cleveland pathfinder furnished by E. L. Peacock Auto Company drove this car over the newly improved route.

Cheap Oil Is Costly Purchase Good Lubricant Insures Long Life

Two very simple ingredients are comprised in this elixir of automobile life, which consists of equal parts of elbow grease and lubrication. Properly lubricated and kept in tune there is almost no limit to the useful life of a modern well-built motor car.

With the certainty that many of us are going to have to get along with our old cars for a considerable period, this elixir that will keep the old boat running smoothly and efficiently until we can get a new one is a matter of vital importance.

I purpose reviewing the lubrication needs of the car, with the practical ends of where and how often in view. It is necessary in the first place to warn the car owner to be doubly vigilant now as regards the quality of the lubricant he uses. If an oil lacking in certain vital essentials is used in the mechanical units, its failure to provide a buffer between the moving parts may result in injury to the mechanism that will be disastrous.

OIL IS INSURANCE

The question of parts replacement has reached a stage that is nearly critical, and proper lubrication is insurance against the failure of the quaternary moving parts. The proper person to decide just what lubricant should be used in any given car is the manufacturer of the vehicle.

The car manufacturers' laboratories and experimental departments to make positively sure as to just what lubricant is needed in each part of the mechanism, and they are in better position than any private owner to be sure in the matter.

So when the car manufacturer suggests that such and such a make of oil of such a grade should be used, the car owner will do well to follow the directions implicitly.

CHEAP OLD DEAR

One mistake that car owners sometimes fall into is the purchase of a quantity of oil of unknown lineage, but cheap price, which the seller assures him is just as good as any of the well-known brands. It may be, but it probably is not. There are a number of qualities that lubricating oil must possess, if it is to be efficient in a mechanism like the automobile, where the parts run at high speed with considerable heat.

Such oil must have requisite viscosity; it must be free from vegetable oils or foreign substances. It must have the proper specific gravity. It is impossible for the private owner to make tests himself, if he can buy a branded oil with the certainty that they have been made for him.

Lubrication is the worst possible place in which to attempt economies.

Many Fields Made

Designers of Autos

Automobile editors the country over have often commented on the fact that comparatively few of the present-day motor car designers gained their primary knowledge of mechanics in automotive work. Early experience with bicycles, adding machines, farm implements and sewing machines provided some of the creative geniuses of the gasoline era with their first engineering problems.

The average automobile owner or service mechanic, placed in the engine room of an ocean liner, would be truly "at sea." Yet marine steam engineering has made several invaluable contributions to the automobile industry.

Vigilance Committee

Formed by Autoists

A vigilance committee of 200 members is being formed under the auspices of the Automobile Club of Southern California and will pledge themselves to report all infractions of traffic laws of the state.

AUTO BLUE BOOK BLOSSOMS WITH MAPS AND INDEX

The Automobile Blue Book blossoms forth with a new chapter for the touring season. This year the volumes, which are thirteen, and include Volume T—Devoted principally to transcontinental routes—are changed because road improvement assumed such tremendous proportions during the season just ended.

Last year's maps are completely revised. So too, are the details in the logging. To own one of the new books is to be familiar with every step of the route one is taking, which way to turn and when.

The mileage of good grade, tourable roads is now well beyond the half a million mark.

The index, indicating the names of every hotel, service station and repair shop is improved and enlarged.

State Receives 190 Government Trucks

In the distribution of war trucks by the United States government 190 cars were assigned to Massachusetts for new construction and rebuilding of highways in that state.

Phones at Mile Posts, Ohio Idea

Designed to aid motorists and other persons who are in need of assistance, it is proposed to install public telephones at each mile post along the highways in Ohio.

Fifty-eight per cent of all the automobiles in the country use small size tires ranging from three to three and a half inches tread on thirty-inch wheels.

MARINE CORPS IS REPRESENTED IN TRIBUNE TOUR

One of the entries in The TRIBUNE run was a surprise to the officials and spectators.

Robert A. McLean, a participant, is a former Marine Corps sergeant and drove his Chevrolet as the official Marine Corps entry.

The car was decorated with the Marine Corps banner and carried as passenger Sergeant Hans Hornbostel, publicly sergeant of the San Francisco recruiting district.

PRIZES FOR SHIP BY TRUCK ESSAY

In addition to a chance to compete for the national prize of a $1000 scholarship in any branch of study the winner prefers, the following prizes are offered locally in the Ship by Truck essay contest, in which all high school students are eligible to compete.

First prize—One hundred dollars to be given by the Oakland Tribune.

Second prize—Fifty dollars, to be given by Alameda County Auto Trades Association.

Third prize—Twenty-five dollars, to be given by Alameda County Auto Trades Association.

Fourth prize—Twenty-five dollars, to be given by Alameda County Auto Trades Association.

Fifth prize—Twenty-five dollars, to be given by Alameda County Auto Trades Association.

The refrigerator motor truck, designed especially for handling of perishable foods, is the latest development in the automotive industry.

STUDENTS TO COMPETE IN ESSAY TEST

High school students of Oakland and the Eastbay district at large have been offered a chance to compete for prizes of real value in writing compositions for the Ship by Truck essay contest. In addition to having a chance at the national prize consisting of a $1000 scholarship in the university chosen by the winner, $225 in cash awards will go to the authors of the five best essays written in the Eastbay schools.

To the writer of the winning essay will go The Oakland TRIBUNE's prize of $100 in cash. The second place winner will get a prize of $50, the gift of Eugene Bowles, secretary of publicity for the Oakland Chamber of Commerce. To the authors of the third, fourth and fifth best essays will go $25 awards offered by the Alameda County Auto Trades Association.

Unlike most essay contests there is no mess of technical requirements to be fulfilled by the would-be competitors. Essays can cover any phase of the truck transportation problem, just so the title includes "Ship by Truck—Good Roads." In length contributions are limited to 500 words. This must be submitted by 10 o'clock on the evening of May 22, 1920, to the offices, 105-111 Pacific building, Sixth and Jefferson.

This board will turn the essays over to the judges who are to be named during the coming week.

The contest board consists of Ernest Potter, president of the Alameda County Auto Trades Association, Walter J. Hesse, manager of W. L. Huggins' Oakland branch, and member of the association's executive board, and J. H. O'Brien, proprietor of the O'Brien Automotive Equipment Company.

Germany Turns Out Three-Wheeled Auto

Through the scarcity of materials of all kinds in Germany, a three-wheeled motor vehicle, which can be more easily handled than the usual type, is in production. By installing a two-cylinder motor it has a speed of 45 miles an hour and makes 30 miles a gallon.

Allotment Received of New Carburetors

L. W. Roth, manager of the Elite Garage and Machine Shop, has received his allotment of the new Rayfield carburetor for Ford cars. Roth says that after years of experimenting the manufacturers have placed on the market a new plain tube model. This carburetor has patented features which will insure the Ford owner easy starting, quick acceleration and maximum power and speed with minimum fuel consumption. Roth is launching an extensive campaign in order to let the Ford car owners know of this new arrival.

The experts of the federal trade commission find after an exhaustive study that food absorbs 38.2 per cent of the income of the average family. Anything that is to be comprehensive in the lowering of the present excessive high cost of living must give special consideration to this factor or to the cost of food.

Food is the one thing that the American household cannot skimp too much upon and retain its health and efficiency. A man may do with patched suit of old clothes and still live, but he can't do without food, plenty of food and good food.

The commission in its report says that "Movement of food should be made as direct from field and factory to table." It points out how losses come from the inefficient transportation methods, careless handling of food, and the waste of scattered railway terminals, market badly located and poorly equipped and inadequate storage and delivery facilities.

TIRE FLOAT IS UNIQUE AFFAIR

Big floats and little ones, ornately beflowered trucks and machines that were almost swamy in decoration, these and several other specimens of the genus float featured the Ad-Masque last week. One of the most attractive of all the floats in the Ad-Masque "parade," however, was the Lee Tire entry. It was simply but quite effectively decorated with bunting and flowers and featured the Lee slogan, "Lee Tires Smile at Miles." Perhaps the most attractive feature of the float was not the float itself, but the five fair nymphs or nymphs, whichever is the correct word to describe them, who attended it on its course across the floor of the big auditorium. Three of these were tiny tots, and all were attired in striking costumes.

Do You Know the Secret of Essex Leadership?

*It is the New Light Type With Big Car Ability. Can Any Light Car Rival
Its Speed, Power or Endurance?*

Lightness today is an overwhelming advantage in a motor car, provided it means no forfeit of fine performance, endurance or distinctive appearance.

Yet, prior to the Essex, what car combined all these qualities? There were light cars to be sure. But none to meet the requirements of those who exact the highest standards of ability, comfort and good looks.

Had such a type existed, Essex could not have won such swift dominance. It could have set no world's selling record as it did, with a greater total paid for Essex than for any car ever brought out in its first year.

The very suddenness of its success shows how its qualities commanded attention. For men are not quick to buy a car that time has not proved.

And the Essex came unknown. Merit was its only advocate for recognition. Its quality was instantly obvious. In looks, in action, its appeal was dynamic. And it drew immediate response from all classes of motor users.

Almost Doubles Light Car Endurance

They found ability, speed and power before believed impossible in a light car.

Now see how Essex has justified all the fine things that have been said in its praise. An Essex stock chassis set the official world's fifty-hour endurance record of 3,037 miles. In three tests it traveled 5,870 miles averaging above a mile a minute. An Essex stock touring car also holds the world's twenty-four-hour road record of 1,061 miles.

To those who had owned light cars, the Essex was a revelation. It gave them a new sensation of stability and power. They found charm of appearance, riding ease, and pride of ownership that comes from possession of a car they know none can surpass in performance.

The Dominant Light Car By Official Proof

People accustomed to fine car qualities recognize in the light Essex, all the performance, comfort and good looks that formerly were regarded exclusive to large, costly cars.

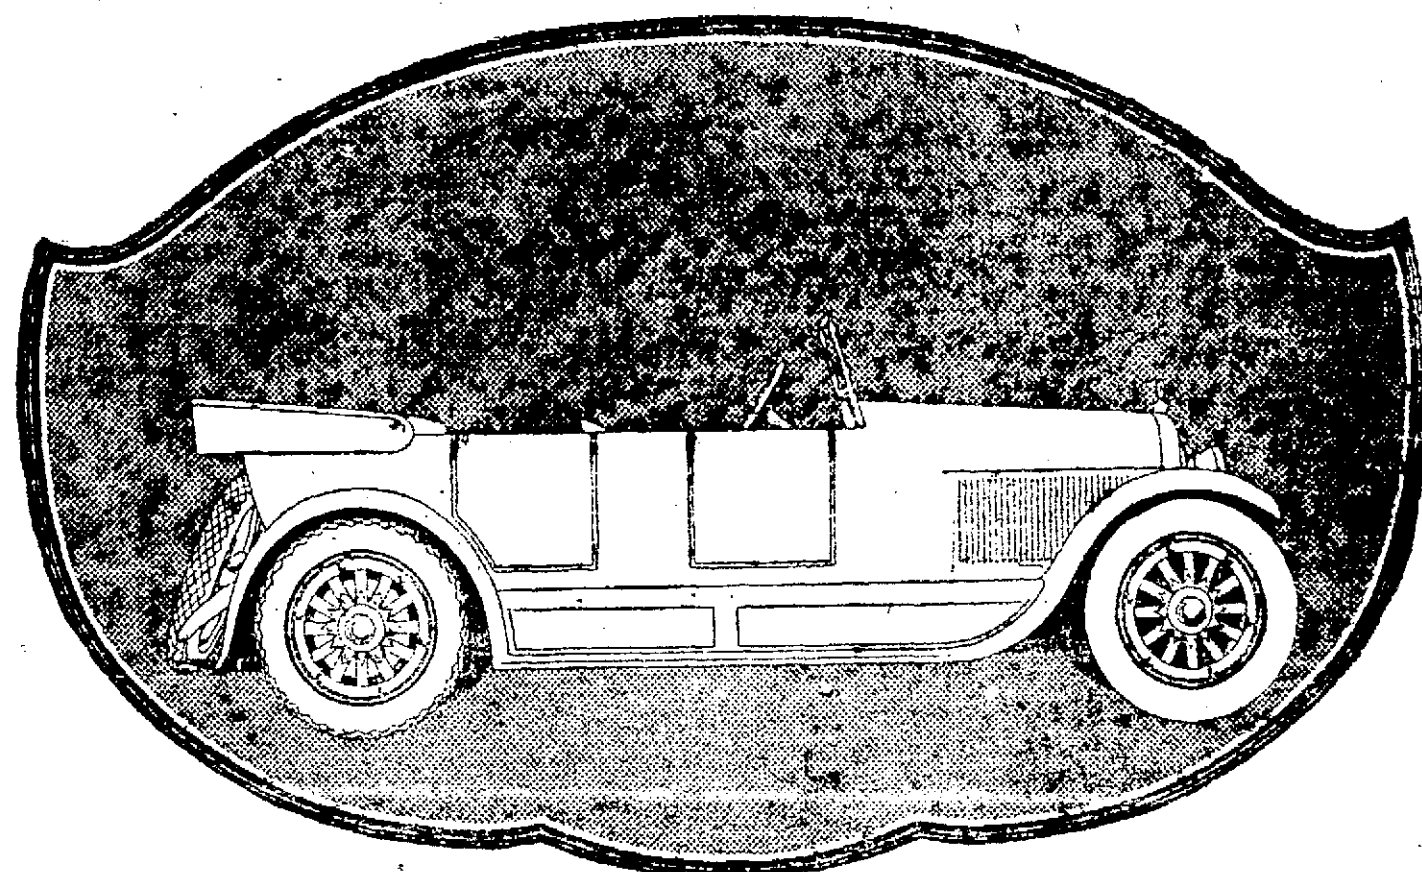

And with it Essex brings every advantage of the light type. These compel consideration. They consist not only of important economies, but of greater handling ease, safety and convenience. Parking for large cars is becoming an increasingly difficult problem. So, too, is their manipulation in heavy traffic. The light car clearly shows its value in greater nimbleness. The common sense facts prove it from every angle, the type of all-round usefulness.

When you know the appeal of the Essex you will scarcely be content to drive another car.

BIG WEEK IS PROMISED IN AUTO WORLD

With a ship-by-truck proclamation from California's governor and like proclamations from practically every state governor in the Union, together with cooperation from such organizations as the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, National Grange, the National Association of Motor Truck Sales Managers, Federal Highway Council, Federal Bureau of Education, National Automobile Dealers' Association, and many others, National Ship-by-Truck—Good Roads Week will be the biggest week in the history of the automobile industry.

The Alameda County Auto Trades Association has taken advantage of this national week by engineering a big tour of motor trucks throughout Alameda and Contra Costa counties. Plans have been under way for this tour during the past two months and the several committees report wonderful success. The advance arrangement committee has the following to say about the receptions planned along the route:

"Many towns, particularly Hayward, Pleasanton, Concord, Pittsburg and Martinez, are planning to receive the motor truck convoy in royal style. Street dancing, speaking programs and general entertainments are in order.

"All the country newspapers are working on the opportunity of giving liberal mention to the two important movements—Ship-by-Truck—Good Roads.

"Contra Costa county has just voted a big bond issue and is particularly interested in seeing that their struggle to get the farmers in direct communication with the city by better highways is given proper recognition by better and quicker transportation. The fact that the United States government recognizes the importance of this tour by entering a complete unit of the Motor Transport Corps from the Presidio has added considerably to the interest in the rural communities. The army contingent will have its own rolling kitchen and will provide a band of forty pieces. Many energetic talkers have offered their services for the benefit of the success of the tour and arrangements have been made to give them every opportunity to forcefully bring their messages home to their rural audiences.

"The new Contra Costa county highways will open up the entire county for truck transportation and it is a very opportune moment that the Eastbay ship-by-truck tour will bring the attention of the consuming public to a territory rich in truck gardening, farm produce and dairy-livestock. Some truck transportation is being done out of there at the present time, but through the completion of the highways many new opportunities will be open for the establishment of rural motor express or common carrier lines from Contra Costa through Alameda county to city markets and the individual will have a chance to own and operate a motor truck economically."

LUNCHEON PLANNED

A get-together luncheon of all Oakland truck dealers and especially those who are to participate in the tour has been called for Monday noon, May 10, at the Saddle Rock restaurant. The committee desires to impress upon all interested the importance of being in attendance.

The final wind-up of the truck tour will be a monster parade of motor trucks through the streets of Oakland on May 21. The convoy will start at Richmond, joining with the truck parade at Emeryville. It is urgently requested by your committee that every motor truck in Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley assemble at that point and help swell the home-coming demonstration.

Close on to 20,000 motorists, representing nearly every state in the union, visited the province of Quebec last year.

ELKS COME TO RESCUE

For the transportation of food-stuffs during the recent "outlaw" railway strike, the Philadelphia Lodge No. 2, B. P. O. Elks offered 1500 motor vehicles.

One out of every ten men seen on the street is a motor car owner.

OLLING POINTS TO WATCH

There are three principal points to be watched in the lubrication of the Ford car, the crankcase supply of course, the universal joint and the differential gears.

In Europe, there is one automobile to every 250 individuals.

Do You Depend On Gasoline, Oil and Tires for Economy

REAL Estate men tell us: "The days of 'blind buying' are over. People here in town are more careful to investigate land values, property depreciation and the all-around economy in good building."

Keen appreciation of what property will be worth next year or the year after greatly influences buying.

We too, can notice a decided change. This same sure buying condition is more and more evidenced in the purchase of motor cars.

For example, many of our Packard friends, who previously owned 1, 2, 3 and even 4 different makes of the so-called economy cars, tell us: "Our biggest saving is not due to the Twin Six's gasoline, oil or tire mileage."

Even though a Packard will give gasoline mileage from 9 to 13, depending on road conditions; oil mileage 500 or more to the gallon; and tires, properly cared for, 10,000 to 15,000 miles—a Twin Six owner's greatest economy is in the permanency of Packard value.

Packards five, six or even ten years old have a proportionately higher re-sale value than any car we know of.

Let us explain the many cases right here in our town where Packards have proved to be more economical to operate than cars costing one-half or two-thirds as much.

We suggest a visit to our showroom to those who do not know the unusual saving that can be made with a Twin Six.

Oil for Old Springs Often Is Not Best

When springs are very old and are "lifeless," if they are oiled or greased they flex too much and may break. Better to just remove rust from between the leaves and not use grease or oil.

Over 1,000,000 spark plugs and spark plug cleaners were shipped by one American manufacturer to foreign countries last year.

The first motor-propelled road vehicle that actually ran, built in 1769, is exhibited in the Conservatory of Arts and Trades in Paris.

DORT Quality Goes Clear Through

You will notice that relatively few automobile advertisements carry prices.

Perhaps it is due to the fact that the figures have been sky-rocketing since January 1st.

It is indeed suggested that fear of comparison accounts for it.

Dort prices appear in every Dort advertisement and show that whereas other cars have increased in price hundreds of dollars, the difference in the cost of a Dort January 1st and today is just fifty dollars.

And the good quality still goes "clear through." It's the best motor car value on the market.

"Anthony Service" still further enhances its value.

W HAT do you really know about an automobile? Experts often disagree, so how can the layman judge?

The one infallible guide is the integrity and standing of the organization back of the car—the manufacturers. If they are solid, successful and experienced you will not go far wrong.

As to Mitchell—85 years of continuous, successful manufacture; 17 years' experience producing fine cars; five years' concentration on the perfection of this our type.

With the exquisitely finished new style body the new Series F Mitchell is unquestionably the supreme value in the popular price field today.

The Great Results that come from the Special Steels in a

MAXWELL

There is a double advantage in the use of these special steels in a Maxwell.

- 1.—They eliminate superfluous pounds, lighten the task of the engine, ease the burden on tires, make possible quicker acceleration.
- 2.—They add strength which insures endurance, dependability, uninterrupted performance, and infrequent repairs.

These special steels make possible the Maxwell construction of great strength combined with light weight.

The light weight decreases the burden on the engine and their strength provides endurance.

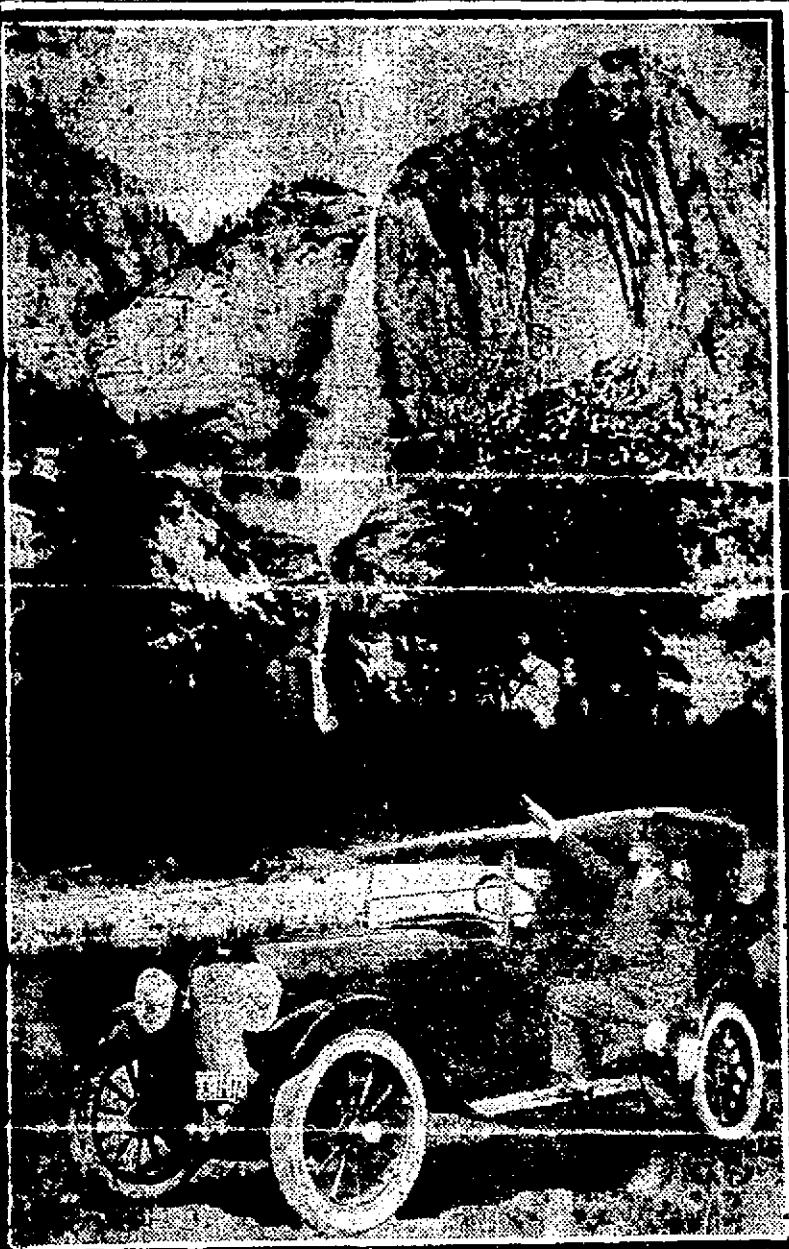

They have been important factors in the success of Maxwell the world over, in its ever-increasing friendships, in its great growth.

Nearly 400,000 Maxwells are now in use. You cannot motor even in a foreign land, without meeting them.

PRETTY GIRL IS EXHIBIT FOR AUTO

"Who is the 'Rose' of the Lou H. Rose company?" was the question that hundreds asked at the recent Ad Masque ball, when a new Chalmers car made the circuit of the great hall of the Oakland auditorium with a beautiful girl, costumed to represent the rose, throned on the back seat.

In addition to being one of the most effective exhibits at the Masque, the Chalmers was the only car to make the entire circuit of the floor under its own power. "Billy" Hanchett, sales manager of the Oakland branch of the Lou H. Rose company, Chalmers distributors, who piloted the car the night of the ball, refuses to disclose the identity of the "rose."

"Her first name is really Rose," he answers in response to inquisitive queries, but that is all the information that anybody can get out of him.

Cost Record Lack Reason of Failure

That they neglected to make a careful preliminary survey before selecting a route, or that they did not properly appreciate the value of keeping accurate cost accounts, are reasons those most concerned frequently give for failure in the rural motor express or inter-city hauling business.

Gas Saving Always Interests Motorists

Keeping an ear to the ground may be among the classified sports, but if the ear belongs to a gas-saving "fan" and it is grounded for news of that game there is sport in the pose which often has real compensations, as any motor truck expert will affirm.

"Official"

AN American Balanced Six Sedan enjoys the honor of being selected as the Official Chairman's Car in The TRIBUNE'S Annual Sociability Run to the Yosemite Valley. The principle of balanced design and construction, as it is embodied exclusively in the American Balanced Six, more than qualifies the sedan for such a run and makes it worthy of the distinction.

NEW CAR TAKES PART IN TEST

CAMP CURRY, May 8.—The Lexington, although one of the newest of the new cars participating in today's TRIBUNE Sociability Run to the Yosemite, came through with flying colors. Piloted by C. J. Hulen, wholesale manager for O. N. Hirsch, announcement of whose appointment as Lexington distributor for a number of California counties was recently made. The "Stutebaker" car made one of the best records of the tour.

The new Lexington had barely gone a hundred miles before the Yosemite trip was undertaken. Shortly after Hulen's return to Oakland he plans to make a tour of the entire territory for which Hirsch has been appointed Lexington distributor. This includes not only Alameda and Contra Costa counties, but also Sonoma, Bolano and Napa counties.

SAN FRANCISCO KILLS PROPOSED MOTOR CAR TAX

The proposed San Francisco ordinance taxing motor cars 20 cents per horsepower has been "killed" by the special tax committee of the Board of Supervisors through the efforts of the California State Automobile Association.

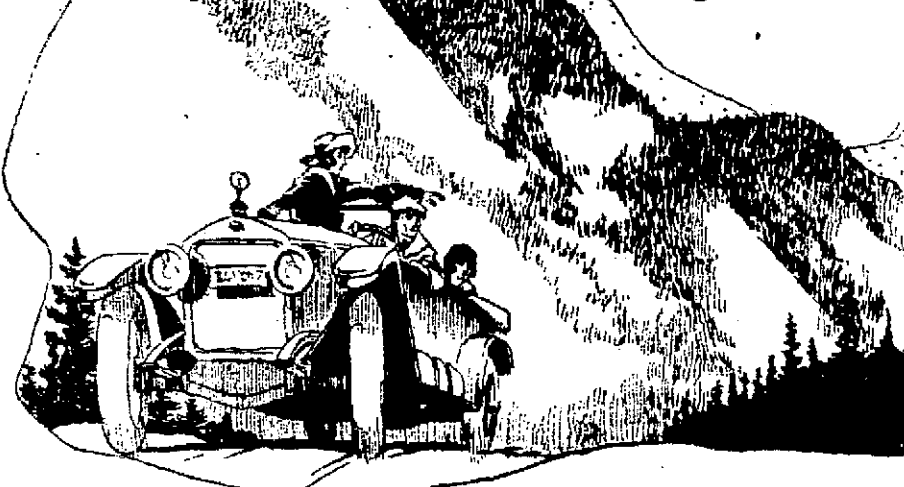

The automobile association launched an attack upon the ordinance which would have imposed a tax in excess of $250,000 upon San Francisco motorists upon its introduction. The legal department of the association through President Thomas attacked the legality of the ordinance before the committee and laid its facts before City Attorney George Lull.

Lull supported the contention of the automobile association.

Over the modern roads in and near Poochow, China, there are 15 motor cars operated in addition to the 2000 junkish.

Despite the high cost of gasoline, motor cars are popular in Poochow, S. A., than any other of the world's larger cities.

A Modern Engine Helps Make Its Greater Value—Its Greater Service

Were the Stephens just an ordinary motor car, yet powered with the Stephens engine, it would still be a car of greater value and greater service.

The Stephens engine is no respecter of the grades of gasoline you supply it,—

It burns completely the lowest grades of gasoline without lessened performance.

The Stephens engine wastes no fuel, therefore it wastes no power.

Rated at 25.3 Horse Power (S. A. E.), it actually develops 57 and is the most powerful engine for its size in passenger automobiles.

This is due to the Stephens Vaporizing Wall and Superheating Chamber, which gives the Stephens engine the aforementioned advantages over other types of engines.

Add the greater value of the Stephens hand-built bodies, the recognized high standard of quality and workmanship throughout, to the greater service possible from the Stephens engine and you have the Stephens—The Salient Six.

Manufactured by Stephens Motor Works of Motline Plow Company

ARCHITECT'S DRAWING OF L. D. ALLEN'S BIG NEW OAKLAND BUILDING, TO BE erected at 21st and Webster Streets, ground for which was broken this week.

NEW BLOCK PLANNED ON MOTOR ROW

Oakland will soon have another magnificent structure to decorate its automobile row. L. D. Allen, announced yesterday that contracts had been let for the new home of L. D. Allen, Inc., at the corner of Webster and Twenty-first streets. It will be the distributing and service center for the Cole Aero-Eight and Stevens-Duryea passenger cars and Sandow trucks.

This was cheering news for Sam S. Keene, manager of the concern. Business has entirely outgrown the quarters he now occupies at 2034 Broadway. McDonald & Kahn the contractors, will rush completion of the building so that all of the Allen departments can be housed under one roof.

The new home will be three stories and basement covering 125 feet on Webster and 90 feet on Twenty-first. This will make approximately 4,000 square feet of floor space, providing a spacious show room, ample provision for general office and for paint body and repair shops.

Adequate room has been reserved for the service department which figures as an important link in the organization chain.

The property and building, both owned by Allen, will represent an investment of approximately $500,000.

Through this move comes further recognition of Oakland as one of the state's leading automobile centers. It represents a successful distribution of confidence in the future of the motor car business here and consequently his faith in the expansion of the city.

It is interesting to note the success which has followed Allen since his entry into the automobile field. He started less than three years ago with a place in San Francisco having a land house. Last week he formally dedicated the new Allen building in San Francisco which represents a half million investment and is said to be the finest plant of its kind in the west. In addition there is an Allen branch in Fresno housing in a new building which is already becoming inadequate for the business.

Cloudy Windshields Prevented by Suds

Here is a simple recipe for eliminating the obscuring of the windshield glass by moisture. Rub the glass all over with strong soapsuds made from automobile soap and permit the suds to dry.

Ignition Calls for Winter Increased

Owners who have been using dry cells for ignition in summer will find it a good plan to couple on two more cells for cold weather use as the cold abstracts material from the power of these cells.

FAULTS EASILY SEEN AT TIMES

Too many people are apt to think of closed-car comfort as chiefly dependent upon the depth of upholstery of the variety of accessories in the shape of vanity boxes and electric cigar lighters which the car may possess.

As a matter of fact, the successful enclosed car demands more in the way of mechanical efficiency in the entire chassis than any open type of car.

Though the luxury of the enclosed model does overshadow the mechanical features of the car at first glance, nevertheless the motorist of experience knows that chassis or motor faults which are not particularly noticeable in an open model will be glaringly apparent in the enclosed car of the same make.

TRIBUNE RUN 'BOOKS' KEPT ALONG ROAD

CAMP CURRY, May 8.—Running "office" in an automobile speedily over the mountain roads into the Yosemite is no easy task, but the full force of officials on the TRIBUNE'S Yosemite Tour made good at today. The official chairman's car, an American sedan, driven by Charles Griffiths, Pacific Coast American distributor, was a constant center of activity from start to finish of the tour.

Motorcycle messengers made reports at stated intervals on the progress of the various cars to Chairman Jim Houghman, and carried dispatches from him to the individual drivers. The chairman's car was in constant communication with the supply truck by this method, and a careful check was kept on the stops made by each machine, and repairs or tire changes also being recorded.

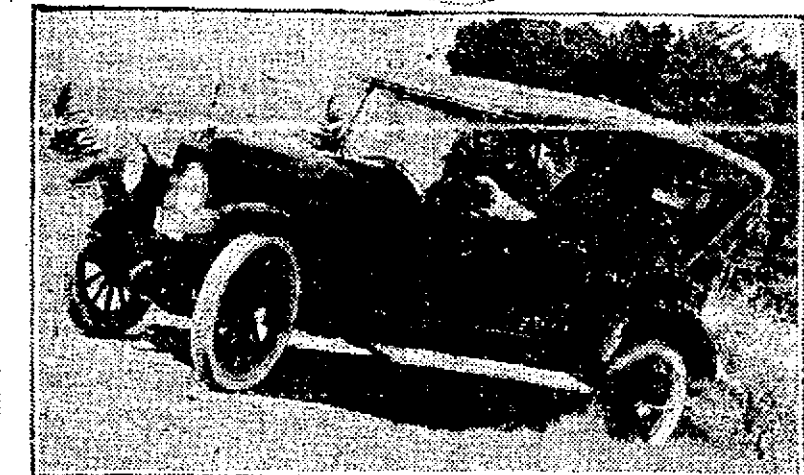

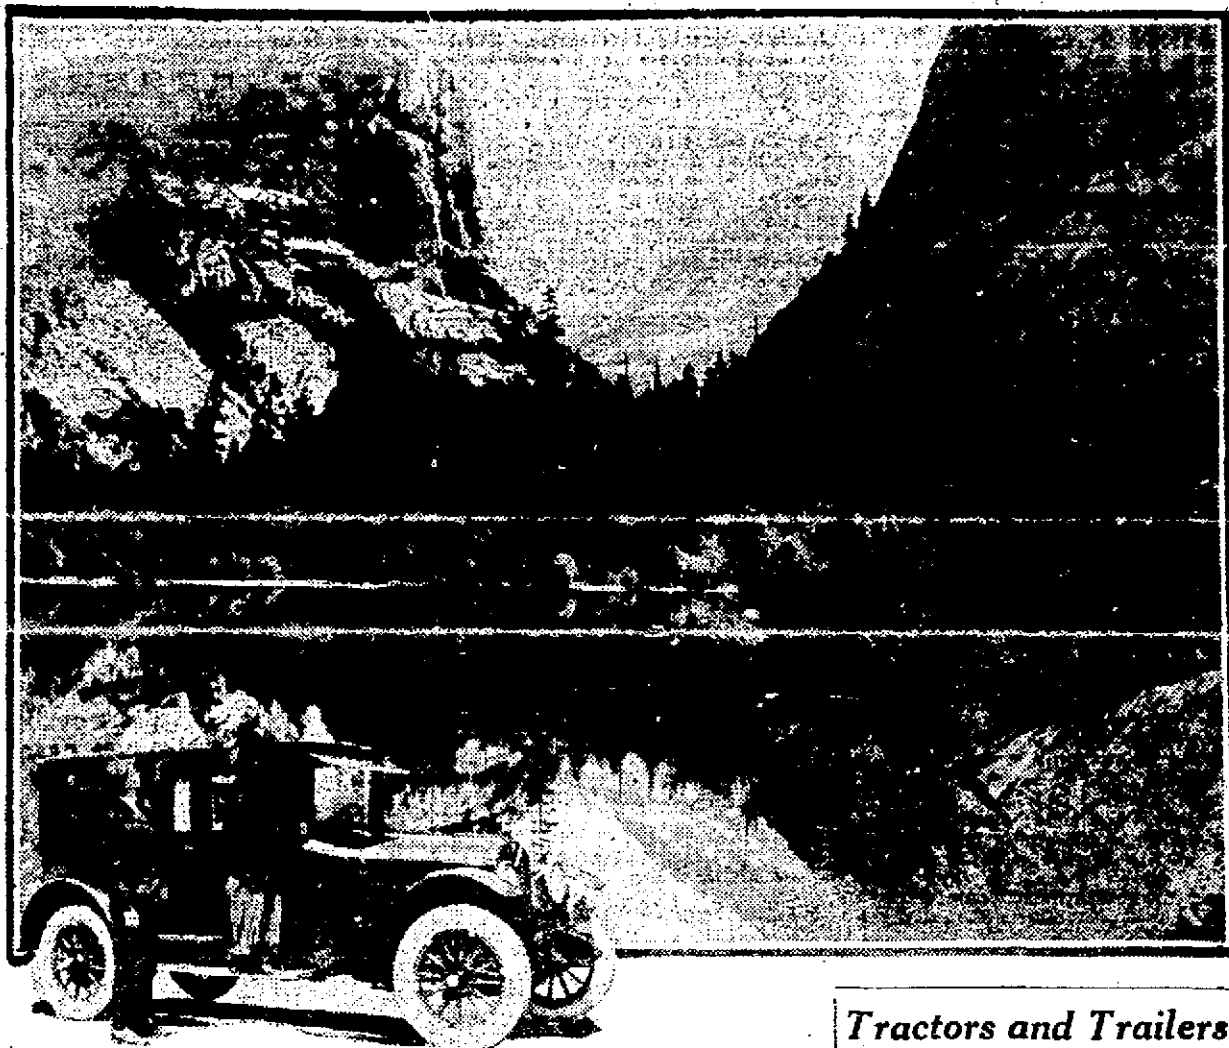

The American came in for a big cheer when it drove into Camp Curry, followed in close order by the leading cars of the run. As each car passed under the justly famous Camp Curry sign of welcome its running time was noted, and in this way the result of the "blind run" was announced almost as soon as the last car reached camp.

CENSUS GROWS WITH INDUSTRY

Ten years ago Akron, Ohio, had 3,087 inhabitants. According to the Census Bureau report, it now has 208,433, an increase of 201.5 per cent. This gain is considerably more than that shown by any other city of 50,000 inhabitants or more, and consequently Akron people consider themselves justified in swelling up a bit with civic pride.

The first rubber factory in Akron was founded in 1870, just fifty years ago, by Dr. B. F. Goodrich, a resident of New York. Dr. Goodrich started the manufacture of rubber products with a force of 25 employees in a building 40 by 100 feet. From that humble start, B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company grew until today it has 28,000 employees.

LADY DRIVER ENTHUSIAST OVER TOUR

One of the most enthusiastic entrants in the TRIBUNE annual tour to this Yosemite is Mrs. E. K. Webster, president of the company. Eastbay territory and one of the few women automobile dealers in the United States. This is not owing entirely to the interest which she is taking in the tour itself, though that is considerable, but for the additional reason that this will be the first time that she has ever been in California's Nature Wonderland, despite her experience as motor car merchant and the extensive traveling which she has done.

As is her regular practice before undertaking a trip covering any great distance, Mrs. Webster had the car which she is driving on the tour overhauled and "tuned up," so as to make the going as pleasant as possible and minimize the chance of trouble on the road. Before the start she personally inspected the machine to make sure, as she expressed it, that everything was "shipshape."

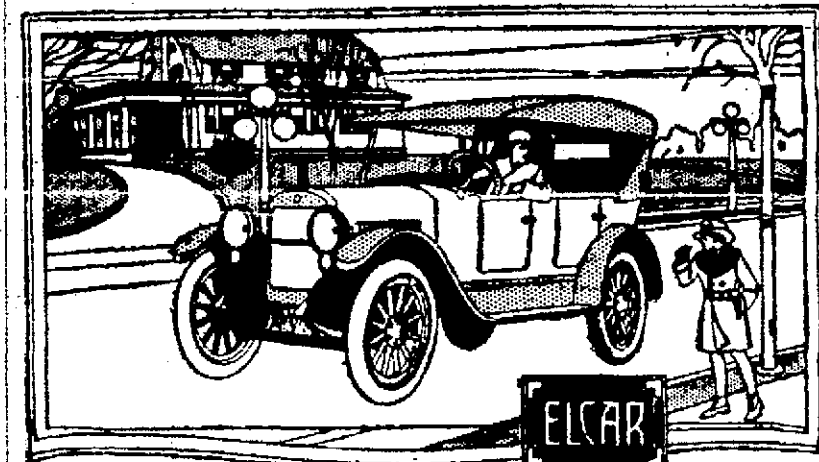

Three of her intimate friends are accompanying her on the tour. Not only is Mrs. Webster a motor-enthusiast, but she is also a sportswoman. One of her keenest forms of enjoyment is an outing trip on which she can exercise her ingenuity in basketing the wily trout. She has a large quantity of hunting and fishing duffel and has displayed unusual skill in making camp out-its among her prized possessions being a tent, of her own make which insures comfort and convenience on excursions into mountainous country and which can be put up in a few minutes.

Water Jackets May Be Made at Home

A cracked water jacket may be mended at home, if the car owner is a moderately handy workman. Drill a small hole at each end of the crack and tap it for a small copper plug. Next scrape the surfaces near the crack until the metal is bright. Cover the crack with soft copper filings and melt them in with a blow torch. Use a flux of resin dissolved in alcohol.

TRIBUNE CUP TIRE BATTLE LIST GROWS

With five entries already filed and several additional ones expected, one of the most exciting tire-changing contests ever staged in Oakland is expected to develop when the husky tube-inflators get busy on this part of the program at the Alameda County Automobile Trade Association's Orpheum theater party, the evening of May 17.

Leonard Sleep of the Rockridge Tire company, who won the contest at last year's theater party in 4 minutes and 25 seconds, will be on hand to defend his title and the ownership of The TRIBUNE trophy that goes with it.

Among the other contestants will be Henry Kroeckel Jr., of the Power Rubber Company; W. J. Aldridge of Cook's Tire Shop; Percy Paynter of the Rockridge Tire Company; and W. J. Rockwell Jr., of the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company.

Entries will close at 5 p. m. on May 10, according to W. T. Rance, chairman of the contest committee, who calls attention to the fact that the contest is open not only to Oakland competitors, but to anyone from any part of the state, as the title is for the state championship.

After the curtain drops the referee will take a reading of the air pressure and those under 30 pounds will be disqualified. The referee's decision will be final.

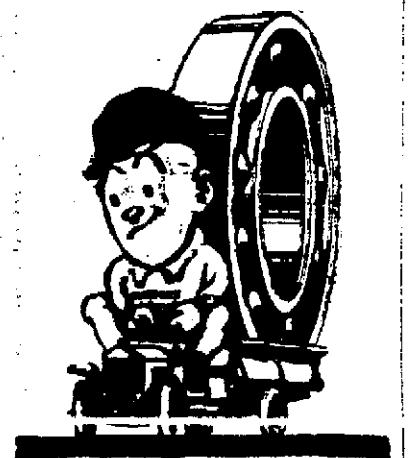

Contestants may compare their gauges with the official gauge any time before the night of the contest.

Any contestant violating any of the rules will be automatically disqualified.

Recruits Summoned By Auto Industry

The automobile industry has called two employees from the Great Western Power company's offices in Oakland and Warren, L. Johnson, who has been assistant cashier for the last three years at the Seventeenth and Broadway offices, has accepted a similar position with a motor car company and Henry L. O'Roke, who has been one of the leading salesmen for the power company, is leaving on May 15 to take a position with a tire company.

You must pass to the right of street cars.

Cash and Bicycle Offered to Boys Must Give Title to Picture

The salesroom of the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company at 2550 Broadway is offering an irresistible attraction to boys of Oakland these days.

The object of their interest is a life-size Norman Rockwell painting of three "regular" kids out for their first bicycle ride of the spring, spinning down a country road with all the carefree exuberance of boy-life in the springtime.

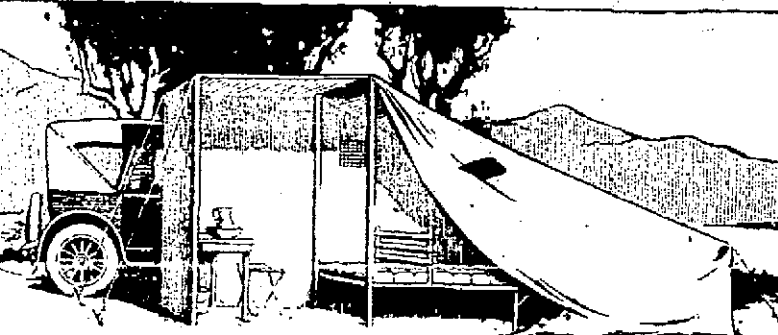

Even though the painting is one of the best ever done by Rockwell, Oakland boys are not so much interested in it as they are in the notice informing them that the picture has no title and that the Goodrich company is calling upon them to select one.

For the best titles suggested the Goodrich Company is going to give some real, worth while prizes. The first prize will be $100 in gold. The second prize will be the boy's own choice of any bicycle made in the country. The third prize will be $25, and the next five prizes a pair of Goodrich bicycle tires. A reproduction of the painting in beautiful colors will be given to each boy selecting a title.

Only boys are eligible to enter the contest—long-panted gents are out of it altogether, so are the girls. All suggested titles must be submitted to the Goodrich Company in Oakland before May 15. They must be written plainly in ink.

TRIBUNE RUN PILOT CAR'S SPEED GOOD

YOSEMITE, May 8.—Arriving at 6:30, the Kissel tourster, bearing Mayor John L. Davis, blazed the trail into the Yosemite Valley for the TRIBUNE'S Sociability run.

The Kissel made remarkably good time all the way to the valley. It left Oakland at 7 o'clock this morning at the head of the long procession of cars from Oakland and San Francisco participating in the run.

Mayor Davis, acting as honorary judge of the tour, enjoyed the trip thoroughly, he stated on arrival here and was enthusiastic over the success of the run as was James Gray, manager of the Oakland branch of Western Motors Company, who piloted the Kissel which carried the mayor.

Although the cars taking part in the annual Economy Run from Los Angeles were scheduled to arrive in camp well ahead of the northern delegation of automobile dealers, the trail-blazing Kissel arrived shortly after the last car from Los Angeles.

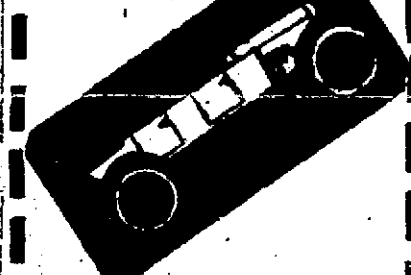

Mayor Davis got a big ovation from the Los Angeles delegation and other guests in the valley, and a rousing welcome from Foster Curry, the

Electric Hand Lamp Proves Invaluable

A self-contained electric hand lamp of the kind that is commonly carried by watchmen is invaluable in emergencies about the motor car. If the lighting system fails entirely when the car is on the road at night, trouble lamp and all else is gone together. Unless there is a light with a separate source of supply on the car the driver must work in the dark or by matches. Long distance motorists make a practice of carrying an oil lantern for just this reason.

Corn Plasters Make Good Felt Washers

Most car owners know that the use of felt washers under the iron washers in certain instances is a useful idea. The felt washer gives an elastic hold, allowing for expansion or contraction and may keep the threads of an over-tight bolt from stripping. However, most of them do not know that the ordinary corn and bunion plasters make very acceptable felt washers and are ways easily obtained.

How Many Miles Will Your Dollar Buy

WHAT is the average life of a truck—and who guarantees it?

Facts available here in town show there are as many as thirty different makes of trucks sold in this vicinity.

Trucks whose makers, for the most part, have been in business but 2, 3 or 4 years. Very few 5 or 6.

Packards may not be the only good trucks—but when you buy a Packard you are betting on experience—not guessing about a future.

Records of 10 years' continuous service, or mileage of 100,000—150,000 and even more, are not uncommon among Packards.

Any business man experienced with Packards will tell you—Packard economy is not alone a matter of the dollar and cents saving the first year.

His biggest economy lies in the unusual length of Packard service—his truck's ability to operate for 10 years or more, or to keep out of the repair shop even after 100,000 miles of severe running.

It will more than pay to investigate Packard long life and economy of operation.

If you ask it, a specially trained transportation engineer will sell and discuss truck transportation as related to your particular business. This will incur no obligation on your part.

MACK PERFORMANCE COUNTS

Features You Get Exclusively in MACK TRUCKS INTRODUCTORY

Twenty-one years of experience devoted exclusively to designing, engineering and manufacturing motor trucks are back of every MACK truck. This experience enables the producers to put on the market today the most nearly perfect highway transport unit that has been devised.

It is our intention to devote this space to telling you what these twenty-one years of experience have accomplished in motor truck building. These will be plain facts absolutely free from camouflage. In extolling the virtues of MACK trucks we shall refrain from making odious comparisons.

This series of advertisements will be educational in nature and we recommend that you follow them carefully and let them be your guide in judging motor truck values.

Leisure Women Respond Nobly To Civic Duty

By SUZETTE

It is a happy commentary upon the leisure women of our city that they responded to the obligations of citizenship on Tuesday and went out and voted.

Any, even bridge-blinded women, who are shunted aside for the business of the day, and a good vote was polled in the "hull" districts where, by a popular superstition, leisure women dwell.

Of the women to whom home-making or wage-earning are not wholly absorbing interests, it is expected that they devote a little time to studying out the problems that confront the citizenry of the country and from calm reflection to work out their answer, and "OTOP" if they don't they are depriving themselves of self-expression, and their community from their service.

Neither contemplation being in accord with the high ideals of womanhood that obtains among thinking people. Leisure women cannot plead "too busy" for the records are full of the vote cast by women who are daughters of toil, either in the home or in the larger world where competition makes the struggle keen and exacting.

What one votes for is, of course, important, and for whom. But the most important thing is to vote, and then square off to take the consequences, loss or win, in good sportsmanlike fashion, without rancor or chagrin. That's character-building, and a process through which women must pass to reach the outlook on life that men possess. They have learned.

COUNCIL LUNCHEON

Millionaires, artists, lawyers, writers, society women, poets, architects, newspaper men and women and a lot of other People Who Care are expected to flock to the luncheon at the campaign for the great memorial to be erected by San Francisco to her soldier heroes—Memorial hall, that will include a Court of Honor to the defenders of the world's liberty; an opera house, an art gallery, a housing place for the California School of Fine Arts and best and biggest of all, a rendezvous for the nation's defenders—the American Legion, Spanish war men and those blessed old fellows in blue who held the nation together in those dark days back in '61.

Plans for the great memorial that would be adequate to its great purpose and at the same time a useful thing were first broached at a luncheon at the Council of Allied Arts a year ago. And it was fit that when the seed fell upon fertile soil and grew, that the council should assemble to rejoice at the outlook and lend a hand to the campaign to raise the money. Two millions and a half are needed. And William H. Crocker and Walter Martin, who are official "gatherers," report a marvelous response from the people—not from persons so much as people—as it should be, for, as Mr. Martin put it, "Culture should grow from the bottom up."

About the walls were drawings by the leading architects of the bay country, as suggestions of the memorial that shall astonish the world, as did Bernard Maybeck's "Palace of Fine Arts" at the Exposition. And talks were made by Willis Poik, Walter Martin, William H. Crocker, "Annie Laurie" and others that reflected the glorious spirit behind the project.

Said Willis Poik: "There isn't an other organization in the world like the Council of Allied Arts. We have no president, no organization, no constitution, no dues, but are held together by a common spirit, devotion to the things that illumine and beautify life. And it is right that from it this campaign should issue."

Arthur Farwell, just back from Santa Barbara, where he went to stage the music for Sam Hume's "Primavera," was chosen by Bernard Maybeck to preside. Always the inviolable chairman, admits upon a member to do the honors. Lightning has twice struck Mr. Farwell—perhaps because he does it so well.

After a discussion of the campaign plan, and the meeting of Everybody Who Cares at the Auditorium on May 19, it was announced that Oakland, too, is maturing her plans for a splendid memorial, to be worked out by the distinguished architect, Bernard Maybeck, on the banks of beautiful Lake Merritt. And it was determined to have a luncheon next Thursday at the same place—the structure of the council—to further San Francisco's plan and to develop the Maybeck plan of Oakland's tribute to her sons who marched away when the country called.

The luncheon is the regular Tait service, offered in the upper banquet room, to which all who are interested in Oakland's plan are invited.

The simultaneous development of two great memorials on both sides of the bay that shall include an art gallery, a museum and other communal needs speaks in eloquent terms the development of the people along the lines of aesthetics—the things that glorify life; the things that give to life a sense of proportion, and which the cares of the day bear down to the spirit.

BERKELEY RECITALS

Sydney Hoben is invading Berkeley with his music recitals, wherein the unmusical imbibe something of the great works of the world, and the musical much joy of con-

probably the most varied of any series yet offered by the Antipodean, and correspondingly patronized. Indeed, it is a royal road to a knowledge of the great things in music, mere bowing acquaintance, if you will, but something of an acquaintance. Besides, it is highly entertaining and makes for many delightful afternoons.

Women Alameda County and Their Work

State Capitol Building At Sacramento Will Be Mecca for Clubwomen

By EDNA B. KINARD

"New conditions teach new duties" is the axiom which has been adopted as the keynote for the nineteenth annual convention of California Federation of Women's Clubs which will summon leaders from all parts of the state this week to Sacramento. The capital building itself is the mecca for the annual pilgrimage, for the power of women has been brought to bear on those who hold the keys of the assembly chamber itself and it stands cleared of the desks and paraphernalia which marks its official character to accommodate the throng of feminine citizens. No kid-gloved handling of problems does this conference of California women pledge but serious, honest grappling with facts and destinies. Perplexities of the home, the state, the nation come in for their equal share of attention. It is the intention of those who have framed the convention program to stress the same, healthful, progressive ideas that will lead to a better understanding of women's responsibility and opportunity.

From the north, the south, the east and the west the journey of hundreds of picked women have begun toward Sacramento, where the Tuesday Club, its officers and members are waiting to extend hospitality of the most perfect kind. When Mrs. Aaron Schloss of Berkeley, state president, lets fall the gavel on Tuesday afternoon, which will announce that the five-day session has been inaugurated, the roll call will be well nigh complete.

MRS. AARON SCHLOSS will preside at the nineteenth annual convention of the California Federation of Women's Clubs in Sacramento this week. The Berkeley woman is president of the body of 50,000 women.

University, "Industrial Democracy"; Dr. Roy W. Kelley, "Giving the Workman a Share in Management"; and Mrs. Annie Little Barry of Berkeley, representing the Pacific

Social Secretary Named

A social secretary has made her debut on the board of directors of the School Women's Club of Oakland. It is she who will be responsible for all the little courtesies of the club, to its members and to those whom it would honor; who will fulfill the charming obligations which quite naturally fall to the lot of an organization so important as the group which she will represent. The rapid growth of the School Women's club attaining a membership of more than 300 pedagogues of the city is responsible for the creation of the unique office. Miss Mignon Wheeler has been chosen to charter its duties. Mrs. Olive McCall succeeds Miss Luita Shelton as president of the large club. She will have the co-operation of the following board of directors: Vice-presidents, Miss Mary Friedrich, Miss Marguerite Vineyard, secretary-treasurer, Miss Alice Williams, members of the board, Mrs. Addie M. Clark, Mrs. Ella J. Keiting, Mrs. Evelyn Chastaine.

By-laws with the School Women's Club, with all other organizations, have required revision to make them fit modern times. Amendments were adopted the past week, not only creating the office of social secretary, but placing the treasurer under bonds.

Mrs. J. George Short, member of the board of education, and Mrs. Edward Morgan Jones, president of the Oakland Federation of Mothers' Club, were the speakers at the annual meeting on Monday.

Clubs Select Officers

National politics was not the only sort that marked the week's progress. Besides the election in the School Women's Club there were several other groups of women which announced their choice of leaders for the coming twelve months. The following officers were elected by Lakewood Women's Club: President, Mrs. W. W. Dennis; vice-president, Mrs. Norman Campbell, corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. E. Mauchman, financial secretary, Mrs. L. G. Campbell; treasurer, Mrs. F. L. Tette, and Mrs. M. B. Turner, Mrs. E. R. Dudley.

Park View Club announce the following newly named board of directors: President, Mrs. F. F. Porter, vice-presidents, Mrs. C. A. Curand a lecture by Dr. Louise May Richter on "Some Special Phases of Sex Education," with various reports, will give the Friday morning interest. Resolutions will be adopted.

"Redwoods of California, with a special plea for their conservation," will be made by Charles F. Stern, former highway commissioner. Friday afternoon, Mrs. Henry R. De-Nyxe of Riverside will also speak. Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt, president of Mills College, who on behalf of the state federation bore the souvenir asking speedy ratification of the peace treaty to Washington, and Professor Thomas W. Reed of the University of California will deliver the closing addresses of the convention week. Dr. Reinhardt will speak Friday night on "Women in the United States." Reed has announced as his subject "The United States in the World."

Mrs. D. E. Earle of Sacramento has been named chairman of the committee on resolutions; Mrs. J. J. Suess of Redlands, chairman of resolutions, and Mrs. J. D. Brennan of Sacramento, chairman of transportation. Miss Jennie McCounell is chairman of the local board.

The lighter side of convention life is not to be neglected for the hostess women have been eager to arrange a series of happy events for each day. A visit to the Crocker art gallery is scheduled for Wednesday, with motor parties made up for those who prefer out of doors. The historic Sutter's fort will be the destination of the delegates on Thursday, with a tea to follow at the Tuesday clubhouse. Music and living pictures will contribute the evening program, with Miss Susanne Everett Thurston of Mills college, the speaker. Friday afternoon the clubwomen will be taken to the University farm at Davis Saturday will be given over to motor parties, which will follow an extended itinerary through the country.

Important Announcement

On Monday May 10 Mrs. Fanny Ward Miller of the Oakland School of the Drama will open a Summer School session of intensive work in all lines of vocal expression, at reduced rates.

These low rates will obtain only through May, June and July, when the following courses will be offered:

1. A twelve-lesson Health Course in Physical Culture including the Psychology of Self-Healing Through the Power of the Subconscious Mind. Ten Dollars.

2. Public Speaking, for club women especially, with careful attention to developing and modulating the voice and securing a distinct and clear-cut utterance. Twenty-four lessons for twenty dollars.

3. A course of twelve lessons in the principles of good reading, as illustrated in Mrs. Miller's public for self-criticism that cannot fail to produce sound and permanent improvement. Ten Dollars.

4. Assistance to advanced students in preparing a pleasing repertoire of selected readings for private or public use. Twenty-four lessons for twenty-five dollars or half that number for fifteen dollars.

Those of Mrs. Miller's regular students who remain in town for the early summer months are invited to take advantage of these low rates.

New students will do well to begin early in the season in order to get a full benefit of the offer.

For full explanations and outlines of the several courses call at the studio at the regular office hours, from 6 to 7:30 in the evening, or phone MERRITT 2021 for appointment—Advertisement.

Luncheon for Club Leaders

Prophets will have full honor in the home circle on Tuesday when members of Ebell assemble at the luncheon board to compliment that interesting corps of women who have been their leaders in years that are gone. Past Presidents of the pioneer club will occupy the high seats. They are Mrs. William G. Ferguson, Mrs. James A. Vandergrift, Mrs. John A. Beckwith, Mrs. Edwin W. Owen, Mrs. A. C. Posey, Mrs. Charles J. Woodbury, Mrs. James B. Hume, Mrs. Thomas Mitchell Potter, Mrs. Kate A. Bulkley, Mrs. George W. Bunnell. The circle will not be complete for some of the leaders have finished their course and others are now living far afield. However, it will be a goodly representation which will span the years in their memories.

"Community Drama" will be discussed by Professor Samuel Hume of the University of California during the after-luncheon program. A group of songs will be contributed by Miss Leslie Gompertz of Berkeley.

An al fresco luncheon under the oaks at Mosswood will close the season for the Original Writers' section on Wednesday. Mrs. C. V. Howe is curator, Mrs. E. D. Y. her assistant, of this interesting coterie of clubwomen who are masters of the pen.

The annual breakfast of the Tea Club is scheduled for Wednesday with the Adelphi clubhouse at Alameda the setting for the brilliant function. Mrs. Frederick Maurer will preside as hostess. The program of the later hour is being arranged by Mrs. C. M. Allardice and promises some unique features.

The May meeting of the Alameda County Woman's Jury Association will take place on Tuesday in the supervisory chambers in the Hall of Records, Mrs. A. T. Kalas presiding speaker.

Music and Musicians

"Old Songs" Program Will Be Offered by Trained Chorus

By ROY HARRISON DANFORTH

OAKLAND will hear a revival of the "Old Home Songs" concert, which was so great a success in 1915, at the Oakland Auditorium next Tuesday evening. The new Community Chorus organized about two months ago and which now numbers almost three hundred singers, will make its first public appearance upon this occasion. The chorus was organized under the direction of Community Service, with Roy D. McCarthy, community music director, as the organizer, and is sponsored by the Oakland Rotary Club.

Alexander Stewart, who is directing the preliminary rehearsals, will also direct the chorus at the concert next Tuesday evening. Assistant chorus at this concert will be like airmen, Berthold Winchester, soprano; Mrs. Ruth Waterman Anderson, contralto; and the Oakland Rotary Club Quartet, Hugh Williams (first tenor), Robert Battison (second tenor), Lowell Redfield (first bass), Frank Figone (second bass). Mrs. Mable Hill Redfield will be the accompanist and Miss Marion Nicholson, violinist, and Miss Margaret Avery, cellist, will assist in obligatory numbers.

Over six thousand people heard this concert upon a former occasion and it is expected that an audience of like numbers will be present next Tuesday. The executive committee of the Community Chorus are Harry Schroeder, chairman; Charles Gass, vice-chairman; Miss Geraldine Swift, secretary; E. E. Graves, Miss Blanche Hilliges, Mrs. W. P. L'Honnemelle, Miss Elizabeth Robinson.

MILLS COLLEGE ANNUAL CONCERT

The annual concert by pupils of the Mills College music department will be given at the St. Francis hotel, San Francisco, Saturday evening, May 15.

The Mills College music department is larger this year than ever before in its history. 200 students studying under fourteen instructors and professors.

The program this year is varied and includes music by classic and modern composers. Students from Riverside, Santa Barbara, Los Angeles, Fresno, Oakland and Portland, Ore., are among those who will take part.

Among the faculty whose students will play are: Edward F. Schneider, dean, piano; Frederic Biggerstaff, piano; Signor Antonio de Grassi, violin; Henrietta B. Blanchard, voice; Elizabeth Mackall, voice, choral.

The concert will be given at 8:30 and is open to the public.

PROGRAM OF CITY BAND CONCERT

A special number in honor of Mother's Day will be rendered by the Municipal band in Lakeside park at Sunday afternoon's popular concert, which will include as another feature the Peer Gynt suite. The complete program follows:

"Star-Spangled Banner"; march, "Stars and Stripes" (Souza); overture, "Festival" (Leutner); waltz, "Morning Journal" (Strauss); paraphrase, "Home, Sweet Home" (Nehrl); suite, "Peer Gynt" (Grieg); overture, "Ruy Blas" (Mendelssohn); soprano solo, (a) "Mother's Hands" (Ager), (b) "Swanee Shore" (Mittell); by Gloria Hand; waltz, "Il Bacio" (Arditi); "La Lionessa" (Chaminade); selection, "M. M. S. Pinafore" (Sullivan); grand march, "Tannhauser" (Wagner); "America."

RECITAL WILL ADD ENDOWMENT

A joint artists' recital for the benefit of the Mills College endowment fund is to be held next Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the Hotel Oakland. On the program will appear Miss Lillian Glaser, soprano; Mrs. Robert Malcolm Batson, violinist; Mrs. Gertrude Bidle-DeJongues, pianist; Mrs. Dent Slaughter, accompanist. The program to be rendered is a diversified one, the selections having been chosen from a wide field.

OAKLAND PIANIST WINS IN CONTEST

Miss Alice Mayer, concert pianist of Oakland, was the winner of the piano at the young artists' contest of the California Federation of Music Clubs held last Monday in Fresno. Edith Grimes of Los Angeles was the winner in the vocal section. Miss Mayer is well known not only in Eastern musical circles but in eastern cities as well.

During the convention of the Federation of Music Clubs the following officers were elected: Mrs. Cecil Frankel, president; Mrs. Mattison Jones, first vice-president; Mrs. E. E. Bruner, second vice-president; Mrs. Benjamin Baker, recording secretary; Julius Seyler, treasurer; Anton H. Embos, auditor.

BERKELEY MUSICAL ASSOCIATION SESSION

The Berkeley Musical Association will hold its next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, Alston way and Dana street. The nominating committee will report its nominations for members of the council for the ensuing year. Other business will include a business report by the council relative to affairs of the association and its finances. This meeting will mark the close of the tenth season. Membership dues are being collected now and work on next season's program will then follow. The council consists of the following:

President, Beverly L. Hodghead; first vice-president, Professor Leon J. Richardson; second vice-president, William Edwin Chamberlain; secretary, Julian R. Waybur; treasurer, Samuel M. Marks; Mrs. A. O. Leuschner, Miss Marie Louise Hill, Victor H. Henderson, Frank L. Naylor, Frank M. Seconover, Paul Steindorf.

FAMOUS CALIFORNIA COMPOSER COMING

Charles Wakefield Cadman, California's famous composer, the writer of the opera, "Shaneewis" and numerous popular lyrics, including "The Land of the Sky-blue Water," is to give a piano recital at the Northbrae Community Church on The Alameda in North Berkeley, a week from Monday evening. This church is the nucleus of a community center which is developing artistic and social as well as religious ideals. The recital is under the auspices of women of the church and for the benefit of the organ fund.

Mrs. Parrish-Moyle, soprano, will assist. Mr. Cadman is coming from Los Angeles especially for the concert.

for two violins, Mozart; sonata in E major for two violins, Handel; concerto in D minor for two violins, Bach, and suite for two violins, Moszkowski.

ETUDE CLUB'S YEAR IS ENDED

Etude Club brought to an end last Monday a most successful year's work under the leadership of Mrs. Harold C. Holmes, the retiring president, with a concert, in which the club choral sang, under the direction of Lowell Moore Redfield. Other numbers were offered by Mrs. Emily K. Bragdon, Mrs. Herbert Avery, Mrs. Alice Clark, Mrs. Frank Clark, Mrs. Ralph Mark, Mrs. Lewis Kistler, Miss Fern Backman, Mrs. George M. Naus, Miss Kathleen Sherries Luke, Mrs. Martyn F. Warner and Miss Beatrice Sherwood.

YSAÏE, ELMAN PROGRAM TOLD

Eugene YsaÏe and Mischa Elman, the eminent violinists, will give a joint recital at the Auditorium Theater in San Francisco Sunday afternoon, May 23. The program they have chosen for that occasion includes the following: Concertante auditorium will be admitted during the progress of the first number. Her opera numbers will include a cavatina from Donizetti's "Don Pasquale," "Sovra il sen" from Bellini's "La Sonnambula" and the "Shadow Song" with flute obligato from Meyerbeer's "Dinorah." A number of historic and modern ballads will also be offered.

LAST PROGRAM OF GALLI-CURCI

Why Teeth Glisten

Millions of them—a new method

All statements approved by high dental authorities

You see glistening teeth now wherever you look, for millions clean teeth in a new way. We offer you here a ten-day test, to show the results on your own teeth.

The fight on film

Dental science has found a way to combat film on teeth—the film that dims teeth and destroys them.

Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. The ordinary tooth paste does not dissolve it, so brushing has left much of it intact. And very few people have escaped its damage.

It is the film-coat that discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea, which attacks 95 in 100.

Now, after years of research, a way has been found to combat it. Able authorities have amply proved its efficiency. Leading dentists everywhere now urge its daily use.

And millions of people now employ it, largely by dental advice. The method is embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. Two other new factors are combined with it. And this tooth paste is inaugurating a new dental era.

Free to all who ask

A ten-day test of Pepsodent is sent to all who ask. Also a book to explain the results. The method quickly proves itself.

Pepsodent is based on pepsin, the digestant of albumin. The film is albuminous matter. The object of Pepsodent is to dissolve it, then to day by day combat it.

Pepsin long seemed impossible. It must be activated, and the usual agent is an acid harmful to the teeth. But science has found a harmless activating method, so pepsin can be every day applied.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coat disappears.

Do this for your own sake and your family's sake. Nearly everybody suffers from this film. Cut out the coupon so you won't forget.

The First Anniversary Sale Ever Held by This Concern

Opens Tomorrow, and Continues for One Week

The object of this Great Sale is to celebrate the founding of this business 70 years ago this month, which was the first business of its kind that opened in San Francisco.

It was in 1850, just after the fire which destroyed the whole business portion of what was then the Metropolis of the Pacific, that the Verdier family, coming from France, essayed to become a part of the business life of California. To that end they opened their venture, and have continued it ever since, passing through the throes of three wars (the Civil War, the Spanish-American War, and the recent World War). During all of these 70 years they have met every financial obligation; have dealt squarely and generously with their patrons; have never shirked a civic or national duty, and have been proud to be a part and parcel of San Francisco's up-building. Many old citizens know the story better than the writer is able to tell it in so small a space.

A business 70 years in one family is a notable record in this country. So it is fitting that we celebrate with a Birthday Sale—that gives to the community

Our New Spat Pump

Something besides beautiful lines here. The soft black kid was stretched for 7 days on a last. The suggestion of a spat at the throat was fashioned by one craftsman, stitched on by another, inspected by a third. The covered Louis heel was made one firm piece by a long steel screw, then fastened in place for good by an expert. Skilled hands worked 22 days to endow this dainty Walk-Over pump with something more than just beautiful lines, and it fits feet not easily fitted.

Keep Away
The Wrinkles.

Mix Your Beauty Aids
at Home.

By Madame Marce

TO retain a youthful complexion, or to revive a neglected one, is only a matter of daily care, together with good toilet preparations. Here are some home mixed creams and hair beautifiers that are recommended as having been tested and tried for many years.

A Cream to Tighten the Skin and Remove Wrinkles
It is really inspiring to know that removing wrinkles almost entirely upon yourself. Just a few minutes' trouble at the start and more than half the battle is over. It will take but a few moments for you to make a mixture of two ounces of opol, a little water and glycerine. The opol can be obtained from your druggist. The cream is a cream produced startling changes in the skin in a short time. It will make you look many years younger if you only use it faithfully.

A Cream to Fade Out Blemishes
There is but one thing you need to beautify your skin and bring it to a condition of incomparable loveliness in a short time. By the use of this cream you will soon find that all red spots, freckles, all muddiness and sallowness have disappeared completely, leaving the skin pure and clear as a lily. You cannot get this result except by mixing one ounce of zintone with a little glycerine and hot water and applying it at the drug store. This makes a remarkable cream, which, when used liberally, will not fail to give you the results.

Use a Face Powder
It is only a question of a few moments to get rid of blackheads. The best thing to use is norexin. You sprinkle a little norexin on a wet cloth or sponge and rub the blackheads with this for a few moments. Looking in your mirror, you will find the black heads gone. This is a very remarkable article, and you need no longer use tonics, face-steaming, and pinching, and other useless methods for many months at a time. For fifty cents you can get the norexin from your druggist.

For a Shampoo
Just buy a twenty-five cent package of eggol and dissolve it in hot water as you need it. This is far better than soap.

To Remove Superfluous Hair
There is a very remarkable way to remove superfluous hair. Simply moisten the hair with a little of the solution, and the hair begins to shrivel. You can see this dissolve and then with just a swish of the finger, all the hair can be rubbed off clear and clean. It is glorious. Every woman should have some solution on her dresser. It will cost one dollar at any drug store, and will last for a considerable time.

For a Dependable Hair Invigorator
You can easily prevent hair from falling out and you can make it grow thick and luxuriant by a very simple method, which is far superior in results to that of any hair tonic you can buy. The invigorator is made by adding one ounce of beta-quinol to a half pint of water and one ounce of beta-quinol to a half pint of water and one ounce of beta-quinol to a half pint of water. The invigorator may be procured for fifty cents at any drug store. Try this and you will no longer and handouts of hair come out on your comb.

AN FRANCISCO, May 8.—

Aside from the national importance of the great Johnson victory, which in the opinion of the eastern press makes the Californian the most formidable candidate before the Chicago convention, it has a local significance which is being discussed wherever the politically wise congregate. The contest resulted in the crossing of old political lines. On the Johnson delegation are as many former so-called regular Republicans as quondam Progressives. It was a matter of general comment that some of the most ardent Hoover supporters were erstwhile loud champions of Senator Johnson. For instance, the Earl interests north and south turned a cold shoulder toward California's junior Senator. The Los Angeles Express, owned by the Earl estate, espoused with vehemence the cause of the former food administrator. Then there was Eddie Dixon who jumped the tracks. Where was Governor Stephens? To express it mildly, he was quiescent, but most of the members of "his" organization were "legging it" for their former chief. Chester Rowell, a most intimate friend in the days gone by, wrote columns of editorials with one line for Johnson and the balance for Hoover; these "Johnson" editorials being reproduced in all the Hoover papers. Mrs. Rowell was active for Johnson's opponent. While the labor vote was unquestionably for Johnson, it is a remarkable fact that the string of papers throughout California owned by the Scripps interests, which claim to speak for organized labor, were in violent opposition to the California senator, and for his opponent. What was true of individuals was true of localities. Berkeley, always a stronghold of Johnson, came close to reversing itself, while Los Angeles actually returned a majority against the man whom that section had so materially assisted in attaining the position he today occupies. As a staunch supporter expressed it, many Californians were for Johnson until the biggest opportunity of his life presented itself, and then for various reasons, some of them trivial, they deserted their idol, while many who had heretofore not supported Johnson stepped in and made it possible for a California senator to be elected.

What effect the result will have on the national convention of the leading political party, what effect the result will have on the senatorial contest in California is problematical. E. A. McSwede of Los Angeles was for Johnson and so was Sam Shonbridge, who exhibits a picture of himself shaking hands with California's presidential candidate, A. J. Wallace, the other Southern California candidate, was said to have been definitely lined up with Hoover. Bill Kent's position is not known. Out of it all new alignments are looked for in California.

Seething Nebraska

It was supposed to be all over in Nebraska. It was accepted without question that Hitchcock had met Bryan and had been vanquished, if not horse, but and dragons, at least so effectively as to eliminate him from further consideration as to the presidential contest; but here is a man from Omaha who has indulged in comment that is different. He says that in the first place Senator Hitchcock received an overwhelming endorsement for president; that the senator consented to the use of his name as a presidential candidate in the hope that Mr. Bryan would also file his name, making the contest clean-cut— which Mr. Bryan appeared to be too busy to do. Also that one of those elected on the Bryan ticket as a delegate at large has come out with a strong independent of Hitchcock, declaring that he is opposed to Mr. Bryan's treaty stand and his advocacy of government ownership of railroads. Also, again, that some of the Bryan district delegates are not only for Senator Hitchcock, but are "anti" on prohibition, one of them being from Bryan's own district. Whence it may be concluded that the prospect of gaiety in the convention here will be even greater than was indicated by the face of the returns from Nebraska.

A Pennsylvania Ramification

The Hoover candidacy has had several unusual ramifications, one in particular which we of California have been imperfectly advised of, if we have had any cognizance of it at all. It figures in a social war away off in the Quaker City. The Hoover boom was launched by the Saturday Evening Post, which, as everybody knows, is owned by Cyrus H. K. Curtis and published in Philadelphia. It would appear that the Curtis have not yet quite arrived socially, but the Wanamakers, the Stotesburys, the Biddles, the Wideners, the Drexlers and others have, and constitute a formidable political as well as social clan. When Mr. Hoover visited Philadelphia a few weeks ago he was taken in full charge by the Curtis. Being somewhat of a loner, he created a situation. As the object of his visit was really political it was desirable to meet the big political personages, who are largely also the big social personages, as has been intimated, it was desirable to enlist powerful agencies in his behalf. Pennsylvania is a rock-ribbed Republican state, and Mr. Hoover had not manifested his bias at that time. So the Curtis made strenuous endeavor to advance him with the politically influential. One of the political leaders is one of the Stotesburys, who is represented as having been very curt. The anxiety to break into the charmed political circle is understood to have been furthered by the discovery that they were grooming a dark horse for the Pennsylvania adherents. It attention could be centered on the California aspirant instead, a decided point could be gained. It was expected in the more rarified circles that Governor Sproul would be the mysterious steed, but the despatches of a couple of weeks ago, it will be remembered, began to mention Senator Knox. It may have just happened, but it will be recalled that Mr. Hoover suddenly got down off the fence and confessed to Republican leanings at a time that might have coincided with these occurrences. But it seems to have been without avail. Mr. Stotesbury and the social-political clan will have none of him, the Wanamaker division even leaning toward Johnson, apparently to emphasize their attitude.

The Governor's Usual Surprise

The Governor preserved his well-known habit of springing surprises in the appointment of a successor to the late Justice Henry A. Melvin, albeit the selection of Judge W. A. Sloan is generally acknowledged to be a good one. The trend of conjecture was that the appointee would come from the north. Justice Melvin having been such a distinctive representative of this part of the state. Various likely appointees were thought of, some from other sections, but so far as I heard Judge Sloan was not picked at all. The new appointee has a creditable status in San Diego, where he resides. He was serving on the Appellate bench through the governor's appointment, in whom, therefore, he must have been known as to fitness and qualifications. There was no striving for the appointment, as there might have been under other conditions. Many of the recognized eligibles have better prospects on the Appellate bench, and declined to take the risk of the two campaigns that the supreme justiceship involves. Justice Melvin's term would have expired with this year. But as an appointee only holds till the first election following his appointment, he will have to be elected for that part of the unexpired term remaining after election, as well as for the full term following. Several of those who might otherwise have been regarded as such a little too strenuous.

Police Court Imbroglia

Some time ago—in the Knave of March 20, to be exact—I somewhat timorously discussed the matter of a district attorney having charge of an investigation of a court, the bench upon which he sat up to the first of the present year, and concerning acts that were committed during his incumbency as a judge. It was suggested that the seemly way would be for him to decline to act, permitting the state attorney general, or other duly qualified prosecutor, to take charge. The suggestion never seemed to touch anywhere, and the grand jury kept striving but getting nowhere. The Bar Association saved wood and nothing happened at all commensurate with what the signs foreshadowed. It appears now that there was immense friction, but that it was submerged. It has since come to the surface, and from the fact that the Bar Association has petitioned the governor to take a band by appointing a prosecutor who is not involved in the matters under investigation through prior official relations the Knave sensed it right. The fact that such action is so considerably belated, however, may militate against its ultimate effectiveness. The proceeding has been delayed and belated until much of the intent to clean out a foul corner of the city government has been dulled.

McLeran a Live Wire

Supervisor McLeran tore into mayoralty activities during his brief career as chief executive in strenuous fashion. Three things at least were achieved while he sat on the throne. He pushed the occupation license ordinance through the council with the energy of a hydraulic jack, accepting alike the storms of protest and the whispers of approval with fine stoicism; and though ten days' time was permissible within which to affix the mayor's approval to the ordinance, scarcely one-tenth that time was allowed to elapse before he signed the measure, making it law. But the ordinance as passed was minus the provision for taxing under-sidewalk space, a proposition which McLeran favored. Forthwith he authorized submission to a vote of the people of an amendment to the new measure whereby it is proposed to add this tax to the revenue ordinance. Third among his whirlwind acts was the fathoming of an ordinance making provision for the establishment of a fire prevention bureau, a new and distinctive agency in the governmental system of San Francisco, designed to carry into practice certain preventive measures long recognized as essential safeguards. The new bureau is an outgrowth of recent discussions, attendant upon the formation in this city of a San Francisco unit of the National Fire Prevention League, and is sustained by the homely philosophy that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. Fire prevention as distinguished from fire protection has become the accepted doctrine of experts who wrestle with the demon of the flames.

Police Judge Owens

An unusual situation exists as to the tenure of Police Judge Henry Owens. He was appointed by the mayor to succeed Judge Brady—elected district attorney—with the express understanding that he was to serve only till Attorney McAtee could qualify for the office, he not having been in practice in the city or state long enough to acquire status in accordance with the provisions of the city charter. McAtee is favored by the mayor, who thus holds the job open. Police judges are chosen at city elections, and the office will not be filled by election till next year. Owens has made a favorable impression during the short time that he has occupied the police bench. A magistrate in that court has to face a handicap to begin with. The Grand Jury investigation now going on, and the partial disclosures that have resulted, suggest that much. But Owens has struck out on original lines, and altogether he is a new type. He has become a candidate for the Superior bench, with excellent prospects of success. He is a self-determined young man, having been a locomotive engineer and studying law when off duty, and even when on duty when his engine was laid out along the line.

Aftermath of an Appointment

I get an interesting inside story regarding the appointment of McCoy to the Board of Works. The reason it hung fire so long was that the mayor, finding that he was in wrong as to certain powerful influences, sought to square himself by this appointment. What the reason was that caused City Engineer O'Shaughnessy to oppose the appointment so decidedly does not appear, but something was done to compose the difference, and it was supposed that everything was lovely till the discovery was recently made that the new element in the Board of Works had thrown it out of its former balance, with the totally unexpected chance of President Reardon losing his head. Reardon has been one of the strong men of the municipal administration, and one of the mayor's props, and it is therefore a matter of thrilling interest to the few who are knowing to the possibilities. Sometimes such plans are circumvented. I know I have stumbled on a number of plots in their subterranean stage that never emerged, and then have been accused of shooting fairy stories; but if this doesn't work out, it will not be because it has not been planned.

Ships in the Harbor

A gentleman crossing the bay in the company of a tourist was quizzed as to the shipping in the harbor. Possibly the tourist had been here in bygone years, when the wheat fleet was riding at anchor, waiting for cargoes that were certain in the wheat raising era, and which brought a brave array of ships to the port; or it may be that he came from a maritime center where the shipping was more concentrated and apparent, and where a port of less importance appeared to have greater commerce. At any rate, he remarked the absence of ships and expressed surprise that the chief port of the Pacific should present such an idle appearance. The resident did not consider himself sufficiently posted to explain or argue the matter, but went to the pains of looking up the subject. He found that on the day that the tourist made his observation there were eighty-five craft here with off-shore destinations, which of course would be exclusive of the coastwise shipping, always very considerable as to numbers. The explanation of the seeming scarcity was, in the first place, that the harbor is so large that a big fleet does not loom in it as a small fleet does in a small port; and in the second place, so many of the carrying craft are steamers, and moored at wharves, that they are not seen, as sailing vessels were. Another thing is that a modern tramp steamer will carry as much as ten sailing vessels.

The Status of Teachers

Owing to the fact that San Francisco school teachers are hired by the month, and not by the year, they are denied by charter provision receiving pay during illness contracted in the line of duty or otherwise, no matter what the urgency may be. The charter provides that only those serving on annual stipends may have sick leave with pay, the mere matter of periodicity being the governing factor. That public sentiment has at last compelled attention to this injustice is surprising only because tardy. The situation has just been emphasized through information sent by Auditor Boyle to Chairman Aultman, of the Salaries Committee, in response to an inquiry by the Civic League of Improvement Clubs; the latter body and the North Beach Improvement Club being the only civic bodies of the city which have not demanded that teachers' salaries be raised. The broad discussion began, in its present intense aspect, as the result of a letter addressed to the supervisors and signed by Paul J. Moore, "President Teachers' Association. Allied with San Francisco Federation of Labor." The teachers' association has a membership of 1900 in the total body of 2000 teachers employed in the schools of this city—a body sufficient to paralyze the entire system were its members called out on strike by the dominant labor body of the city. These teachers, it seems, occupy the same position in their union affiliation as would be the case with policemen so organized and pledged, or as are the city offices clerical forces of this city, or as was proposed by city firemen. Warning against such affiliations by employees of the city have heretofore been made by the supervisors and will doubtless be made again, with redoubled vehemence, should necessity arise.

Protecting the Abalone

The Fish and Game Commission's quarterly publication is out, and its contents are interesting from several points of view. Those concerned in the fish industries, as well as sportsmen and nature lovers, will find good reading between its covers. Its articles are all intended to be serious, but one from a particular angle may be regarded with a certain mild humor. It relates to abalones. Three species of this shellfish have been found in Northern California—the red, the black and the green. This is the simplest name given them, though their designations bristle with scientific names in Italian. But one of these, the red, is found in numbers rendering it of importance for food. The humor of the article begins here. "It is exceedingly difficult to gauge the absolute abundance of the red abalone in any place without the aid of a diver's apparatus." Notwithstanding the fact that but one species is of importance as a food, and the extent of that is only to be gauged by a deep sea explorer, which means that they can't be taken unless the fisherman is equipped with a diving apparatus, these denizens of the very deep are protected by game laws. A heavy fine awaits whoever dons a diving suit and goes to the bottom and takes abalone. It may be supposed that nobody incurs the penalty; but an account recently appeared in a Southern California paper of a game sleuth who overheard a boy telling about getting abalone, and forthwith arrested and haled him before a stern magistrate, who fined him twenty-five dollars and sentenced him to jail for ten days, which sentence, however, was suspended on his promise not to commit such a crime again.

Foreign Trade Convention

In business circles chief interest abides in the assembly of the National Foreign Trade Convention, soon to convene in this city. Increase of not only local but national trade actuates all business men. The general theme of the gathering will be "The Effect of Being a Creditor Nation." The arrival of the vanguard of Oriental merchants, manufacturers and financiers some days ago was the occasion of much consultation and enlarging of plans, it being made known that the probable attendance from the East would be in excess of previous anticipations. As the meeting of May 12-15 will be the seventh world event of the kind, the delegates will come together under the orderly procedure of an established institution, all programmed and planned for action. It is expected the convocation will proceed with dispatch, exemplifying the business maxim that time is money and should not be wasted. From the first day of assembly until its final hour the great conference will be a strenuous affair. Either in mass gathering or in specialized sections members will be constantly engaged. Innumerable experts in foreign trade, commerce, finance and production will be given special facilities for illustrating discourses upon the themes assigned them, while exhibitors will display products gathered from the uttermost parts of the globe. For Americans desiring to extend trade to fields heretofore untried specific instruction will be imparted relative to packing and branding, weight, size and pattern of pack age; financing and business nomenclature, with advice relative to business practice in foreign fields. Broadly considered the assembly will constitute a school of instruction in foreign trade, embracing all nationalities, all conditions and all possibilities. The event will undoubtedly prove to be the greatest of the kind ever held upon the Pacific coast.

Shortage of Gasoline

Of course, the happy and heedless person who merely fills the tank whenever it gets low, without any other thought after she is loaded up again than turning her loose and watching pedestrians scurry at crossings, may not be worrying much over the gasoline prospect—there are those who never worry over a prospect till they are square up against it—but there are others, having knowledge of the oil situation and understanding how "gas" has come to be such a mighty factor in the world's propulsion, who are apprehensive for the future. They see the consumption continually increase, and the production fall alarmingly short of keeping pace. Oil men tell you how much reserve there is and how it is diminishing month by month, and make the showing that a year will see the surplus exhausted. There has been no economy anywhere in the use of gasoline. An immense quantity must be consumed in pleasure cars, and burned up in ways even less necessary than those which produce mere pleasure. If we are on the verge of a boost in prices at all in proportion to that of sugar it will be a serious handicap on almost every human activity. The fact that it will relegate some of the flivvers to their garages, and thus relieve the unnecessary congestion somewhat, will not compensate.

Lemare's Contract for Next Year

Friends of Organist Lemare, having rallied to his assistance when the onslaught was made on him by Supervisor Hayden on account of his going off to New York without letting the supervisor know, and apparently getting away with it, are bearing in mind that the time is approaching when his yearly contract will expire; and remembering the long hitch in the formal execution of this year's contract, are ready to give him their material support in the next. They are not exactly sure that they will have a chance, however. For though the great organist loves San Francisco, its life and the fellows he meets at the Bohemian Club and elsewhere about the city, he is temperamental and has become restive over the delays and the official ructions that occur in connection with his engagement. And coincident with this temperamental attitude is a bona fide offer from London, at a salary considerable in advance of that paid by the city of San Francisco. And in London they appreciate artists, especially organists, and such concerts as are arranged at the auditorium, with an admission of ten cents and which draw a beggarly handful of auditors, would in London draw thousands at regular concert prices. At least, that is the way it has been represented to me.

Marriage of Florence Roberts

A good many old-time theatergoers will no doubt be interested to hear of the marriage of Florence Roberts, a popular actress here for a number of years. The groom is Frederick Vogel, an official of the Dutch government, stationed at Washington. The announcements were issued by Mr. and Mrs. R. Bennett, and worded in a way that might justify the conclusion that they were announcing the marriage of their daughter. This was regarded as a notable pleasure, and was evidently so intended, for the bride was the widow of the late Lewis Morrison, and Mrs. Bennett was his daughter by his first wife, Rose Wood, and therefore the stepdaughter of Florence Roberts. These names recall the stage of this city as it was maintained in the closing years of the last century. Morrison was the foremost raucous of his time. Rose Wood was a member of the old California Theater company. Florence Roberts was a leading lady in various companies of a later era.

Fay Templeton Remembered

Another actress who will be remembered readily by the generation that went to the play in other years was Fay Templeton. She may have been lost sight of in these later days of moving pictures, but there are many who will recall her twinkling self, as it might be put—pert, saucy, chic and able to get away with it to the keen satisfaction of the audience. She made many professional visits to this city and was always a favorite. She is recalled by a paragraph which tells of her visit to Broadway and her intense longing to return to the stage. But that is not to be. She is now the wife of William Patterson of Pittsburgh, who negates any idea of her reappearance behind the footlights. He was rich before Fay went to share his wealth, and the Pittsburgh millionaire who did not grow richer through the war period was sounder asleep than they were ever known to be. Perhaps her husband is doing her a service in retarding her comeback on the stage. Before she retired she was losing her sylph-like form, and now she is said to have filled out very decidedly. It is problematical whether she would be received with the favor that formerly greeted her. A mature and entirely sophisticated actress may not be received, in her recurrence, with the open arms that were extended in those days of exuberant youth, when she was coy and arch.

American Dances Stump Them

The news comes from Paris of a revolt against the American dances that our soldiers introduced there when they went over to save the world to democracy. A member of the Vestris family, tersely and famously for generations, has contributed an article to the Revue de Paris on the subject. Concerning such dances as the fox trot, for instance, he declares the French dancers cannot learn the steps to do them correctly and gracefully. Our doughboys seemed to make a great hit with the demoiselles, but the demoiselles are different from the professors, and do not prevail in establishing the popularity of a dance. They are subjective in dancing as in all other matters, and have to accept that which is decided for them by arbiters which custom has established and maintained through the ages. This expert attempts to explain why the new American dances fail of making a hit with the French, but succeeds indifferently. This general fact will surprise Americans, for it has always been understood that France was particularly the home of terpsichore, and the French capable of any variant of the light fantastic step that any other people can manage.

"Two thousand," Spoken coldly through a wet blanket and the low head still held in profile. "Arch, me darlings, while I faint! Ten thousand five hundred, and ere the day is over, it'll be twice as much. Ladies and gentlemen, you're helping to make the history of the air, in these precious days. My flight is a boost. It's the fancy of the world like this boy Meyer, who are going to prove to the world that aviation is the future of the world."

It is practicable," by using the same old airplane for you four times over. Mr. Meyer is going to prove the flying power of the flying machine. You don't, purse back like I promise. Ladies and gentlemen, you're going to make the history of the world and I'm proud of you." I'm a sufferer from it." "Wonder. Miss Meyer. if that be what I sometimes feel in my hip." "Certainly it is. Mr. Ganz. It's a pain of the sockets."

"That's it then. Sciatic—what?"
"Sciatic?"

"Right this minute I'm in a terrible chill. Mr. Ganz, please excuse I'm trembling. I wonder, Della, anything's wrong! Oh—oh!"

"Tell you, Kessler," said Mr. Leaning across the dim silhouette of Miss Meyer, "got a daughter that is born to general in the army. Some are born to run people and a homes and some to be general in armies. She's a general, I say. Just look how she got the hotel of us out here in the air where we don't belong."

"I suppose, you're right," she said. "But I don't know. Miss Kessler is so different from me. My answer was if I sleep to-night, and the swelling gets out of my foot, I'll go."

"I'll remind me of Missa Kessler the night Mr. Ganz," said the time her brother, Arch, made a mistake. "No matter, no hitting no teacher's air currents. Nothing much."

"You can't expect a man in the automobile business, Miss Kessler, to subscribe to aviation."

"Why not? The biggest automobile man in the world started out manufacturing one-horse shays. How much, Mr. Lobenz?" Mr. Mangle? Mr. Chalmers? "Good. Let me put you down for one thousand each, and

"A Model Continuity Form." In order to show those who wish to learn photoplay writing the precise form of continuity or scenario which has been developed in the larger studios during the last year, we are reproducing sections of the actual script of "The Love Expert," which we have just completed for Constancia Talmadge.

You will be able to see this picture at your local theater when it is released by First National, so study the form carefully and compare it with what you see on the screen. We will tell you why the continuity is written this way as we go along. The photoplay begins:

"THE LOVE EXPERT"

By JOHN EMERSON AND ANITA LOOS.

T.—And No One Need Hope for a Career Who Does Not Specialize on Something.

T.—Even in Modern Young Ladies' Boarding School One Will Find the Spirit of Efficiency.

T.—For Instance, There Is the Athletic Girl.

T.—Gymnasium. Faded in girl exercising with pulley weights, dumbbells, etc. Finally runs, jumps on trapeze and begins to do her stunts there. Fade out.

T.—Then There Is the Intellectual Type, Who Vigorously Exercises Her Mind.

T.—Classroom. Faded in spectacles at blackboard with a book in her hand, working out a problem in geometry. Fade out.

T.—And So Our Heroine, Being Thoroughly Up to Date and Having Chosen Love as Her Career, Spends Her Time in Becoming an Expert in Her Line.

T.—The Girl's Bedroom. Typical college dormitory room with three beds. In one bed is Babes, dressed in negligee, studying a little diary. She reaches under her pillow and takes out two books, one "Poems of Passion," by Ella Wheeler Wilcox and the other "What a Woman of Other Ought to Know."

T.—She finally chooses "Poems of Passion" and begins to read. Faded in.

T.—Hallway of school. One of the teachers enters and rings a signal bell.

T.—Girls' Bedroom. Babes, still in bed, reading and making a note in her diary. Athletic girl runs in, sees Babes in bed, goes to her and says:

S.—You Should Be Up Doing Your Exercises today.

S.—Babes looks at her, smiles pleasantly and says:

S.—"I Am."

S.—Athletic girl looks at her questioning, then she looks at Babes, shaking her head in a deprecating way. Babes looks at them with a challenge, puts down her book and turns to the athletic girl and says:

S.—You Think That Exercising Your Body Is the Only Thing in the World?

S.—Then she turns to the intellectual girl and says:

S.—And You Think You Are Smart Because You Spend All Your Time Exercising Your Intellect?

S.—The two girls look at Babes and at each other, astounded. Babes, clasping the book to her breast, says:

S.—"I Am Exercising the Most Important Thing of All—My Emotions."

S.—The two girls shake their heads to indicate she is a hopeless case. Babes, in defiance of her argument, takes from under her pillow a picture of John Barrymore in costume. She holds it out and says:

S.—Look at This, and Tell Me What You Think of It.

S.—Athletic girl looks at it, and critically and says:

S.—Why, It Is the Leading Character in Semolina's Drama the Renaissance Period.

S.—She hands it back to Babes, who looks at her in disgust and says:

S.—I Knew It! I Knew It! You're Not Half Alive, Either of You.

S.—They look at her indignantly, she declares they have no red blood in them at all and says:

S.—Now See What It Does to Me!

S.—She puts photograph on her knee, gazes at it, takes a hand of each of the girls and puts it on her chest, sighs, closes her eyes and her chest heaves up and down violently. She gets a tremendous thrill out of the picture.

(Close-ups and long shots are later called for in the script in the following manner.)

Close Up—Babes and the chauffeur. She keeps looking greedily at him. He is such a handsome devil she feels she must try her system on him. She struggles close, speaks her hand up on his, and tells him she is crazy to learn to drive. She puts her other hand over her heart. There is no response. She then puts her hand to her face. No blush. Then she looks over to the chauffeur.

Close Up—Chauffeur's close features and the wheel, revealing in his hands. Chauffeur's face is turned away from Babes, who looks at him, widens her eyes and she forgets to breathe her hand away. The car meantime all over the road.

Long Shot—With the car bumped into a tree, Babes is thrown forward and the old man (her father) also thrown forward. The chauffeur jumps out and

The following criticisms of synopses by TRIBUNE readers have been made by John Emerson and Anita Loos:

"THE GOLDEN LOCKET"

By Billie S. Modesto, Cal.

The story is good, although it lacks comedy relief. Don't end with a death bed scene. Build up a more sympathetic part for Clifford.

"THE BLACK CHURCH"

By M. V. Oakland, Cal.

You have a good idea for a story featuring both society and the half world, but your hero story is lost. After all, David holds the sympathy and he is killed in the end. Perhaps it would be best either to reform David and let him marry the girl, or introduce another character into the story.

"DON'T YOU WORRY"

By J. T. Crockett, Cal.

This is more of a comedy than a melodrama. Let's play up the love interest more. Mary has hardly a large enough part.

"NEVER GIVE UP"

By J. T.

Not enough lead-in. Much too short for a movie.

"WHAT MEN CALL LOVE"

By W. R. Oakland, Cal.

You have a chance for good satire in your man who thinks that every woman has her price. You can only get away with this kind of story, however, by lightning it up—staying away from the death bed scenes and so forth. Otherwise your story becomes too sordid.

OAKLAND TRIBUNE'S KIDNERS

BOYS' DEN!

John Mudge is one of our wilderness guides. He knows the nick-nam of every squirrel and Jack Rabbit in the hills. I think, and when the other boys hear him, they are in his hands. That's right, but John's love for and knowledge of wild places and things isn't merely a hobby. It's the kind of stuff the pioneers who built our big west would have liked and I hope that more and more of my pals will like me "outdoors letters."

JOHN MUDGE.

Dear Pal: It is egg season for the birds. Do not rob their nests. We're all boys and we want to have our fun. But you can have your fun playing baseball, soccer, basketball and other athletics than you can in robbing a bird's nest. Imagine the poor mother bird to find that her eggs have been stolen. She has gone to get something to eat. All animals have feelings just as much as you or I have. When the poor mother bird comes home and finds the nest empty, she is just as sad as you or I would be. The eggs broken over which she had happy bird dreams all broken. How does she feel?

That's just one side of it—and there's a more practical side. Do you know that birds feed chiefly on insects and worms? If the insects would spoil everything above ground and the cut worms would eat the roots.

Do you know that birds are purveyors of the air we breathe? Ask some scientist and see.

Any boy who will hunt a defenseless bird is not a regular boy—he's a BUCKET. Jim I think the pals in the Boys' Den are "regular boys" and know what fair play is.

Here's a new kind of an adventure story and it's a JIM DANDY.

1324 Russell St., Berkeley.

Jim Haley was a baseball player in the Big League. He pitched for the D. A. Devil Americans. They were to play the Chicago Cubs the following week and were practicing every day. Jim was a good pitcher and had won many games for the D. A. He was to pitch in the coming game.

At last the great day arrived. The winning team was to receive a handsome pennant for their victory. The Chicago Cubs arrived with a strong team and the captain of the D. A. told Jim to do his best.

The visitors were up first and Jim struck two men out. The Cubs then got a little fly to Davis, the shortstop. The catcher, who was up first, hit the same fly. It was done, the catcher hit it to third for a single.

"Haley up next!" said the umpire. Jim got up and managed to get a single. Jones was up next. Smith, the first baseman, got hit. Neither side scored for five innings. Then the Cubs got up and the third baseman, a two-striker, smacked a home run and the Cubs' first run was in.

Then Jim began to pitch in earnest. No more hits were scored that inning. It stood 1-0 in the Cubs' favor. Then the D. A. came up and Jim was up next. He hit a long fly to the right fielder but the fielder pulled it down. Harris struck out and that ended the game. Jim was the hero of the day and the pennant was awarded to the D. A. with their colors, blue and white, on it.

EDGAR MISENER.
806 26th Ave., Oakland.

Once there lived in the woods an old miser who cared for nothing but his gold. One day he was counting his money and a shadow came over him. "My men and I have been waiting for you away and then this house can be haunted till a young man shall appear who will live here with a band of small ghosts and water."

With that he disappeared and the seat where the miser had been sitting was empty. From that time forth, for many months nothing was seen of the miser, but strange sounds and lights went to and fro in the house.

At last there came to town a young man who heard the story. "Well, well," said he, putting his back pocket, which held a revolver, which will fix all this. This has kept me in safety many a time and it will do it now."

Which that he marched into the haunted house—and his prophecy concerning the revolver came true. For at once the ghosts appeared. But at his first shot they vanished into thin air and there stood the old miser, well and sound, but cured forever of his greediness.

Next I saved a place in the back of the cabin where the fireplace would be and made a cardboard model for the chimney. I took clay and pebbles and made an imitation "field stone" fireplace over the cardboard foundation. I also chinked between logs in the walls and roof with clay.

Next I made some furniture such as the drawing shows. All this work was done just as one would build a real life cabin, only of course you would not make cardboard foundations for a regular fireplace. But I hope this will help some fellow student or other pal to make his own cabin if he goes into the woods this summer.

Imperfect Wine

THE first time my optical nerves were disturbed by the sight of Buckingham Skinner was in Kansas City. I was standing on a corner when I saw Buck stick his straw-colored head out of a third-story window of a business block and holler, "Whoa, there! Whoa!" like you would in endeavoring to assuage a team of runaway mules.

I looked around, but all the animals I see in sight is a policeman, having his shoes shined, and a couple of delivery wagons hitched to posts. Then in a minute downstairs tumbles this Buckingham Skinner, and runs to the corner, and stands and gazes down the other street at the imaginary crowd of the fictitious team of imaginary quadrupeds. And then it Skinner comes back up to the third-story room again, and I see that the lettering on the window is "The Farmer's Friend Loan Company."

By and by Skinner comes down again, and I crossed the street to meet him for I had my ideas. Yes, sir, when I got close I could see where he overdoes it. He was Reub all right as far as his blue jeans and cowhide boots went, but he had a business man's hands and the straw stuck over his ear looked like it belonged to the property man of the old Homestead Co. Curiosity to know what his graft was got the best of me.

"Was that your team broke away and run just now?" I asked him, polite. "I tried to stop 'em," says I, "but I couldn't. I guess they're half way back to the farm by now."

"Gosh, blame them darned mules!" says Skinner, "in a voice so good that I nearly apologized; 'they're a-bustin' loose!' And then he looks at me close, and then he takes off his hayseed hat and says, in a different voice, 'I'd like to shake hands with Parleyvoos, Plickens, the greatest street man in the West, harrin' out Moutchee Silver, which you can no more than allow."

I let him shake hands with me. "I learned under Silver," he said; "I don't begrudge him the lead. But what's your graft, son?" I admit that the phantom flight of the non-existent animals at which you remarked "Whoa!" has puzzled me somewhat. How do you win out on the track?"

"Pocket money," says he; "that's all. I'm temporarily handicapped. This little coup de rue strategy is good for forty dollars in a town of this size. But you know the way I involve myself, as you perceive, in the lathsome apparel of the rural dub. Thus emboldened I am I jump Stubblefield—a name impossible to improve upon. I repeat nobly to the office of some loan company conveniently located in the third floor, front. There I lay my hat and yarn gloves on the door and ask to mortgage my farm for $1000 to pay for my sister's musical education in Europe. Loans like that always get the loan company's attention, and that when the note falls due the foreclosure will be leading the semiquavers by a couple of lengths.

"Well, sir, I reach in my pocket for the abstract of title, but I suddenly hear my mind running away. I run to the window and exit the word—or exclamation, whichever it may be—'Whoa!' Then I jump downstairs and down the street, returning in a few minutes. 'Bang them mules!' I says; 'they done run away and busted the cowhide and two traces. Now I got to head 'em home, for I never brought no money along. Reckon we'll talk about that loan some other time, gentlemen.'

"Then I spreads out my tarpaulin, like the Israelites and waits for the manna to drop.

"Why, no, Mr. Stubblefield, says the lobster-colored party in the spears and dotted pig vest, 'oblige us by accepting this ten-dollar bill until tomorrow. Get your harness repaired and call in at 10. We'll be pleased to accommodate you in the matter of this loan.'

"It's a sight thing," says Buckingham Skinner, modest, "but, as I said, only for temporary loose change."

"The morning to be ashamed of," says I, in respect for his mortification; "in case of an emergency. Of course, it's small compared to organizing a trust or bridge whist, but even the Chicago University has to be started by a small way."

"What's your graft these days?" Buckingham Skinner asks me. "The legitimate," says I. "I'm handling rhinestones and Dr. Oileum Sinapi's Electric Headache Battery and the Swiss Warbler's Bird Call, a small lot of the new queer ones and crows, and the Bonanza Budeck, consisting of a rolled-gold wedding and engagement ring, six Egyptian lily bulbs, a combination pickle fork and nail clipper, and fifty engraved visiting cards—no two names alike—all for the sum of 38 cents."

"Two months ago," says Buckingham Skinner, "I was doing well in Texas with a patent instantaneous fire kindler, made of compressed wood ashes and benzine. I sold loads of 'em in town where they like to burn niggers quick, without having to ask somebody for a light. And just when I was doing the best they strikes oil down there and puts me out of business. 'Your machine's too slow, now, pardner,' they tells me. 'We can have a coon in hell with this here petroleum before you get him warm enough to perform religion.' And so I gives up the kindler and drifts up here to K. C. This little crutcher-graduated you see me doing, Mr. Plickens, with the simulated farm and the hypothetical team, ain't in my line at all, and I'm ashamed you found me working in it."

"No man," says I kindly, "need to be ashamed of putting the kibbuck on a loan corporation for even so small a sum as ten dollars, when he's financially abused. Still, it wasn't quite the proper thing. It's too much like borrowing money without paying it back."

"Anything," says Buck, "that is not actually dishonest will find me willing and ready. Let us perforce into the larders of your proposition. I feel degraded when I am forced to accept property straw in my hat and assume a braicole air for the small sum of ten dollars. Actually, Mr. Plickens, it makes me feel like the Ophelia of the Great Occidental All-Star One Night Consolidated Theatrical Agency."

"This scheme of mine was one that suited my proclivities. By nature I am some sentimental, and have always felt kindly toward the mollification of exiles. I am disposed to be lenient with the thieves and scoundrels, and I find time to instigate a certainty for the more human traits of nature, such as romance and sentiment, and the graces and poetry and the seasons and grass and a sucker without admiring the phantasmic beauty of his scales. I can sell a little auriferous trifles to the man with the two without noticing the beautiful harmony there between gold and green, and that's why I liked this scheme; it was so full of outdoor air and handicaps and easy money."

We had to have a young lady assistant to help us work this graft, and I asked Buck if he knew of one to fill the bill.

"Gosh, son, I that is cool and wise and artistic business from her pompous to her Oxford. No extemporaneous or gum-chewers or prying folk canvassers for this! Buck didn't know a suitable feminine and he takes me around to see Miss Sarah Mallory. The minute I see her I am pleased. She looked like the goods as ordered. No sign of the three P's, hair here, no color, patchy, but, poor dear, she about twenty-two, brown hair, pleasant ways—the kind of a lady for the place."

"A description of the candidate, if you please," says I.

"Why, pardner," says I, "this graft of ours is so nice and so refined and so artistic, it would make the balloon break in Florence and induce look the second-story work."

We talked it over, and Miss Mallory agreed to come in as a business partner. She said she was glad to get a chance to give up her place as stenographer and secretary to a gentleman in company, and go into something respectable.

"The morning we worked out a scheme, then, I figured it out by kind of a proverb. The best graft in the world are built up on sympathy, book maxims and praise and promises and flattery here and there and of his human nature, and a peaceful little exaltation was constructed on the old saying, 'The whole push moves a horse.'"

"Face evening Buck and Miss Mallory drove up like blazes in a buggy to a farmer's door. She is a bit attractive, charming to his arm—always going to his arm. Any one can see that she is a reach and a thing variety. They climb upon a cloping for to be married on account of cruel parents. They ask whether they can find a preacher. Farmer says, 'Bummers ain't any preacher nigher than Reverend Abele, four miles over on Caney Creek.' Farmerless wives her hand on her apron and rubbers through her specs.

Then, lo and look yet! Up the road from the other way goes Parleyvoos Plickens in a rig, dressed in black, white-necktie, long face, sniffling his nose, emitting a spurious kind of noise resembling the long meter dactylic.

"'B'jinks,'" says Farmer, "if that ain't a preacher now."

It transpires that I am Rev. Abijah Green, traveling over to Little Bethel school house for to preach next Sunday.

The young folks will have it they must be married, for pa is pursuing them with the plow mules and the buckboard. So the Reverend Green, after hesitation, marries 'em in farmer's parlor. And farmer grins, and has in elider, and says "B'gum!" and farmerless sniffs a bit and puts the bride on the shoulder. And Parleyvoos Plickens, the wrong reverend, writes out a marriage certificate, and farmer and farmerless sign it as witnesses. And the parties of the first, second and third part gets in their vehicles and rides away. Oh, that was an idyllic graft! True love and the loving kiss and the sun shining on the red barns—certainly a most romantic imposture. I know about bearded a baffler.

I suppose I "baffled" along in time to marry Buck and Miss Mallory at about twenty farm houses. I hated to think how the romance was going to fade later on when all their marriage certificates turned up in banks where we'd discounted 'em and the farmers had to pay them notes they'd signed, running from $200 to $500.

On the 15th day of May us three divided about $6000. Miss Mallory nearly cried with joy. You don't often see a tenderhearted girl or one that was so bent on doing right.

"Gosh," says she, dabbing her eyes with a little handkerchief, "this stake comes in handier than a powder rag at a cat men's ball. It gives me a chance to reform. I was trying to get out of the real estate business when you fellows came along. But if you hadn't taken me on this next little proposition for removing the cuticle of the rutabaga propagators I'm afraid I'd have got into something worse. I was about to accept a place in one of these Women's Auxiliary Bazaars, where they build a paragon by selling a spoonful of chicken salad and a cream puff for seventy-five cents and calling it a Business Men's Lunch."

"Now I can go into a square, honest business and give all of them queer jobs the shake. I'm going to find out and start a palm reading and clairvoyance school. As Madame Saragatch, the Egyptian Sorceress, I shall give everybody a dollar's worth of good-bye, 'Take my advice and go into some decent trade, get friends, and be a success in the newspapers and you'll be all right.'"

So then we all shook hands and Miss Mallory left us. Me and Buck his rose up and snatched off a few hundred miles for we didn't care to be around when their marriage certificates fell due.

With about $4000 between us we put that bumpkin in the town off the town forever, and they call New York.

If there ever was an avary overstocked with cash is that Yappens on the Hudson. Connecticut. They call it New York. Buck and I, we got a place. You hear, son, when they're burring and trying to pull their feet out of the sticky stuff, 'Stable old New York!'

There's enough Reubs, walk down Broadway in one hour to buy up a week's output of the factory in Argentina. The police make Kansas City look like a picnic. The little Phine Thump made gold finger rings that sticks a needle in your friend's hand.

"I don't think New York people was all what they are. They don't get a chance to learn. Everybody's too compassed. Even the hatbands are bowed hangers. But what else can you expect from a town that's that put that bumpkin in the town off the town forever and they call New York."

It's no place for an honest grafter with a small capital. There's too much a proclivity to cheat on Reubs. Even when Giovanni sells a quart of warm worms and chestnut hulls he has to hand out a lot of an insouciantous double for everything in the bill that he sends by the patrol wagon to the star where the duke is about to marry the belle.

But old Badville near-Coney is the ideal burk for a refined piece of piracy if you can pay the bunco duty.

Imported grafts come pretty high. The customs-house officers that look after it carry clubs, and it's hard to smuggle in even a kib-and-tucker swindle to work Brooklyn with unless you can pay the toll. But now, me and Buck, having capital, descend upon New York to try and trade the metropolitan backwoods-men a few false beads for real estate just as the Vans did a hundred or two years ago.

At an East Side hotel we set acquainted with Romulus G. Atterbury, a man with the finest head for financial operations I ever saw. It was all bald and glossy except for gray sideburns. Seeing that head behind an office railing, and you'd deposit a million with it without a receipt. This Atterbury was well dressed, though he also seldom; and the synopsis of his talk would make the conversation of a siren sound like a cab driver's kick. He said he used to be a member of the Stock Exchange, but some of the big capitalists got jealous and formed a ring that forced him to sell his seat.

Buck and he began to throw on the canvas for us some of the schemes that he had in mind. He told me that he had one scheme for starting a National Bank on 45th that made the Mississippi Bubble look as solid as a glass marble. He talked this to three days, and when his throat lozenge and his hair turned gray, he had one scheme for starting a National Bank on 45th that made the Mississippi Bubble look as solid as a glass marble. UNCLE WIGGILY MADE A WILLOW WHISTLE. WITH IT HE AND THE GUINEA PIG CHILDREN CALLED THE POLICEMAN DOG. AND JUST SEE WHO WAS CAUGHT.

One day Uncle Wiggily Longears, the rabbit gentleman, took Buddy and Brighteyes, the two guinea pig children, out for a walk. "Do you think we shall have an adventure?" asked Buddy, as he whistled, which all guinea pigs can do very easily. "Well, perhaps we may have a little adventure," said the bunny. Jacko and Jumbo Kinkytail, the mischievous monkey chaps, hidden behind a bush, heard what Uncle Wiggily said. "Let's make an adventure for him," chuckled Jacko. "All right," agreed his brother. "We will."

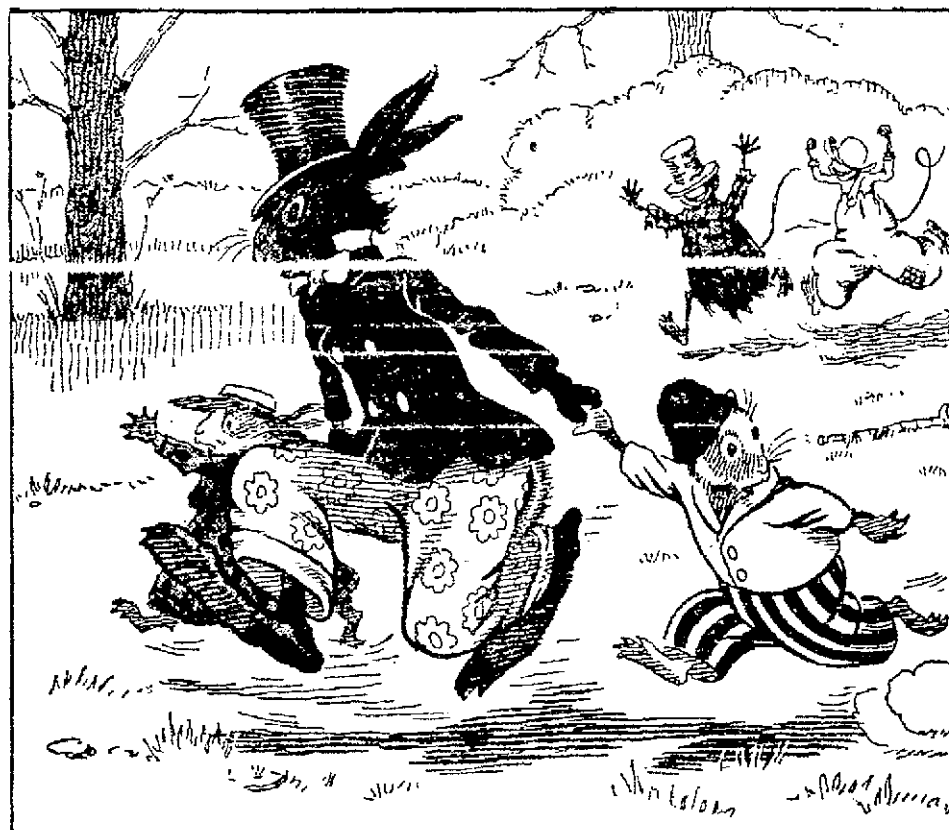

"What sort of an adventure shall we make for Uncle Wiggily?" asked Jumbo, as he and his brother pulled some shabby old clothes out of the junk wagon, which the snail horse was drawing very slowly. "Oh, let's dress up like the bad old Bazumpus and the worse old Crozokus, and scare Uncle Wiggily, Buddy and Brighteyes," said Jacko. "We'll sneak along behind them, chase them and holler 'Boo!' It will be a good joke on them," Jumbo also thought it would. But the Squiggie Bugs are getting worried, as you may see.

As Uncle Wiggily walked along with Buddy and Brighteyes, they saw Mrs. Littletail, the rabbit lady, trying to stop a jitney. But the jitney man bug did not see her waving her umbrella, nor did he see Uncle Wiggily waving his hat. "Oh, please stop that jitney!" cried the rabbit lady. "I'll make him stop!" exclaimed Buddy, and, putting his paws to his lips the guinea pig boy whistled loudly. Brighteyes covered her ears with her paws, but the jitney stopped. But see who are coming along to give Uncle Wiggily an adventure!

"Thank you, Buddy, very much, for whistling and stopping the mud turtle jitney for me," said Mrs. Littletail, the rabbit lady as she took her seat, waving her umbrella at Uncle Wiggily. "You are a good whistler." Uncle Wiggily said the same thing, and then, pointing to a row of willow trees along the brook, the rabbit gentleman remarked: "When we get there, Brighteyes, I'll make you something out of willow bark so you can whistle as well as your brother." Brighteyes, the little guinea pig girl, thought that would be fine.

All of a sudden, as Uncle Wiggily was waving good-bye to Mrs. Littletail, Buddy happened to look back and he saw something that made him cry out: "Oh, Uncle Wiggily, Look! The Bazumpus is after us and so is the Crozokus! What shall we do?" Uncle Wiggily gave one look and, not knowing it was only Jacko and Jumbo Kinkytail, the monkey boys playing an adventure trick, the bunny gentleman cried: "We must run, children! We must run as fast as we can! And, Buddy, you whistle as loudly as you can for a Policeman Dog!"

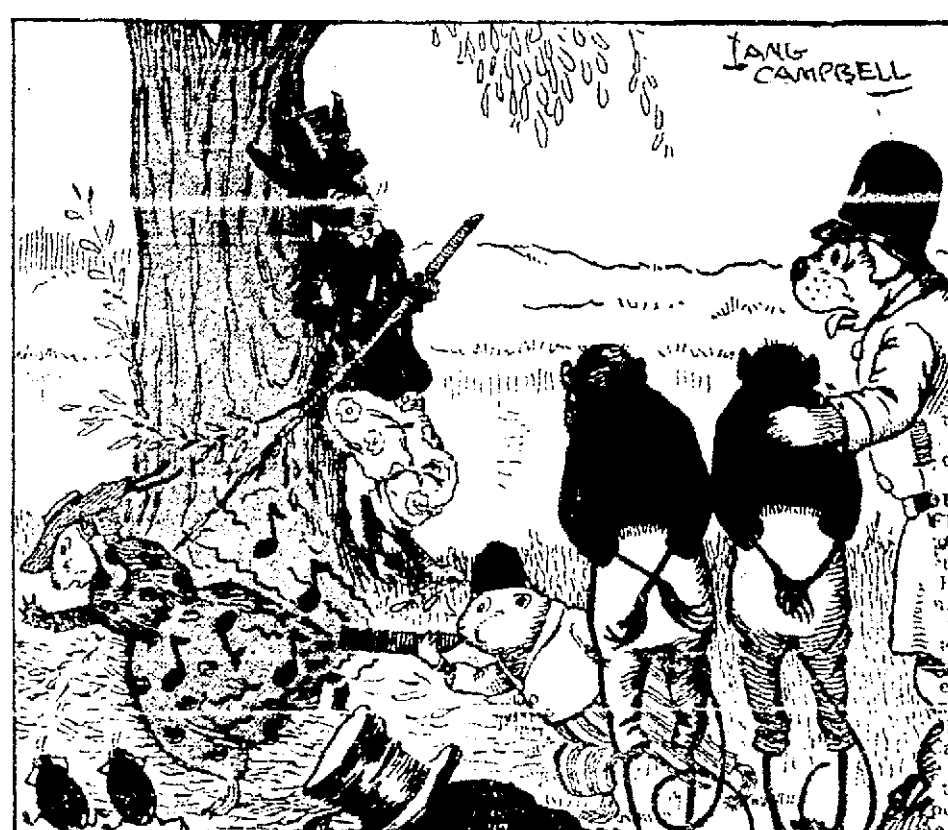

Uncle Wiggily, Buddy and Brighteyes ran as fast as they could, and they managed to keep ahead of Jacko and Jumbo, who, dressed up like the Bazumpus and the Crozokus, were chasing the rabbit gentleman and his friends. At last Uncle Wiggily and the guinea pigs reached a little grove among the trees where, for a moment, they were hidden from sight. "See if you can whistle louder and call the Policeman Dog!" said Uncle Wiggily to Buddy. Buddy did, but not loudly enough. "I will make a willow whistle," said the bunny.

With his sharp knife Uncle Wiggily soon made a whistle out of the slippery willow bark. After Buddy had tried, without any luck, to call the Policeman Dog, the rabbit gentleman took his turn. My, such a loud, shrill blast as Uncle Wiggily blew on the willow whistle. Buddy and Brighteyes had to put their paws over their ears. "I hear something," said the Policeman Dog. "Somebody must be in trouble." Jacko and Jumbo, hoping to play the trick on Uncle Wiggily, paused behind a bush. "What's that?" whispered Jacko.

Uncle Wiggily blew so loudly, and so long, on the whistle he made out of a willow stick, that, at last, the Policeman Dog heard and came running over with his club. "What's the matter," he asked. "Did an automobile run over you?" Uncle said: "The Bazumpus and the Crozokus are chasing us. I wish you'd arrest them." The Policeman Dog said he would, and after the two monkey boys he chased; of course not knowing it was them. He soon caught Jacko and Jumbo. Look at the Squiggie Bugs.

"Here are the two chaps that chased you, Uncle Wiggily," said the Policeman Dog, as he brought them back, leaving on the ragged clothes as he did so. And then it was seen that the Bazumpus and the Crozokus were only Jacko and Jumbo. "We're sorry we tried to play a trick on you, Uncle Wiggily," spoke Jacko, as he saw the nice whistle Buddy was blowing. "Well, I'll forgive you," said Uncle Wiggily. Then he made two more whistles, and Brighteyes and the Squiggie Bugs ran as fast as they could; they did not want to get deaf.
